House Group Votes Full Hearing on Dr. Condon

Harriman Refuses Loyalty Board's File on Scientist Despite Subpena

By Alfred Friendly
Post Reporter

Moving for a showdown on the case of Dr. Edward U. Condon, a House Un-American Activities Subcommittee yesterday voted for a complete hearing of charges about the scientist's loyalty and associations.

The action came at the end of a subcommittee session in which a Commerce Department representative refused to turn over the department loyalty board's files on Condon, director of the National Bureau of Standards.

New Angle Hinted

In the course of the meeting, hints were dropped that a New York grand jury had under scrutiny some of Condon's alleged associates. The grand jury has been investigating a reputed Russian spy ring.

On Monday, the subcommittee issued portions of a report by its investigators, and blasted Condon as being "one of the weakest links" in American atomic security. The report said that "knowingly or unknowingly" he had associated with Russian agents.

Yesterday, Representative Rankin (D., Miss.) moved that the full report of the investigators be made public. Representative Nixon (R., Calif.) promptly objected. He said that the New York grand jury's operations might be "prejudiced" if the investigators' report were published.

The inference was clearly that some of the persons mentioned in the report on Condon were involved in the New York probe.

Hoover Letter Sought

The official purpose of yesterday's subcommittee meeting was to receive from the Commerce Department the files of its loyalty board relating to Condon. On February 24, the board had cleared Condon of any doubts on his loyalty, and earlier this week the Un-American Activities Committee issued a subpena for the files.

In particular, it sought a letter from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to the department. It was written May 15, 1947 and recorded the evidence on Condon's associations. The subcommittee's report was primarily based on portions of Hoover's letter, but the subcommittee wanted the complete text.

Thursday night, Commerce Secretary Harriman wrote to Committee Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R., N. J.) that he was standing on his legal rights and refused to turn over the documents.

Their release, Harriman said, would endanger the future of the Government's entire loyalty investigating procedure, which was predicated on keeping the identity of informants secret.

The possibility arose yesterday that the House might seek legislation to force executive departments to turn over material on request from Congress.

Representative Hoffman (R., Mich.) offered a proposed joint resolution that any agency be directed to turn over documents deemed necessary when a congressional committee majority requests them and the presiding officer of the House or Senate concurs.

Harriman Represented

John L. Towne, secretary of the department's loyalty board, appeared yesterday before the subcommittee to read Harriman's letter. He was under instructions not to disclusse the contents of the files.

Nixon argued with Towne that there was no reason for not turning over at least the Hoover letter. He said he considered it "anomalous" that a congressional committee was being denied informa-

Robber Slugs D. C. Woman; Store Held Up

Clerks in Candy Shop On G St. Threatened With Pistol, $60 Taken

Crimes violent and daring broke out in a rash here yesterday, in which:

1. A 62-year-old widow was struck down from behind and robbed in the lobby of her apartment house.

2. A man was held at bay with linoleum knife and screwdriver, and robbed, after he surprised an intruder ransacking his bedroom.

3. An armed bandit menaced two women employes of a downtown candy shop, on G st. nw., escaping with between $60 and $100.

4. A "wild-eyed" youth, threatening hold-up, went on a rampage in Kaplan's Market, 1200 L st. se., dumping apples, bananas and eggs to the floor before fleeing without profit.

Knocked Unconscious

Mrs. Rose T. Weitz, 62, of 1474 Columbia rd. nw., was knocked unconscious, apparently by a blackjack, about 4 p. m. as she checked for her mail in the lobby of the Columbia rd. apartment house. Three witnesses said they saw the thug fleeing with her pocketbook, which contained "more than $20."

Mrs. Weitz was treated at Emergency Hospital for lacerations of the scalp. She told police the man had followed her into the apartment lobby.

Witnesses, who said they could recognize the man, described him as between 35 and 38 years old, white, 6 feet 2 inches tall, weighing about 195 pounds and wearing a light gray suit but no hat or overcoat.

Surprises Intruder

Raymond J. Horner, of 1709 Otis pl. ne., told police he returned home at 12:45 p. m. yesterday to find a well-dressed stranger ransacking his bedroom. When he challenged the man, Horner said, the intruder threatened him with the linoleum knife and screwdriver.

Horner said he was forced to lie on the floor while the man went through his pockets, removing his wallet with $40 and personal papers. Then the man locked him in his own bedroom closet, demanding time "to finish this job," Horner said.

The victim said he kicked his way through the closet door. He described the robber as about ... years old, white, smooth-shaven and neatly dressed, about 6 feet tall and weighing around 180 pounds.

Pistol Flourished

The G st. holdup, performed with dispatch and accompanied by repeated threats of "Keep quiet, or I'll blast you," occurred at 5:15 p. m., at the height of late afternoon shopping.

Mrs. Margo Sanchez, 28, of 1113 M st. nw., a saleslady, told police the bandit entered the shop with a pistol in his hand, concealed by a newspaper. After threatening her with the gun, she said, he moved toward the cash register.

At this point, Mrs. Hazel Royal of 1206 10th st. nw., store manager, approached and was similarly threatened. A woman shopper appeared at the door, looked in but

30 Arabs Are Killed In Four-Hour Night Battle, Haganah Says

Immediate Partition Indorsement Refused By Security Council

Jerusalem, March 5 (AP).—The Jewish militia Haganah today said Jewish fighters killed 30 Arabs and wounded many others in a four-hour battle last night on the Plains of Sharon.

The battle developed in the coastal region between Tel Aviv and Haifa when the Jews repulsed Arabs attacking the settlement of Magdiel, Haganah's communique issued in Tel Aviv said.

Four Jews were wounded, Haganah reported.

[Haganah sources told the United Press Jews had shelled and invaded an Arab stronghold northeast of Jaffa early today and, after ousting the Arabs in hand-to-hand fighting, blew up virtually every house.

[Haganah sources said 15 Arabs were killed in the attack.]

Arab sources in Tel Aviv said Arab commando forces were concentrated in hill towns in the Sharon district. Observers believe the Sharon area will become a major battleground.

It was learned that Fawzi Bey al Kaukji, commander of Arab volunteer armies, had set up headquarters at Nablus in northern Palestine. Kaukji moved from Damascus, Syria, yesterday.

[A spokesman for the Jewish agency said Jews were massing weapons and ammunition in European Mediterranean ports for "all-out" war against the Arabs when Britain gives up her mandate May 15.

[More than 50 ships that the agency owns 'under one guise or the other" will transport the arms here, he said.]

Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, British High Commissioner for Palestine, appealed tonight to the Holy Land people to respect the safety of United Nations personnel here.

Lake Success, N. Y., March 5.—The Security Council voted 8 to 0 today to let the Big Five recommend what it should do about partition of Palestine.

A compromise United States resolution with only Britain, Argentina and Syria abstaining, directed the United States, Russia, Britain, China and France to consult and report within 10 days "on the guidance which the council might usefully give to the Palestine Commission with a view to implementing partition."

The resolution also appealed to Arabs and Jews to stop fighting.

The decision virtually put it up to the Big Four to make or break United Nations action on partition, since Britain announced she would not take part in the talks except to provide information as requested.

The final vote was on one main section of a United States resolution, which included two Russian amendments. Two other sections of the American proposal were rejected.

The first, supported by the United States, Belgium, France, Russia and the Ukraine, would have committed the council to partition immediately.

The second, in which Russia ab-

Meyers Probe Group Legal, Brewster Says

Defense Attorney Questions Power To Call Witnesses

Post Reporter

Senator Owen Brewster (R., Me.) yesterday told a Federal Court jury that the subcommittee which heard sworn testimony last fall from Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers had been legally created and empowered to subpena witnesses.

The Government called Brewster, who was 1947 chairman of the now defunct Senate War Investigating Committee, to refute Meyers' claim that the subcommittee was improperly established and therefore could not legally hear sworn testimony.

Meyers, wartime AAF material chief, is now being tried on charges of inducing Bleriot H. Lamarre, self-styled "dummy" president of Aviation Electric, to commit perjury before the subcommittee.

The 36-year-old Lamarre has entered a plea of guilty to perjury and is awaiting sentence. He said he lied to the subcommittee at first about Meyers' $150,000 war profits from his undercover aviation accessories firm, about the ownership of a Cadillac car, and the redecoration of Meyers' Hotel 2400 apartment.

Meyers' attorneys have contended that if the subcommittee

Michael, Anne Said to Lack Pope's Consent to Marriage

Vatican City, March 5 (AP).—A source close to the Vatican said tonight the mothers of former King Michael of Romania and Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma had failed to receive dispensation from Pope Pius XII for the couple's marriage.

Just before he sailed from Southampton, England, for the United States today, Michael, who renounced his abdication yesterday, said he would return soon to marry his pretty fiancee.

"We hope to be married in Denmark and in the near future," he said

Former Queen Helen, mother of Michael, and Princess Renee of Bourbon-Parma visited the Pope February 23. Anne is a Catholic. Michael belongs to the Greek Orthodox faith.

The informant said the mothers proposed the marriage take place under Roman Catholic ceremony, but any children should be reared in the Orthodox faith.

The informant said the Vatican insisted any children be reared as Roman Catholics. The source said an agreement might be reached whereby male children, as heirs to the Romanian throne, would be raised Orthodox, and female children reared as Roman Catholics.

The Orthodox faith does not recognize the supremacy of the Pope of Rome. It is the official religion of Romania.

Michael sailed with his mother to visit New York, Washington and Detroit.

CIO Asks Judge to Rule Law Illegal

Prosecution Argues Taft-Hartley Act Doesn't Go Beyond Rights of Congress

By Dillard Stokes
Post Reporter

The Taft-Hartley ban on politics for labor union came up for its first test yesterday, in the District Court here.

CIO counsel said flatly that both the CIO and its president, Philip Murray, broke the law when they helped Judge Edward A. Garmatz (D., Md.) win his seat in the House. But the CIO lawyers urged Federal Judge Ben Moore to throw out the charges which might cost the CIO a $5000 fine and Murray $1000 and a year in jail—because the Taft-Hartley Act was against the Constitution.

May Rule Next Week

Government counsel just as flatly said that the act did violate the first amendment, but they claimed the law was valid because Congress has power to regulate elections, and may abridge the Bill of Rights in order to do so.

Judge Moore—whose court is in Charleston, W. Va., but who is sitting here this month—will give his ruling soon, probably next week. If he throws out the charges, the Government will have a right to go straight to the Supreme Court for a final decision. Such an appeal is believed certain, if it is needed. If Judge Moore upholds the law, Murray and the CIO might try a special appeal at once, rather than go to trial and then take the case to the higher courts.

The Taft-Hartley Act, in Section 304, makes it a crime for any corporation or labor group to give or spend any money "in connection with" any Federal election, or with any primary, convention or caucus held to pick candidates for a Federal election. The corporations or labor groups may be fined, and their officers who consent to the gift or spending can be jailed, as well.

Claims Law Is Void

The CIO claims this law is void. With the purpose of testing it, CIO President Murray last July placed an article backing Congressman Garmatz in The CIO News, a paper put out by the CIO. For this, both Murray and his union were indicted here.

Charles J. Margiotti—former attorney general of Pennsylvania—told Judge Moore yesterday that this charge could not stand. The Bill of Rights, he said, secures to all men freedom of speech, press and assembly, and these rights belong to groups of people—like the CIO—as well as to single persons. So that when the law stops the CIO from spending any money at all in connection with an election, the CIO and its officers are muzzled and their rights under the First Amendment wiped out, he continued.

Margiotti said that under the law, the CIO and its members could not hold a meeting—because money must be spent for halls—and their officers could not make political speeches—because money is spent to pay them. He recalled that just such a law once was put up to the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, and all the justices ruled it was void.

Judge Asks Question

"Suppose an ordinary newspaper prints news in connection with an election," Judge Moore broke in, "and spends money to do so—would that violate the law?"

Margiotti replied that Senator Taft (R., Ohio) said that a newspaper that paid for political articles out of what it made on ads would be in the clear, but if the money came out of its general treasury it would be breaking the law.

Turner S. Smith of the Justice Department civil rights division, told the court that free elections were the real issue in the case. He said Congress had been trying for 40 years to keep big interests from using their money to swing elections, and that the Taft-Hartley ban on unions was just a step in this program. What Congress

Czechoslovak Army Purge Is Reported

From Press Dispatches

Prague, March 5.—The Czechoslovak army is undergoing a thorough purge, it was revealed today.

This became known along with these other developments:

1. It was announced President Eduard Benes will not attend ceremonies Monday marking the fifth anniversary of Czech entry into the war on the Soviet side. No reason was given.

2. The new Communist-dominated cabinet met for the first time to draft the program which it will present to Parliament Wednesday. The Communist newspaper Rude Pravo reported nationalization of 91 per cent of Czech industry was planned.

3. Former Minister of Justice Prokop Drtina, injured in an alleged suicide attempt refused to discuss his case today. "A person exposed to political consequences like I, cannot afford to speak about accidents," the non-Communist leader declared.

(The Communist government had announced Drtina jumped out of the second-story window of his home, leaving a suicide note. The

Ga. Governor Acts Against Lynching Bill

Sends 2 Prisoners To Scene of Killing, Asks Curb on Klan

Atlanta, Ga., March 4 (U.P.).—In a double-barreled assault against anti-lynch legislation, Gov. M. E. Thompson today ordered two accused killers publicly transferred from State's prison to the scene of their crime and called for State laws to prohibit "intimidation" meetings by the Ku Klux Klan.

Announcing the hour and the route for the transfer of two Tennessee brothers, Thompson said he was demonstrating that Georgia can control mob feelings. They are charged with kiling a State policeman.

The Klan meetings should be outlawed, Thompson maintained, because they "cut the ground from beneath the feet" of southern congressmen who try to assure the world a Federal anti-lynch law is unnecessary.

Thompson also urged all persons who had been "misguided" into parading with the klan to quit the organization "so that the South may present its best face to the Nation and demonstrate that we do not need the proposed laws, duplicating our own."

"There is no danger of mob violence by the good citizens of Georgia," Thompson said in a telegram to Sheriff P. L. Youmans of Emanuel County which ordered him to take charge of the prisoners. Alfred and Spence Edwards, with them.

The men and the women were rushed to Tattnall to prevent the men from being harmed by a mob.

Aid Funds Requested For Japan and Korea

Congress was asked yesterday to authorize a "modified Marshall Plan" for the rehabilitation of Japan and Korea, aimed at building a "strong outpost" against Communism in the Far East.

Undersecretary of the Army William H. Draper outlined the plan to the House Foreign Affairs Committee, and told the group an initial appropriation of 275 million dollars is contemplated under an estimate pending before the Bureau of the Budget.

Finland Set To Negotiate, Frowns on Arms Pact

5 out of 6 Parties Agree on New Soviet Treaty but Balk at Military Alliance

Helsinki, Finland (Saturday) March 6 (U.P.).—Finland will accept Soviet Premier Josef Stalin's invitation to discuss an agreement with Russia, but will oppose a military treaty, a reliable source said early today.

This source said the Finnish government is studying the draft of a counterproposal which would bridge the gap between Stalin's proposal of a mutual defense pact and the opposition of a parliamentary majority to military alliance.

The source said the Finnish foreign affairs committee would meet today to discuss the make-up of the Finnish delegation for the negotiations.

The committee was not expected to reach a final decision until Monday or Tuesday. Its decision must be approved by President Juho Paasikivi.

Five Parties Oppose Arms Pact

Five of Finland's six political parties went on record in Parliament yesterday as opposing a military treaty with Russia, although most party leaders favored acceptance of Stalin's bid for negotiation.

Paasikivi conferred last night with Foreign Minister Carl Enckwell, reportedly in an effort to draft a satisfactory answer to Stalin's request.

Early today, a government spokesman said there was no comparison between current events in Finland and last week's Communist coup in Czechoslovakia.

"Finland must not be compared with Czechoslovakia, as many foreigners do," the spokesman said. "The fact Finland enters negotiations with the Soviet Union in no way means that Finland will sign a military pact."

The government representative stated flatly there had been no Russian pressure for a speedy answer.

"For sale" advertisements in Finnish newspapers, especially those offering houses and furniture, have increased sharply but responsible Finns scoffed at reports this meant residents are converting property into money before fleeing the country.

Leaders of the three right-wing parties visited Paasikivi yesterday and expressed firm opposition to any treaty which would make Finland a military ally of Russia.

Leaders of two left-of-center parties made it clear that though they favored negotiations they opposed a treaty which would bind Finland militarily to the eastern bloc.

This left only the People's Democratic Union, which includes the Communists, unqualifiedly in favor of a military treaty with Russia.

The Union holds 50 seats in Parliament.

Truman Returns, Starts to Work On Major Issues

By the United Press

President Truman returned from his Southland vacation yesterday and went to work immediately on political and international problems.

Tanned and rested by his stay in Key West, Mr. Truman landed at National Airport at 2:06 p. m. Two hours later he met with his Cabinet on problems which accumulated, or worsened, during his two-week absence.

There were plenty of issues awaiting attention. Among them were the political turmoil created by the revolt of Southern Democrats against his civil rights program, Palestine partition, and the complications of expanding communism in Europe.

The Cabinet meeting lasted about an hour. Some members said "everything" was discussed.

Fox Is Kayoed By Lesnevich

New York, March 5 (AP).—Veteran Gus Lesnevich kept his world light heavyweight championship tonight by knocking out Billy Fox of Philadelphia at 1:38 of the first round tonight before more than 18,000 fans in Madison Square Garden.

The 33-year-old champion floored the 22-year-old Negro challenger twice with terrific straight rights to the jaw. When on the floor the second time, Fox gamely tried to struggle to his feet but his knees caved beneath him and he sprawled sideways onto the canvas as Referee Frankie Fullam counted him out.

Labor Dept. Appropriation Bill Would Force Staff Cut of 600

By Jerry Kluttz
Federal Diary Editor

The Labor Department would have to fire about 600 of its 4100 employes under its 1949 budget which was recommended to the House yesterday by its Appropriations Committee.

The same bill carried funds for the National Labor Relations Board. This agency, although given a $2,200,000 slash, would have enough money to hire about 350 additional employes.

No substantial change would be made in the staff of the Federal Security Agency, the third unit provided for in the bill. The National Institute of Health in Bethesda would be able to expand its staff, and Food and Drug would have to make a small cut.

Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics would have to bear the brunt of the slash. The committee gave it a 40 per cent cut which would force the firings of about 400 employes. BLS has 1000 employes. It sought funds to hire 289 additional people. Not only was the proposed increase denied but a cut of $1,600,000 in this year's budget was voted.

The 81 employes in the Bureau of Veterans' Reemployment Rights would all have to be fired. The committee refused to appropriate for it. The bureau has six employes here and 75 in about 35 field offices the country-over.

The Women's Bureau was denied funds for its field offices. The committee said Labor's personnel office was too large and it ordered its funds cut down by $50,000. Other lay-offs would have to be

Republicans Help Beat Move To Bar Aid to Race-Bias States

By Robert C. Albright
Post Reporter

The Republican-run House Appropriations Committee yesterday rejected a sweeping civil rights rider designed to bar Federal hospital, public health and vocational education grants to States that practice racial discrimination.

Enough Republicans joined with Southern Democrats to defeat the amendment, 25 to 6. It had previously been tied to the Labor Department-Federal security appropriations bill by the unanimous vote of a subcommittee.

The House GOP leadership insisted it kept hands off, but a shift in Republican civil rights strategy with 1948 overtones, was seen in the move.

Republicans heve been pushing antilynching, antipoll tax and even FEPC legislation recommended by the President. The effect has been to prod Southern Democrats into ever-wider revolt against the Administration.

One party source said Republicans generally would continue on that line, but wanted to keep the split in the Democratic Party. This source said it was feared that GOP sponsorship of the rider, more sweeping than the President's proposals, would deflect Southern fire from Mr. Truman and turn it on Republicans.

A tight secrecy rule was clamped on the committee and the recorded vote itself was destroyed. It was learned, however, that the formal reason given by Republicans who opposed the rider was similar to the States' rights argument ad-

Thorium Produces New Atom Power

Metal 3 Times as Plentiful as Uranium Expected to Be World's Main Reliance

By Howard W. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Editor

New York, March 5 (AP).—Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, famous atomic scientist, tonight disclosed the first small pieces of a new kind of atomic bomb and fuel metal have been manufactured.

The new metal is uranium 233, made by changing the heavy metal thorium into uranium. This new form does not exist naturally on earth.

The new metal was made in the Hanford, Wash., uranium-graphite, chain-reacting, atomic pile. The total new metal is a few hundred milligrams.

The fact that the same pile has produced both plutonium and uranium 233 shows that thorium's use for atomic power is practicable.

Since thorium is three times more plentiful than uranium, it will be the world's main reliance for atomic power.

Dr. Seaborg disclosed uranium 233 will last for many thousands of years, far longer than plutonium.

Atom Damage to Cells Prevented in Animals

Chicago, March 5 (AP). A scientist today reported progress in preventing damage to the blood cells by rays accompanying release of atomic energy, such as suffered by survivors of the atomic bombings at Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Dr. Leon O. Jacobson, of the University of Chicago, said radiation damage has been prevented in experimental animals by stimulating blood-forming tissues in the bone marrow and spleen. This halts anemia ordinarily produced by large doses of radiation.

vanced by Dixie Democrats themselves.

Contention was that the legislative rider went beyond the functions of the Appropriations Committee and might lead to "dictation from Washington" of education and other functions of the States. It was argued, moreover, that the rider would set a precedent that would have to be applied to every other appropriation bill.

Closed committee debate of the rider for three hours overshadowed the big $1,017,851,000 Labor Department-Federal security bill from which it was stricken.

Cut $30,119,379 from appropriations requested by the President, the big bill formally reported by the committee carried a total of $905,405,250 for the Labor Department, the Federal Security agency, the National Labor Relations Board, the National Mediation Board, the Railroad Retirement board and the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. In addition, $112,445,750 in contract authority was provided for hospital construction by the Federal Security Agency.

The House meanwhile approved and sent to the Senate a total of $500,982,263 to finance the State, Commerce and Justice Departments and the Federal judiciary for the next fiscal year. The amount is $86,855,168 under the President's estimates, but much of the cut was offset by $75,400,000 in contract authorizations that Congress eventually will have to put up funds to finance.

Applied to One Bill Only

The discarded antidiscrimination rider on the Labor-Federal Security bill was sponsored by Representative Frank B. Keefe (R., Wis.), subcommittee chairman. Although Keefe will not reoffer it on the House floor, feeling bound by the committee action, another member of the House is expected to do so. There was even some talk of attempting to present it in the form of a motion to recommit, the only probable means of getting a roll-call vote.

As drawn by Keefe, and later rejected by the full committee, the limitation would have applied solely to funds in the one bill, but even so covered such far-flung activities as Federal aid to land-grant colleges, hospital construction, vocational rehabilitation and public health.

Flat Refusal of Funds

The rider said flatly that no funds in the bill could be paid "as grants to any State or educational institution in which, because of race, color, or creed, discriminatory practices deny equality of educational opportunity or employment to anyone to pursue such educational courses or employment as are provided for by such a grant."

Some 170 million dollars of the bill's funds would have been affected by the limitation. Keefe told reporters he had antidiscrimination and not antisegregation in mind. He said it was not designed to require whites and Negroes to attend the same schools, but would require equal opportunities.

The Labor Department-Federal Security Agencl bill provided $12,498,200 for the Labor Department, a cut of $23,367,279. The Federal Security Agency was allotted $239,788,500, a reduction of $23,367,279, but $112,445,750 was proposed in contract authorizations.

Cut and Pat for Ching

The National Labor Relations Board was cutback from $9,400,000 asked by the President for nine months to $7,200,000 approved for eight months. The National Mediation Board received the full $862,550 requested and the Railroad Retiremen Board also received its full $642,416,000 Budget quota. The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service got $2,640,000, a $450,000 cut and a pat on the back for Director Cyrus S. Ching.

The committee turned down the entire $509,000 the President requested for the Labor Department's Bureau of Veterans Re-employment Rights, originally set up to help returning veterans get their old jobs back. The committee said the bureau no longer has enough work to do.

Before passing the $500,592,263 State-Justice-Commerce - Judiciary bill the House eliminated $2,608,000 for an airport between Dallas and Fort Worth Texas, but gave the Commerce Department $170,000 more for cotton statistics.

Bridges

Allen S. Haywood, CIO vice president and organization director, wrote Bridges that his position on the third-party question left the CIO no alternative but to oust him.

The action, announced at CIO headquarters after Haywood had personally delivered this ultimatum to the West Coast longshoremen's leader: Quit campaigning for Henry Wallace and against the Marshall Plan, or get out of the CIO. announced at CIO headquarters after Haywood had personally delivered this ultimatum to the West Coast Longshoremen's leader: Quit campaigning for Henry Wallace and against the Marshall Plan, or get out of the CIO.

The CIO is against the third party. It has not, however, gone beyond that as to its political plans for the 1948 presidential campaign.

The job of regional director is appointive. Bridges' other job—president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union—is elective and thus not affected by the action.

In a statement by CIO president Philip Murray, Tim Flynn was named to succeed Bridges as regional director, with offices in San Francisco.

Officer Gets New Gun After Crisis In Skunk Battle

Stephens Ctiy, Va., March 5 (AP). Town Sergt. N. B. Smallwood will get a new pistol after his close call in battle—with two skunks.

An appeal from a townswoman sent Sergeant Smallwood hurrying to kill two skunks she had trapped on her premises. He disposed of one with a single bullet, but when he pulled the trigger in the other, his pistol jammed and continued to jam.

The officer was being forced into a corner when he spied a brick, which he used with deadly effect.

The sergeant had rarely used his oldtime pistol, but the council agreed when a real need arises he should have a gun that would function. It directed that a new pistol be purchased for the officer.

was after, said Smith, was to keep unions from spending union money to back candidates whom some of the members were against.

"Suppose a member gave his union money for a political purpose," Judge Moore asked, "would using that money be against this law?"

Smith said it would; that Congress meant to keep unions from spending any money in connection with elections.

Limits on "Freedom"

Special Prosecutor Jesse Climenko of New York upheld the act in a speech of almost two hours. He pointed out that there are limits to freedom of speech and the press, that people can be punished for libel, and sedition and contempt of court.

Judge Moore suggested that these limits were the same for all people, and that the flaw in the Taft-Hartley Act might be that it puts limits on one group of citizens—the labor unions—which it does not put on others.

Climenko said that was true, but that it might be that Congress would act against others when there was need of it. He said he did not deny that the act did abridge the freedoms of speech, press and assembly, but that these could be cut down as a part of the regulating of elections.

Pressman's Argument

CIO Attorney Lee Pressman, who was its general counsel until recently, hammered on this point for an hour and a half. He declared the groups of citizens who wanted the Taft-Hartley Act were free to go on taking part in politics, but that the labor unions were muzzled.

Judge Moore said a court might find that Congress never meant to stop unions from printing articles like the one Murray wrote in favor of Congressman Garmatz, so that what Murray and the CIO did was not a crime. Pressman protested, and the judge grinned.

"You insist, do you," the judge asked, "that your clients have violated the law, if it is valid?"

Pressman said he did.

Abdullah Asks Islam to Avenge Imam's Murder

Cairo, Egypt, March 5 (U.P.).—King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan, commander of the most potent military force in the Arab world, called upon the Islamic world today to avenge the murder of Imam Yahya, aged ruler of the Arabian kingdom of Yemen.

Abdullah's statement gave the first indication the Yemen coup last month might split the Arab League with a serious effect on the Arab front in Palestine.

Abdullah supports Prince Seif el Islam Ahmed, eldest son of the slain Yahya. Ahmed is leading a rebellion against Yahya's "elected" successor, Sayed Abdullah Ibn Ahmed El-Wazir.

tion which a reporter of The Washington Post had been able to secure.

The reference was to the fact that The Washington Post disclosed on Wednesday that a key sentence was missing in the subcommittee's quote of Hoover's letter in its report. The next day, it published the text of the missing item.

Condon Pleased

All of this, Nixon said, loosed a "cloud of suspicion" about the report. His subcommittee colleagues agreed it should be cleared up. Therefore, they voted to recommend that the full committee hold a complete hearing. It was planned to call Condon, Hoover and Harriman as witnesses.

Condon, who attended yesterday's session as "an interested citizen," said he was pleased that the hearing would be held. He noted that he himself asked for such an airing many months ago. At that time he had requested of Chairman Thomas the opportunity to appear before the committee in person, but had received no reply.

He told reporters that he had not "the slightest idea" of the identity of the alleged Russian agent with whom he was reported to have associated.

Unfrocked Priest Flees, $450,000 Gems Missing

Rome, March 5 (AP).—Italian police announced they are investigating the disappearance of $450,000 worth of jewels in connection with the flight of an unfrocked Vatican priest.

Police said last night Eduardo Prettner Cippico, who had been a trusted attache of the Vatican secretariat of state, was given the jewels for safekeeping during the German occupation by friends.

The Vatican unfrocked the priest so that Italian police may arrest him without violating the Lateran Treaty.

AMA Admits Many Doctors Dodge Night Calls

Chicago, March 5 (U.P.).—The American Medical Association admitted editorially today that "many physicians do dodge" late night medical calls and urged its members to speed up handling night calls for aid.

The association journal said people all over the country were complaining—although sometimes without foundation—that they had been unable to get medical aid.

Virginia House Favors Annexation

Anti-Truman Bill Delay Held Likely

Richmond, Va., March 5 (AP).—Committee action on Governor Tuck's substitute anti-Truman proposal most likely will be deferred until next week, it was reported reliably tonight.

Apparently the organization did not foresee any danger to the bill's chances of passage in the General Assembly's final week by delaying committee action a few days. It did foresee the possibility of further adverse criticism if any hurry-up tactics were adopted.

Chairman Roy B. Davis of Halifax, of the House Privileges and Elections Committee, said the committee had set no special time for consideration of the bill.

It was the House committee which reported out the original and much stronger "anti-Truman" measure last Friday, the day after Governor Tuck proposed it in a speech to the General Assembly denouncing the President's civil-rights program. The Senate received an identical bill but its Privileges and Elections Committee has, as yet, taken no action.

It appeared likely that the House of Delegates probably would have the matter before it by Tuesday. Then it probably will be taken out of order and passed so the Senate may have time for debate and a vote before the curtain is rung down Saturday on the 1948 session.

The State Democratic Central Committee, meanwhile, prepared to meet here at 4 p. m. tomorrow with the Governor's election bill certain to come up for discussion.

Rural Delegation Wins 'Revolution' By 49 to 40 Vote

Richmond, Va., March 5 (AP). The strong rural delegation in the House completed their "revolution" today and put through a "25 per cent" Crockett annexation bill by a vote of 49 to 40.

The bill goes to the Senate with three amendments: One, requiring that only 25 per cent of the voters in an area sought to be annexed must vote for annexation, whereas the original bill called for a majority.

Other amendments would exempt cities which already have started annexation suits and cities less than of the first class.

The revived county-city struggle in the House overshadowed a day of the Virginia General Assembly which saw these important actions:

1. The last remaining sales tax and tobacco tax bills died in the House Finance Committee. The same committee reported favorably a Senate bill to reimpose the 2 per cent gross receipts tax on freight trucks which was repealed two years ago.

2. The bill to relieve game wardens of dog law enforcement was announced as "apparently dead," with a tie vote of 5-to-5.

4. The McCue bill to reorganize the Department of Education was killed by the House Courts of Justice Committee.

5. The same committee reported favorably Senate bills to raise the pay brackets of the commissioners of revenue, county and city treasuerrs, Commonwealth's attorneys and city sergeants, by 20 per cent but not more than $1000 a year.

6. Introduction of a resolution in the Senate for a constitutional amendment to extend the regular terms of the General Assembly to 90 days instead of the present 60.

Arab Commander Moves Up

FAWZI BEY AL KAUKJI, leader of Arab volunteer armies fighting in the Holy Land, has moved his headquarters from Syria into the Nablus area of northern Palestine, a dispatch from Damascus stated yesterday. Fawzi Bey declared his "invasion" was completed with out incident and that the Arabs now "control all eastern Palestine from Safad to Hebron," a strip about 100 miles deep turned away, the employes said.

The bandit then strode to the cash register, tapped out $5.45 to open it, and fled out the front door with its contents, estimated between $60 and $100, police were told. He was described as a white man about 5 feet 8 inches tall, 27 years old, with sandy hair, and wearing a light tan topcoat.

Unsteady 'Holdup'

The Kaplan Market "holdup" proved more hectic than alarming. It began with the unsteady entrance of a youth about 18 and his demand for beer from the proprietor, Albert Kaplan, 36, who lives above the store.

The storekeeper said he refused to get the beer because of the youth's condition, whereupon, he said, the boy struck a pose with his hand under his jacket and said:

"It's a holdup, stand still. Give me the beer and your money."

A heavy-set customer entered, sized up the situation and knocked the lad to the floor. He got up, only to be slapped down again.

Arising the second time, he declared, "This is still a holdup," and stumbled around, knocking apples, bananas and a dozen eggs to the floor. Then, as Kaplan shouted orders to his wife, Minnie, to telephone police, the youth ran out. He left a hat behind, with a name in it.

Other thieves took $238 and an undetermined number of checks from a safe at the Touchdown Club, 1414 I st. nw., between 9:30 p. m. Thursday and 11 a. m. yesterday, Lewis W. Thomas, jr., club manager, reported.

Vespers to Go On Air

A vesper service will be broadcast over WBBC from 5:05 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. tomorrow originating at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Connecticut ave. and Everett st. nw.

MacArthur For President Office Opens

National headquarters of a movement to elect General Douglas MacArthur President on the Republican ticket were set up today.

Incidentally, the offices are right next door to the Republican National Committee on Connecticut Avenue.

Warren Wright, Illinois state treasurer in 1941-43, is in charge. He told a news conference that the aim is to "arouse and corral" so much sentiment that the Republicans will nominate the general at Philadelphia this June.

Not In Touch with General

Wright said he had not been in touch with the General, who has not said he would run, since the days of the first world war. But he said others had got the definite impression that MacArthur would accept the nomination "under proper circumstances."

Three weeks before convention time (June 21), Wright said, his organization will take a poll of voter sentiment and submit it to the delegates.

"If the people get in their minds that General MacArthur might accept," he said, "there is no doubt what the convention would do."

Wright said he has not accepted "a dime" yet from any contributors toward sponsoring the "MacArthur for America" movement and that he has spent "in excess of $5000" of his own funds. He said contributions would be accepted later once a treasurer "who will be a nationally known figure" is named.

Discharges Suggested

Meanwhile Senator Taylor of Idaho suggested that President Truman fire Generals MacArthur and Wedemeyer.

Taylor, Wallace's running mate on the third party ticket, wrote Mr. Truman that the two generals in the Far East were urging "a foreign policy at variance with that of the Administration." He noted they advocated military aid to China.

Mr. Truman fired Wallace as Secretary of Commerce in 1946, Taylor recalled, for publicly disagreeing with Administration foreign policy. The Idaho Senator added:

"In order that you may be consistent with the policy which you laid down in the case of Mr. Wallace, I suggest that the resignations of General MacArthur and General Wedemeyer must also be requested."

Mr. Truman came back from his vocation yesterday. Democratic Chairman McGrath is expected soon to give him a person-to-person account of the state of the party.

McGrath has had to do the listening to complaints from Southern politicians on Mr. Truman's civil rights program. He has had, also, to survey the victory of a Henry A. Wallace man in a New York congressional election.

Other Developments

Otherwise the Day's political developments included:

1. Representative Gossett (D., Tex.) proposed that presidents be elected by popular vote. He said this would end the political angling for minority group support in close states.

2. Henry Wallace announced formation of an informal "freedom league." He said: "I want everyone who has a specific instance of how the Federal Government or businessmen have abridged our freedom to write in to the freedom league."

Prince Georges P-TA Favors Kindergartens

A long-range program to include kindergartens in the public school system of Prince Georges County has been approved by the county's Council of Parent-Teacher Associations.

Officials of the countywide unit revealed yesterday the membership has unanimously indorsed a public school kindergarten program first proposed by the Laurel (Md.) P-T A, although conceding it may be several years before the program can be effected.

The Laurel proposal called on other units in the county to act jointly in appealing to school officials for "consideration" of the kindergartens in connection with future school construction plans. It terms pregrade school instruction an "integral part of the public school system."

The countywide council also has gone on record as favoring more extensive parent education, through closer contacts with schools and informal study groups of parents.

Newly appointed members of the council nominating committee, scheduled to report at the next meeting of the group at the Bradbury Heights School May 6, are Mrs. Robert Dawson, chairman; Jerrold Powers and Mrs. Joseph Yuill.

Talks Ordered On Palestine

stained, would have directed the Big Five to make last minute attempts to persuade the Arabs to accept partition or persuade the Jews to accept something less.

The phrase "with a view to implementing partition" was added to the United States resolution today at the suggestion of Russian Delegate Andrei Gromyko. The resolution itself was worked out at a lunch-hour conference of Gromyko and United States Delegate Warren Austin.

Austin had warned earlier that postponement of immediate indorsement might result in "permanent refusal" of partition.

In summary the council refused to commit itself strongly on partition, refused to lay stress on hopes of conciliating the Arabs and the Jews, and then allowed 10 days for the fate of Polistine to be settled among the Big Four.

A spokesman for the Jewish agency said partition had been given a boost by today's Security Council action.

Today's session opened with a speech by Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, Jewish Agency chief, who said Jews will try to set up their Palestine state with or without Security Council help.

The consultations will begin at 11 a. m. Monday in New York at the office of Gromyko.

Inquiry Group Held Legal

was improperly constituted it could not swear witnesses and therefore perjury could not be committed before it.

Brewster said that as chairman of the full committee he had named the subcommittee on April 19, 1947, to inquire into aircraft procurement.

Number Questioned

Defense Counsel Robert T. Bushnell, in a lengthy cross-examination, tried to show that the whole committee had 10 members instead of seven, without any proper authority from the Senate.

He pointed out that the committee was increased from 7 to 10 members by a resolution passed in 1941, but that the resolution authorizing the 10 was not included in legislation during subsequent Congresses.

Federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff ruled testimony on this point was a matter for the court to determine on a point of law, rather than a matter of evidence.

Pressing questions about the extent of authority of the subcommittee and its chairman, Bushnell demanded:

"Then you mean one man has the right to decide whether to summon a witness before a so-called subcommittee, examine him under oath without benefit of counsel, in a secret session, and ask questions under oath in a proceeding which may lead to action in the criminal courts?"

Question Ruled Out

Holtzoff ruled out the question as "objectionable."

The Government interrupted the testimony of Mrs. Mildred R. Lamarre, attractive wife of the Government's key witness against Meyers, to call Brewster, who is shortly leaving Washington for a trip.

Mrs. Lamarre, whose honors as a college beauty queen are better known than her honors as a graduate "magna cum laude," is expected to resume the stand Monday morning.

She is expected to continue the details of her acquaintanceship with Meyers, who presented the unique defense before the Senate that his troubles all arose because she was his "girl friend." Mrs. Lamarre has denied this and threatened suit for slander.

Attorney Testifies

Only other witness in a short court session yesterday was Robert C. Knee, Dayton, Ohio, attorney for the Lamarres.

Knee testified that it was not until October 15, nearly a week after Lamarre told the Senate "the truth" about Aviation Electric Corp. that Lamarre consulted him about getting Meyers to return a $10,000 investment.

His testimony was in answer to defense suggestions that Lamarre tried to "shake down" Meyers for $10,000 by threats to tell the Senate Committee an unfavorable story about the wartime AAF procurement officer somewhere between October 3 and October 9. Previous testimony and subcommittee records show that it was on October 9 that Lamarre reversed his story and told what he called the truth to the subcommittee.

Crowding Threatens School With Loss of Accreditation

Arlington's only white high school, Washington-Lee, faces the loss of its accredited standing, according to County School Board chairman Barnard Joy.

He pointed out that the combination junior-senior high school stands to lose accreditation because of overcrowding next year, when as many as 400 more students are expected to enroll there.

Assistant School Superintendent Charles Walsh said yesterday that standards set up by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools require an average teaching load of not more than 30 pupils to a class in high schools.

This year, Walsh said, W & L's teaching load has been close to the maximum; next year's influx of students may topple it over accredited limits.

Speaking at a school board meeting Thursday night, Joy recommended establishment of an "emergency" junior high school to take up some of the student overflow at Washington-Lee.

One item in the budget the school board is now considering calls for expenditure of $225,000 for the emergency school, and for a warehouse and more office space.

Czechoslovak Army Reported Undergoing Thorough Purge

New York Herald Tribune said Drtina was found on the pavement 22 feet from his apartment house. "A man suffering from a fractured skull and broken leg could not have climbed over the fence to lie down where Drtina was found," the Herald Tribune declared.)

The army purge was disclosed tonight in the Social Democratic newspaper Pravo Lidu.

Rudolf Slansky, secretary-general of the Communist Party in this country and a founder of the Cominform, appeared to be in charge of the purge.

The Communist government announced an increase in bread rations because of grain deliveries from Russia.

Communist Premier Klement Gottwald, in an interview asserted today Russia brought no pressure for force the "rebirth of the national front."

Jan Masaryk, Foreign Minister and son of the country's first President, in a speech to army officers reported by the controlled press, said:

"I am one of you. You can count on me. We have entered a new phase of history. We must be grateful if Russia allows us to be at her side."

(A dispatch from Hof, Germany, at the Czech border said there were indications a "gigantic purge has started in Czechoslovakia. United States security officers estimated 600 Czechoslovaks had slipped out of the country, fearful of their lives. The escaping Czechs reported concentration camps had been set up.)

Frantisek Necasek, press officer for Gottwald, said President Benes is "very tired and it is not known when he can come back to Prague."

The constitution provides the President may be replaced after six months incapacitation. Naecasek said "there has been no consideration given to any replacement or successor."

Texan Tells of Czech 'Wave of Terror'

(World Copyright, 1948, The Houston Press Publishing Co.)

Houston, Tex., March 5 (U.P.).—Ben Kaplan, Houston Press reporter, telephoned Jim Smith of Houston in Prague today and in a 27-minute uncensored conversation obtained an account of Communist terrorism in Czechoslovakia.

Smith said the Communist revolution has suppressed civil liberties.

A wave of terror has swept the country, paralyzing anti-Communist action.

Since the coup on February 25, President Eduard Benes has not been seen or heard from.

Smith implied that Russia supplied arms to Czech Communists.

"When the situation was at its height, the streets were full of 200,000 workers who carried rifles," he said.

(Smith, 22, and his wife teach English at a private school in Prague.)

Soviet Farm Boys Slow to Respond To Labor Draft

Moscow, March 5 (U.P.).—Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper, disclosed today that agricultural areas are lagging in providing recruits for Soviet labor reserve schools. Izvestia called on the laggards to complete their draft of youths by March 25.

The government issued its semi-yearly call February 15. Since then, Izvestia said, only 90,000 acceptable youths of between 17 and 19 years of age have been sent to specified schools. The government called for a total of 244,000 to be drafted by March 31.

Cities are delivering their quotas on schedule, Izvestia said.

Amazing new way to relieve nausea of
MOTION SICKNESS
Most people suffer from "motion sickness" in one form or another. When the motion of a boat nauseates you, it's called seasickness. On a bus or in an auto, it's known as carsickness. In an airplane, it's airsickness. Once accepted as hopeless . . . there's wonderful, good news coming out of the medical world today.
IT'S CALLED TRIP-EZE
It's an amazing new preparation. Army and Navy doctors put these ingredients together during the war to combat air and seasickness. Now it is sold commercially. You chew this medicated gum as an aid in preventing and relieving this ancient malady. It proved effective as a preventative in 95% of the cases reported.
Chew Trip-eze before boarding the plane, bus, train or boat. Over thirty airlines, American and foreign, accept Trip-eze to aid in preventing and relieving airsickness.
Your druggist now has a new supply. Money back if Trip-eze doesn't help you.

Top Education Official Backs Radio Right to Editorialize

The Government's top education official, John W. Studebaker, joined a movie industry spokesman yesterday in support of the radio industry's drive for the right to editorialize on the air.

The AFL agreed, with one major reservation. An AFL witness told the Federal Communications Commission that any station which takes sides must give its opponents "full and equal opportunity to be heard."

But the Chicago Federation of Labor, a part of AFL, objected to that. It operates a radio station. It would be "unreasonable" to make that station air the views of AFL's opponents, the Chicago group said.

Even in the ranks of education there was dissent, as the FCC closed its first week of hearings on whether to erase a 7-year-old rule which forbids stations and networks to broadcast "editorials."

Studebaker, United States Commissioner of Education, filed a statement in support of the broadcasters, as did Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America.

The present FCC rule, said Studebaker, sometimes hampers the efforts of broadcasters to air public questions "fairly, objectively and without bias." He asked FCC:

"Does not the licensee's (station owner's) obligation of presenting all sides of important questions imply a right, when need be, to balance the views presented over his station by giving expression to his views?

"I think it does?"

President George N. Shuster of Hunter College, New York, thought otherwise. It would be a difficult policing job for FCC to see that each station balanced its own opinions with other views, he said.

"I am therefore inclined to believe that it would be more practicable to maintain the system in practice, which is simply to discountenance such editorializing altogether."

In this clash of views the FCC recessed its hearing until April 19, having heard about half of a list of 60 witnesses.

America Voice Radio Script Is Criticized

By Marshall Andrews
Post Reporter

A couple of Congressmen yesterday turned up a State Department radio script of the Wild West and America (female, that is) in the raw.

It led to no end of mane shaking.

"Putrid," cried Representative Taber (R., N.Y.), whose Appropriations Committee rules on funds for just such things.

"I feel just like resigning from Congress," said Representative Rich (R., Pa.), waving the script.

The script which so stirred Taber and Rich was written by the National Broadcasting Co. for a "Voice of America" broadcast to South America. Part of a "Know North America" series, it apparently was based on the John Gunther book, "Inside U.S.A."

Some of it goes like this:

Narrator (reading a sign as his train pulls into Cheyenne, Wyo.): Traveler, no more adventures! . . . You are in Wyoming paradise.

Voice: The part about the end of the journey would not concern me if there were an Eve in this paradise.

Narrator: There are plenty to choose from.

Voice II: And all kinds of snakes—especially rattlesnakes.

Voice: Not for me!

Narrator: Ingrate! It was because of the serpent that the apple did not rot on the tree.

Voice: What a bad opinion you have of Father Adam.

Going through Cheyenne, talk turns to its early "tumultuous period" when it "was a center of vice and crime." Narrator quotes "an American historian":

"There was a time when all the inhabitants of Cheyenne were outlaws, including the mayor."

There is parenthetical laughter (familiar enough to readers of the Congressional Record), and the dialog goes on:

Voice: I suppose that he was elected by his own gang like in the movies.

Narrator: Of course. The laws of the State, even to this day, forbid the Treasurer-General to serve more than four years.

Voice: Why?

Narrator: The governing officials in those days gave a very original and a very human explanation: "Everyone has the right to get rich, but anyone who cannot do it in four years should look for some other business."

Narrator and Voices go to Cheyenne's world-famous Frontier Days celebration and to some of the juiciest morsels in the scrip:

Voice II: Look! What magnificent Indian girls.

Voice: Feathered and naked.

Voice II (not unreasonably in the circumstances): What are they going to do?

Narrator: Let me see the program. It's the 100-meter race.

Voice: Bravo! I bet ten dollars that the one with the blue kerchief wins.

A State Department spokesman said broadcasts to Latin America were divided between NBC and Columbia Broadcasting System on a contract basis. Scripts are prepared by the networks for these broadcasts, though those for transmission to most of the world's hot spots are prepared by the department.

Watch your temperature gauge. If your engine is heating up, it is a danger signal. It might be your fan belt, water pump, thermostat or frozen radiator.

T. S. Repplier Wins Highest Ad Award

By S. Oliver Goodman

The spotlight sought out and finally cornered Theodore S. Repplier last night.

For his "distinguished services to advertising," the modest president of the Advertising Council, Inc., was presented the Gold Medal Award at ceremonies at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York. This was the highest of 30 awards made annually by the trade publication Advertising and Selling.

Repplier

Repplier, whose offices are at 1010 Vermont ave here, is the little-known guiding genius behind more than 150 campaigns of a non-profit group of leading advertisers, publishers and ad agencies executives. The Advertising Council was organized about six years ago to help sell war bonds, promote various salvage drives, recruit nurses, Wacs, Waves and war plant workers. After the war, the council turned to various humanitarian appeals.

Repplier is a graduate of the Carnegie Institute of Technology. In 1923 he joined the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. in Washington and two years later was appointed its advertising supervisor. He left Washington in 1926 and served for the next 16 years as an executive with New York ad agencies. He returned here in 1942 as campaign manager of the War Manpower Commission and in 1943 was appointed Washington manager of the War Advertising Council. Six months later he was elevated to executive director of the Council and in January, 1946, became its president.

Other individual medal winners last night were George B. Hotchkiss, New York University professor of marketing, who got the Silver Medal Award for his services in advertising education; Justin Miller, president of National Association of Broadcasters, a Bronze Medal for contribution to knowledge and technique of radio advertising, and David Sarnoff, president of Radio Corp. of America, a Bronze Medal for contribution to the advancement of television. Twelve additional Bronze Medals and 21 honorable mention certificates were awarded by the jury which judged more than 5000 individual advertisements prepared in 1947.

STORE SALES: Washington department store sales in week ended February 28 showed a 7 per cent gain over the like 1947 period, Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond reported yesterday. Local volume in four weeks ended same date improved 8 per cent. Regionally, Fifth Federal Reserve District stores showed 15 per cent sales upturn for week and 10 per cent for four-week period.

PREVIEW: More than 60 dealers and salesmen of the Washington area attended a preview last night of the new Westinghouse television receivers at the Statler. This meeting was the first in Washington since the opening of Westinghouse's new Southern Atlantic Division. District manager is C. R. Lee and S. N. Smart is district appliance and radio manager. Manager of the Washington branch is H. C. Leese and Harry Kaiden is radio manager. J. N. Van Deman of Westinghouse's home office was in charge of the meeting.

GAS NET UP; Washington Gas Light Co. yesterday reported January net income of $254,483, a gain of $64,143 over same 1947 month. Operating revenues of $1,896,271 were $432,887 higher, while operating expenses of $1,580,299 increased $364,584. The improvement was attributed to a 37.6 per cent upturn in gas sales for the month and to full natural-gas operations this year. Meters in service in Washington increased 2389 to a total of 170,968 at the end of January.

RESERVES LEAP: Peoples Life Insurance Co., whose home office is in Washington, reported total reserves of $36,849,876, an increase of $4,980,799 during the past year. Other highlights of the annual report: Surplus rose $496,537 to $1,625,325; admitted assets aggregated $41,304,741, up $5,918,738, and total insurance in force was $341,165,993 as of December 31, 1947.

SEEK PARLEY: Three Washington delegates to the midyear meeting of the National Association of Life Underwriters at Louisville, Ky., will press efforts to have the organization holds its 1950 annual convention in this city. Attending the Kentucky session March 16 to 20 will be H. Cochran Fisher, a trustee of NALU; John V. Marsh, a national committeeman for local association, and Charles F. Suter, first vice president of the local group.

EARNINGS: E. I. duPont de Nemours & Co. reported net income of $120,009,760 for 1947, equal to $9.88 a common share, compared with 1946 net of $112,619,706, or $9.44 a share. Other income reports follow:

Gossett Resolution

Something more than the Virginia threat to take President Truman's name off the ballot in that State must have been behind the action of Representative Chauncey Reed's Subcommittee in reporting out the Gossett resolution yesterday. We suspect that it was the sudden growth of awareness that politicians are now at liberty to euchre citizens of their right to choose the President of the United States.

Whatever may come of Governor Tuck's proposal in Virginia, the existing defect in the Constitution will remain until it is corrected by positive action of Congress and the States. The Reed Subcommittee is to be commended for taking the first step, but the constitutional amendment it has proposed must win the approval of the full House Judiciary Committee, the House, the Senate and three fourths of the State Legislatures before the right of the people to elect their President will be secure. Today they exercise that right only by sufferance. Small groups of politicians in the States can at any time throw our electoral system into utter confusion. If the rank and file of citizens realized how flimsy is the foundation of their right to choose the President and Vice President, we have not the slightest doubt that the corrective Gossett resolution would be promptly sent on its way to the States.

Sniping At Gallinger

The latest assault against Gallinger Hospital gives the unfortunate impression of being designed chiefly to reopen old sores. District residents will remember that doctors of the medical schools of Georgetown and George Washington Universities engaged in a spirited controversy with Health Officer Ruhland over control of the medical service at Gallinger some years ago. The outcome was a compromise leaning strongly in favor of the Health Department because its insistence upon retaining full-time staff doctors at the hospital was in accord with the public interest. In spite of Gallinger's remaining deficiencies, we think the record indicates extensive improvements under this system.

If the medical school doctors now serving Gallinger are seriously concerned over the manner in which the hospital is administered, the reasonable first step would certainly have been, as Dr. Ruhland suggests, to carry their grievances to him. The fact that they rejected this cooperative approach plus the nature of their proposals strongly suggests that they are once more fighting to get medical care at Gallinger entirely under their own control. They are seeking to eliminate the medical officers responsible to the Health Department and to have the medical schools name the chief residents. And they would like to see the District's hospitals separated from the Health Department.

We fully agree with Dr. Ruhland that these would be backward steps. Public health and the administration of public hospitals are inextricably related. Improvement of Gallinger ought to be sought, in our opinion, within the framework of a sound over-all organization and by means that will not deprive public officials of the authority to control the medical care it affords. Dr. Ruhland has appropriately replied to the medical school doctors by asking for an investigation of the quality of service, cost of operation, management and needs of Gallinger by a committee of the District Medical Society. We hope that such an impartial study will be undertaken.

The Lights Go Out

Totalitarian rule is by definition and of necessity—total; it must extend the hand of its authority, this is to say, into every facet of life. It should occasion no surprise, therefore, that in Czechoslovakia, for instance, the Gottwald government has now taken measures to restrict higher education to those who profess loyalty to that government. It is reported that a loyalty pledge is to be required and that a civic course is in preparation which will include periodic conferences with professors who will check on the students' attitudes. The Communist Minister of Education has, of course, suspended those professors whose views have become unfashionable and has replaced them with others more "satisfactory" in outlook, without reference to the country's ancient traditions of academic freedom.

It is through this goosestep sort of education, of course, that citizens are trained in time to vote ja, or ea, as the case may be. It is through this process of what might be called unnatural selection that the fitter, from the totalitarian point of view—the more compliant, in others words—are enabled to survive and to rise to power by virtue of superior opportunity. But the system carries the seeds of its own destruction; for it is a system which deliberately culls and casts aside originality, initiative and independence. To the totalitarians, there is no room for dissent in the academic sphere any more than in the political sphere. For they see dissent as always dangerous, always the equivalent of disloyalty. In a free society, by way of contrast, diversity is recognized to be a source of strength and such a sterile cultivation of conformity in the name of loyalty would be unthinkable.

Loyalty Files

Whatever the legal niceties of congressional power to subpena confidential files belonging to the executive branch of the Government, it is a power which ought not to be exercised in the face of executive objections—and especially not in respect of data in the possession of loyalty review boards. The revelation of such data could be gravely damaging to innocent persons and would inevitably result, as Secretary Harriman observed, in seriously jeopardizing the whole Government loyalty program. There is an abundance of precedent for the Secretary's refusal to turn over his department's loyalty board files on Dr. Edward U. Condon. The latest case in point was President Truman's altogether proper refusal to give the Senate Atomic Energy Committee confidential FBI reports on the men he had nominated to the Atomic Energy Commission.

Secretary Harriman's alternative proposal to send the file in the Condon case to the top-level Loyalty Review Board established in the Civil Service Commission seems to us equally unsatisfactory. The loyalty board in his own department has just cleared Dr. Condon. Had it found him guilty of disloyalty, Dr. Condon would have had a right under the terms of the President's loyalty investigation order, to appeal first to the Secretary and then to the Civil Service Commission Board. But this appeal is a privilege granted to an accused person, not a threat of continued prosecution after he has been acquitted. Such retrial of a person declared innocent by a lower court would be contrary to the whole concept of American justice.

Dr. Condon himself, however, is thoroughly justified, we think, in asking the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy to give him a hearing. The general considerations which he declared in his letter to Senator Hickenlooper he wishes to bring to the attention of the committee urgently need airing. It is time that Congress as a whole understood the grave damage to the national interest and security inflicted by the irresponsibility of its Committee on Un-American Activities.

Politics And ERP

Senator Vandenberg is opposing the attempt to combine political with economic objectives in ERP. Even such an exemplary amendment as the one offered by Senator Fulbright aimed at encouraging political unification of Europe meets with his disapproval. The Michigander's motives, we fancy, are tactical. Certainly he does not underrate the essentiality of political reforms that would enable European nations to make more effective use of our economic aid and emancipate themselves from dependence upon outside assistance. He appears to think that any attempt on our part to attach political conditions to proffered aid would scare away timid nations and arouse the suspicion of participants. If this is the case—and the presumption has weight—an atmosphere inimical to accomplishment of the economic objectives of ERP would be created by acceptance of political amendments.

The best method of insuring Europe against the dangers of spreading totalitarianism lies in supporting European efforts to achieve a "working economy" for Europe. Something more is required, to be sure, in the shape of political guarantees, and this newspaper has envisaged a tie-up of the entire free world within the framework of Article 51 as a necessary weapon in the present struggle with Soviet Russia. However, on listening to the debate of the last few days, we feel that, in view of all the circumstances, Senator Lodge is right when he says that a mixing of the two objectives might "play right into the hands of the Bolshevik propaganda trap." And, anyway, promptitude is now as important as the aid itself.

There is another argument in Senator Vandenberg's favor. If the two objectives were bracketed in ERP, the way would be opened for the saddling onto ERP of military objectives, some of them not restricted to Europe. For instance, the Herter Committee of the House is now trying to put all our foreign spending programs in one package, cutting down funds for European recovery and adding two billion dollars for China, Japan, Korea and western Germany. While the Herter plan calls for separate legislative handling of strictly military aid, its method of approach is calculated to create suspicion that ERP is only one aspect of a plan for achieving our own political objectives. If ERP is to be employed only for the professed purpose of hastening the economic rehabilitation of western Europe, it certainly should not be considered in connection with plans for Far Eastern relief and military assistance to China and Korea.

To launch ERP under conditions that will give it fair chance to succeed, it is essential (1) to provide adequate assistance, regardless of the extent of our other commitments, and (2) to insure the wholehearted cooperation of participating nations by scrupulously avoiding even the suspicion of interference with the internal political affairs of those nations, except insofar as we insist upon dealing with a central body, the CEEC, in Paris, which is the only way of carrying out the Marshall continental concept. That appears to be Senator Vandenberg's aim, not because he is unaware of the gravity of the political issues that confront Europe, but because he realizes the need for maintaining the integrity of ERP against the adulteration that is being pressed upon him.

Last Of The Loan

The British have withdrawn the last dollar of the 3¾-billion-dollar loan that the United States advanced in July, 1946, with the expectation that it would last from three to five years. The high hopes then entertained that the loan would tide Britain over a critical postwar period, pave the way for a return to normal trade relationships, and insure the convertibility of sterling have been disappointed. That does not mean that the loan served no good purpose. For it has assisted the British to build up their industries and helped them to maintain higher living standards than would otherwise have been possible.

Moreover, the unexpectedly heavy drain on the loan funds have been aggravated by conditions that could not have been foreseen or controlled, notably the increase in prices of essential imported foods and raw materials. For example, the value of imports rose by 44 per cent last year compared with 1946, whereas the actual volume of imports increased only 14 per cent. It has also to be remembered that last winter British industry was paralyzed by a series of storms that disrupted traffic and seriously affected export trade.

But that is not the whole story. There have been mistakes of policy, and failure on the part of the government to take decisive action to conserve fast disappearing reserves of borrowed funds. For instance, the attempt to restore sterling convertibility which led to a run on dollar reserves provides an example of inexcusable official bungling. It is also true that the government's program of internal improvements has diverted labor and scarce materials from export industries and hampered efforts to reach scheduled export goals. In short, the British have been living beyond their means on borrowed funds and have failed to practice as great self-denial as their really desperate financial plight made imperative.

Self-critics are usually the harshest critics. However, there is something in the severe judgment of the London Economist that the government has not talked nor until recently behaved as though the crisis were serious. The journal adds that the British spending record shows the country to have been living like an improvident family that, failing to make both ends meet, first spends its accumulated capital, then borrows from its friends and ends by pawning the furniture. To our way of thinking this analogy is rather misleading, since a bankrupt country is warranted in taking desperate chances to avoid social and political disintegration. Nevertheless, the errors and indulgences of the past justify the careful review of the use of funds under the Marshall Plan that is scheduled.

Relief Program

Tomorrow in the Roman Catholic Churches of Washington an appeal will be made for contributions to continue for another year the large-scale distributions of food and medical supplies in the devastated or deeply impoverished areas of Europe and Asia under the auspices of the War Relief Services of the National Catholic Welfare Conference. The greater part of the funds for this work is contributed by Catholics, and the date of the annual appeal for contributions has been fixed for Laetare Sunday in order to make the relief program the beneficiary of Lenten sacrifices.

The distributions are undertaken through existing Catholic charitable agencies in the countries concerned, with the view to reducing administrative costs to a minimum and also as a means of reaching as directly and as speedily as possible the persons most in need. The ultimate dispensation of relief, however, is undertaken wholly without regard to creed or politics, and allocations are made upon the basis of greatest distress. The character of relief is also varied according to local requirements.

Last year supplies of food, medicines and clothing aggregating more than 66½ million pounds were sent abroad and in the last five years nearly a quarter billion tons have been distributed through this agency. Here, it seems to us, is a work of such nature and value as to make it deserving of more than sectarian support. Non-Catholics who may wish to assist it by contributions may do so by sending them to any parish rectory or directly to the Bishops' Fund for Victims of War, 350 Fifth ave., New York 1, N. Y.

"Soviet Aims"

On reading the editorial, "Soviet Aims," in The Washington Post of March 3, I was struck once again by the increasing tendency of American newspapermen to use the word "Slav" in the place of "Communist." For instance, your writer features a comparison between the "Slav" and "Teuton" line of action and later on refers to the "Slavic aggressor."

Not only is the use of this term much too general, but it is also misleading, giving the reader the impression that world peace is endangered by a racial grouping, rather than by a conspiritorial group active in every nation.

It should not be forgotten that the fiercest opposition to both nazism and communism came from two Slav nations, Poland and Yugoslavia (where Serbian patriots are still fighting in the mountains against the present Communist regime). In both these countries a minority Communist regime was forced upon the anti-Communist majority by the combined pressure of the governments of the Soviet Union, England and America.

Furthermore, the Italian Communist Party is the largest in Europe in percentage of total population, so are we to assume that if the Communists manage to take over in Italy that Italy becomes part of the "Slav" bloc, a term now being widely used to cover many non-Slav nations such as Albania, Hungary, Romania, Finland, Esthonia, Latvia and Lithuania? Is northern China also part of the "Slav bloc"? Your editorial writer omits the fact that Stalen himself is a Georgian and his world-wide and anticapitalist program is based on the tenets of Karl Marx, a German.

Your writer states that the Slavs do not believe in direct action. In this connection I can only say that most of the Slavs I know are warm-hearted, direct people and far less devious than the many purely American members of the Communist Party who, according to your writer, also should be included in the "Slav bloc."

Communism is bitterly hated by the vast majority of Slavs, so many of whom have already given their lives in the fight against it. It would be most unfortunate if the American people should come to believe that communism is promoted by any one particular racial group.

Gallinger Doctors

Representative Rankin looks on a democratic operation of Gallinger Hospital as subversive and an attempt to humiliate white patients and white doctors. For years colored patients have been forced to accept white doctors since no colored doctors were admitted in the city-owned hospital. Mr. Rankin saw nothing unfair in that system.

What Mr. Rankin does not seem to know is that all over the South when people, white or colored, are sick, any doctor is welcome. In Fairfax County one of the most reputable physicians is a colored doctor who has also a large white practice. Not long ago a leading white physician offered to work with this doctor from the same office. In Prince William County one of the leading physicians and one of the best dentists in the town of Manassas are colored men. Occasionally you can't tell whether these doctors are colored or white by the complexion of the patients in their waiting rooms. Even down in Georgia and Alabama there are colored physicians with large white practices.

Among the press dispatches on which Mr. Rankin's outburst occurred was an item which read in part: "The executive committee of the Virginia Council of Churches, meeting in Lynchburg, adopted a program calling for interracial cooperation." The program calls for "abolition of segregation on public carriers, and in public waiting rooms, and for repeal of State and local laws forbidding churches to hold unsegregated religious meetings in public buildings." The beginning of democracy and the improvement of the health of Washingtonians at Gallinger and this Christian action of the executive committee of the Council of Churches in Virginia are both death knells to demagoguery based on race. ### "Alexandria Council"

As chairman of the group working for the at-large system of selecting councilmen in the City of Alexandria, I want to thank you for the editorial you ran in your paper on March 2.

We feel that the editorial was a great help and no small factor in our success.

I would also like to take this opportunity to say that Mr. Lyons, your representative in Alexandria, has done what we consider to be an outstanding job in covering the issue. His stories have been clear and to the point, and completely truthful without being partial. He was interested in our work and extremely faithful in picking up releases and trying to get additional news.

Chairman, Sponsors of the At-Large Plan.

Chinese Currency

May I point out to A. P., who takes issue in his letter of February 26 with my proposal of a silver exchange stabilization loan for China, on the ground that China's inflation is not psychological but caused by the printing press, that, in the final analysis, all inflation is psychological. If it weren't, we in the United States, who have no gold behind our currency at all, would have a tremendous flight from the dollar.

Merely the fact that we have the gold, even though it cannot be exchanged for currency, keeps our inflation within bounds. China, however, if my plan were followed, could not run the printing press. I specified repudiation of the outstanding issues, with the new currency "the only legal tender" "supplanting present currency on the basis of the dollar value of the silver involved."

This means that a new silver note would be exchangeable theoretically for a silver dollar of the same weight and fineness as before the war, which then meant at about 50 cents United States gold. Since gold appreciation in 1933, however, this would be now somewhat lower, by about 41 per cent, making the new silver yuan worth about 30 cents United States gold.

I would not loan the silver to the Chinese government unless it agreed not to issue more than this quantity of currency against it, the silver to revert to us if China repudiated the agreement. Since we maintain by law the price of silver in this country by purchasing both our output and Mexico's at a fixed price, I do not see the basis of A. P.'s argument about silver fluctuating in value.

REALIST.

"Barnes Bill"

Your comments of February 26 on the Barnes bill are critical without being constructive.

The bill would bar from many Massachusetts jobs any person "who is a member of the Communist Party or who, by speech or in writing, advocates its doctrines." You object that this would be an unwarranted encroachment on freedom of thought and "liable to catch every teacher exhibiting the slightest independence of thought."

As the bill is written it certainly does appear to pose such a threat to personal liberties. But I do not think your job is done when you stop with a criticism of a badly drawn bill.

Surely you recognize that there is a basic conflict between communism and our American way of life. Surely you realize that the triumph of communism would spell the end of American heritage.

It seems to me that every citizen—and most especially the men who direct the editorial policies of one of the Nation's greatest newspapers—has a duty to concern himself with this threat, and to discuss methods of heading it off.

But your approach has been negative. You have pointed out flaws in the suggestions of others; but I have not yet seen a constructive suggestion of your own.

My personal view is that the Communist Party has made it sufficiently clear that it does advocate the violent overthrow of democratic governments. It may not press such advocacy at times when the party considers revolution politically inexpedient, but I don't think we need have any doubts regarding the real and ultimate goal of the Communists.

On that point, therefore, my feeling is that the Communist Party should be put out of business—but only because, as a party, it is willing to resort to violence and insurrection.

Like The Washington Post, I cannot go along with Barnes bill provisions that anybody who advocates the party's doctrines should be discriminated against, because such a prohibition covers too large a field.

Anybody who advocates violent overthrow of the Government, whether as an individual or as a party member, should be clearly marked and recognized as an enemy of the Nation. But we must differentiate between our opposition to this one tenet of communism and "Communist doctrines" in general.

For example, the Communist Party might advocate free public schools for all children. By the terms of the Barnes bill it would be dangerous for a teacher to agree with such an idea, because the Communists are also advocating it.

Can't we get down to cases and use some common sense? Can't a line be drawn between a man with whose political ideas we disagree and a man who is plotting to stick a gun in our ribs? W. G.
Washington.

Editor's Note: Such a line can scarcely be drawn—as the writer seems disposed to draw it—by begging the question through bare assertion that a man with whose political ideas we disagree is, merely because of that disagreement, a man plotting to stick a gun in our ribs. If he actually sticks a gun in our ribs, or if he even advocates doing so, he may be jailed under the law; but if he merely associates with men alleged to plot such action or is merely presumed to be plotting it himself, he may not be punished without doing violence to the essential freedom which it is the aim of the Communists to subvert.

The Communists are not unfamiliar with the "Chinese knot" technique of self-strangulation; they count upon free people to destroy their own freedoms. But in these freedoms lies our real strength. And those who have genuine faith in the democratic process will not fear the outcome if they apply the dictum of Oliver Wendell Holmes that "the best test of truth is the power of thought to get itself accepted in the competition of the market."

"Falklands Dispute"

The article, "Falklands Dispute," by Sumner Welles, in your issue of March 2, is a model of clear, unbiased information, the factual information that American public opinion must have to help settle international disputes without violence, without bloodshed.

History shows Britain unwilling to make generous gestures in such disputes, unwilling to yield what she considers her "rights" in favor of justice. In America, in Ireland, in India, she yields only to force, to necessity, thus making no friends, earning no thanks.

Cyprus, Hongkong, Guiana, Honduras, the Falklands—a world map will show other sore spots which it would be in Britain's power, and in her own true long-range interests, to eliminate. The pressure of American public opinion has proved effective in bringing about peaceably a just solution of international disputes, and that opinion can reach sound and fair conclusions on the basis of such articles as Sumner Welles'.

U. S. Turning Point

By Malvina Lindsay

Talking It Out

BEHIND THE debate going on now in Congress over the Marshall Plan hovers a plain, earnest, perplexed individual—the average American citizen. He is looking down a new turn in the road, a turn he knows he will have to take even though he would like to stand still or turn back. But first he must resolve his doubts by thinking aloud.

So far in the Senate the argument has dragged along without intense feeling or fireworks. In the House it is expected to be more vehement. But none of the tear-shedding of Daniel Webster, the savage sarcasm of John Randolph, the spread-eagle rhetoric of Stephen A. Douglas, is expected. Nor is there evidence of the personal and political bitterness that characterized the battle of words over the League of Nations. The argument either seeks to persuade or to urge a different way of doing the job. In its subtle appeal to national attitudes and viewpoints it is a revelation of mental America.

Even though the issue is to a large degree settled, this is yet an historic debate. For it presents the United States going through the travail of making a decision, of turning finally from isolationism to world-mindedness, from political adolescence to adult responsibility, from an every-man-for-himself philosophy to the realization that the individual's or nation's good depends on the good of others.

IT WAS fitting that the man who made the first eloquent plea for the European Recovery Plan had himself gone through the struggle of deciding to take the international highway. Senator Arthur Vandenberg showed that he understood the ingrained doubts and fears of his fellow Americans. With his emphasis on the good business aspects of the plan—"no loose give-away . . ." "geared to hardpan reality . . ." "peace has its bargains and this is one," he met in advance the inevitable shibboleths about "playing Santa Claus" and "making Uncle Sam a sucker."

Those conducting the rear-guard attack on the program trying to curtail or shackle it, delay it or bog it down in side issues, likewise know American fears and prejudices. In the House especially they are expected to play on the inherited dislike and suspicion of Europe, felt by many Americans who regard it as the land their ancestors rejected. In fact one anthropologist sees in the enthusiasm of some former isolationists for aid to China not love for the Asiatics, but hatred of Europe—particularly England.

Other psychological warfare of the opposition is based on the inferiority complex of the colonial and on the universal feeling of peoples that they alone are naive, honest country boys whom slick city foreigners are eager to trick. Hence the puzzled man at the turn of the road is revealed in congressional debate as being torn between his entrenched pioneer attitudes and the need to react to events that have moved faster than his habits of thinking.

THE PLEA of those who would spur him to take the new road is made chiefly to his altruistic self-interest and to his fears of war and of Soviet imperialism. Isolationists and native imperialists who would hold him back dwell on his fears of financial insecurity (a good point, since he is not as young as he once was), on danger of losing his substance, on his fear of socialism and other foreign "isms," on his irritation at finding Europe, like an aged parent, always on his back, on his recollection of the trouble and expense she has caused him, on his vanity over being powerful enough to stand alone in the world.

There is not much appeal to him to strike out on his new road as a crusader for human freedom and justice. There is little attempt to awaken him to greatness. Perhaps there is too much cynical remembrance of President Wilson's "Make the world safe for democracy" to make such appeal advisable. Perhaps there is too much awareness that in the pseudo-sophistication of the day such talk would be called "corny."

Yet a listener to the argument cannot help but wish it did not have to be so "hard-headed." The need is felt of winged words to hearten the hopeless, discouraged world listening in, of burning words to set the confused, groping American off boldly on his new course with light rather than fear in his eyes.

By Marquis Childs

Push-Button Fantasy

IT WAS Fleet Admiral Chester Nimitz, former Chief of Naval Operations, who said concerning push-button warfare that all we had up to date was the button. In that remark is a stern realism that contrasts with the great delusion of today—the delusion of lightning war conducted by scientists who send guided missiles hurtling across thousands of miles, carrying atomic explosives to targets with pinpoint accuracy. This Buck Rogers fantasy has flowered in a thousand different ways in the past few years.

Childs

Unfortunately, millions of Americans have accepted the fantasy for reality. The atomic bomb is the Maginot Line of this country today. Just as that wall of steel and concrete lulled the French into a false sense of security in 1939, so in 1948 the bomb and all the hush-hush over its "secrecy" have produced an illusion of safety in this country.

One service performed by the Congressional Aviation Policy Board in its recent report was to point to the danger in the Buck Rogers publicity that comes out of the Air Force. The report was referring to the kind of trumpeting which heralds the achievements of a plane still in the trial-and-error stage and years short of availability for actual combat. The report went so far as to say something that had hitherto been considered a security secret:

"As a matter of fact, the effective radius of action of the longest-range bomber now in use is less than 2000 miles, and the famous B-29 has an effective radius of 1600 miles."

WHILE THE report does not say it, the same thing goes for guided missiles. A missile that can be directed several hundred miles to a target, with a fair degree of accuracy, is years away. Whether it is 10 or 15 or 20 years away is a matter for argument among the scientists.

What most of us overlook is the word potential. These things are potentially possible. But from there to the actuality is a long jump, with a lot of difficult steps on the way.

There is a terrible danger in the current delusion because of the growing conflict with Russia. To think that Russia can be brought down, when the United States chooses to go to war, with pilotless planes and guided missiles to demolish the Russian cities, is to dream a false dream.

The contrast with what is and what is likely to be could hardly be more grim. As Russia pushes the boundary of her effective domination farther to the west—and Czechoslovakia was a powerful gain—so does she develop more fully what is still the supreme geography. With her strategic centers in the middle of the Great Eurasian land mass, flanked by Europe and Asia, Russia will occupy a position inconceivably strong.

THERE IS undoubtedly a Kremlin timetable for the domination of Europe by political conquest short of war. When conquest is completed, if it is completed, the United States will be on the outside looking in. And one of the few realities of push-button warfare comes in here. As was demonstrated in World War II, bombs of the V-1 and V-2 type can be hurled a short distance—across the English Channel—to blanket a massive target such as London.

The moral—tthe desperately urgent moral—is that the political conquest of Europe must be prevented. To dislodge the Soviet glacier once it had slid into place would cost an infinity of lives and treasure. Such an effort would take far longer than four years, and the cost of World War II would be small in comparison.

The realities of power, including air power, are essential to halt the march of communism. Military power is one essential. But there is a lot of difference between reports outlining what should be done and getting down to doing it. The congressional study is the second report in recent weeks on air power, the first one being the Finletter report. The net effect of these reports sometimes seems to be a kind of Buck Rogers arithmetic sprayed into the headlines. The Congressional Aviation Policy Board proposed ultimately spending 10 billion dollars a year on aviation to build up a force of 35,000 planes.

Senator Robert A. Taft's prompt response was to say that he was for, maybe, an extra billion for the Air Force. But it would have to come out of the money allocated to universal military training and other military purposes. This at a moment when our military manpower is 100,000 under minimum needs.

We can be sure of one thing—the fantasy of push-button warfare may deceive us but it does not fool the ruthless men who guide world communism.

U. S. Rejects Plea to Consult On Germany

The United States yesterday turned down a joint request of Poland, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia for consultation on American policies in Germany.

Identical notes were sent by Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett to the embassies of the three Soviet satellites. Since Russia had supported their request, copies also were furnished to the Soviet Embassy.

The request of the three governments was based on a resolution adopted by their Foreign Ministers February 18 at Prague. This resolution took exception to the policies of the United States, Britain and France in reconstruction of western Germany.

Lovett's note was brief and to the point. After the usual reference to the joint resolution of protest, filed with the State Department February 23, it said:

"I have the honor to inform you that this resolution contains so many statements which are not in accordance with the facts that discussion of its contents would serve no useful purpose."

Ironically enough, the note to Czechoslovakia was addressed to Dr. Juraj Slavik as ambassador of that country. Slavik resigned March 3 in protest against Soviet seizure of his homeland but the State Department did not receive official notice in time to readdress its note.

The other notes were addressed to Ambassador Sava N. Kosanovik of Yugoslavia and Stefan Rogonzinski, Polish d'Affaires.

Christoffel Sentenced to 2 to 6 Years

Harold Christoffel, Milwaukee labor leader who was convicted of perjury because he swore he was not a Communist, was given a two-to-six-year prison sentence yesterday. His lawyers said they would carry the case to the Supreme Court if necessary.

Christoffel was convicted by a Federal District Court jury Wednesday, on charges that he lied about his Communist connections to the House Labor Committee last March.

Federal District Court Judge Edward M. Curran imposed the sentence.

Judge Curran said the sentence was based on the indictment as a whole and not upon the separate counts on which Christoffel was convicted. He could have been given a 2-to-10-year sentence on each of five counts.

O. John Rogge, Christoffel's defense counsel, said he would carry the case to the United States Court of Appeals and then to the Supreme Court if necessary.

Christoffel did not take the stand in his own defense. Only six defense witnesses were called, and all testified that his reputation for honesty was "good."

Louis F. Budenz, former Communist and former managing editor of the Daily Worker, said Christoffel was a Communist.

Christoffel told the House Committee he was not and never had been. He was former president of Union Local 248, United Auto Workers, CIO, at the Milwaukee Allis-Chalmers plant.

Time for ERP Passage Short, Marshall Says

Secretary of State Marshall yesterday warned that time for aiding Europe was rapidly running out.

His comment was delivered to a conference called by the Committee for the Marshall Plan, attended by more than 100 prominent business, civic, and educational leaders.

He spoke to them off the record, but later in the day William L. Clayton, former Undersecretary of State, quoted him as having said that time was running out, and that speed of action in affording aid was of the essence.

Clayton, taking part in a panel discussion, declared that there was no assurance of certain success in the European Recovery Program.

But in the alternative, "which is doing nothing," Clayton said, there were no risks—only the "absolute certainty that every country in western Europe will in time lose its independence and integrity."

Action on ERP Alone Urged

The conference, assembled to discuss the ERP and rally support behind it, took only one piece of formal action. By unanimous vote, it passed a resolution urging the House Foreign Affairs Committee to separate from its consideration of European Recovery Plans the other foreign aid programs now pending.

"Since time is of such vital importance," the resolution urged that the House take as its basis for legislation the bill now pending in the Senate, "thus giving the two houses a common denominator."

Other speakers included Senators Baldwin (R., Conn.), Flanders (R., Vt.), former Senator Robert LaFollette, Representatives Douglas (D., Calif.), Mansfield (D., Mont.), and Javits (R., N. Y.).

Richard M. Bissel, jr., who served as secretary of the Harriman Committee which drafted an economic study on the ERP, told the group that no one could plan with certainty on the amount of aid needed.

A good European harvest could reduce the amount of American assistance by as much as two billion dollars a year, he said. On the other hand, he added, if the Communists undertake to "sabotage" the program, it might cost that much more a year to carry it through.

New Mexico Woman Wins 'Queen' Contest

Hollywood, March 5 (AP).—Mrs. Edgar Parrett of Shiprock, N. Mex., a tiny hamlet on the Navajo Indian reservation, was named the winner today in the mother-in-law contest on "Queen for a Day" radio program, winning prizes valued at upward of $35,000.

Mrs. Parrett's name was one of three million submitted by listeners.

Her prizes include an automobile, a trailer, a home full of gifts, a freezer stuffed with food, a complete wardrobe, with a $1000 Persian lamb coat, and a two-week trip to New York City, the Vermont Mountains and Bermuda.

Phone Head Is Chosen to Plan Civil Defense for Atomic War

By John G. Norris
Post Reporter

Secretary of Defense James V. Forrestal yesterday named Russell J. Hopley, of Omaha, to head a new civil defense unit established to meet the threat of an atomic war.

Hopley is president of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. and a communications expert of 33 years' experience. He will take over the new post March 22 on leave from his company.

The unit will serve as a planning group to draft a blueprint for a permanent, Nation-wide civil defense organization, operating on a national, regional, State and local basis. It will prepare legislation for the permanent setup.

Meanwhile, the Air Force announced the reassignment of four of its generals. Maj. Gen. Thomas J. Hanley, jr., now commander of the Eleventh Air Force, will become chief of military personnel procurement—the Army-Air Force recruiting agency.

Maj. Gen. Charles W. Lawrence, deputy commander and chief of staff of the air training command at Belleville, Ill. was named commander of Keesler Air Base, Biloxi, Miss. Brig. Gen. Edward W. Anderson, present commander of Keesler, will succeed Lawrence at Belleville.

Brig. Gen. Edmund C. Lynch, commander of the Aleutian sector of the Alaskan Department, will report to USAF Headquarters here as assistant comptroller.

Hawkes Quits Race With Blast At Jersey 'Rule or Ruin' Group

Senator Hawkes (R., N. J.) withdrew yesterday as a candidate for renomination.

He issued a statement saying:

"Governor Alfred E. Driscoll, Senator Smith (R., N. J.) and Robert C. Hendrickson, supplemented by their man Friday, Lloyd Marsh, the little political boss from Passaic County, have formed a south Jersey coalition in an attempt to rule or ruin the State."

"If these New Deal Republicans are successful in their scheme to take over both U. S. senatorial posts," he said, "they will have a stranglehold on the party.

"Then through their patronage, both State and Federal, they will have political boss control of the State for years to come. I do not believe in bossism, whether it be a Boss Hague, a Boss Pendergast, a Boss Kelly or a Boss Driscoll."

Harry C. Harper, State labor commissioner and former big-league baseball player, and Hendrickson, with the backing of the forces headed by Driscoll and Marsh, State GOP chairman, now are campaigning against each other.

The New Jersey primary will be held April 20.

Hawkes said that to be successful "against Boss Driscoll and his powerful patronage under the new State constitution" he would have to spend all of his time campaigning.

Charges of Hawkes 'False,' Driscoll Says

Trenton, N. J., March 5 (U.P.)—Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll snapped back at Senator Albert W. Hawkes (R., N. J. today and termed "patently false" the Senator's charges that he was a boss who wanted to rule or ruin New Jersey."

"It is to be regretted," Driscoll replied, "that the opposition to Hendrickson (State Treasurer Robert G. Hendrickson, a candidate for Hawkes' Senate seat) has chosen to ignore the tragically important issues confronting the Nation and the world and has elected to dwell on the minor issue of geographical location."

Truman Shifts Athens Envoy To End Rift

By the United Press

President Truman settled long-standing differences between American officials in Greece yesterday by transferring Lincoln MacVeagh from his post as United States Ambassador to Greece.

MacVeagh had been at odds with Dwight Griswold, chief of the American aid mission in Athens, over administration of the 300 million dollars military-economic program there.

White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said MacVeagh, who had been ambassador to Greece since November, 1943, would be reassigned as ambassador to Portugal, subject to Senate confirmation.

In Portugal, he will replace Ambassador John C. Wiley, who has been shifted to Iran.

MacVeagh has been in the United States since last September, undergoing medical treatment, and there had been reports that he would not return to Athens.

Ross said he did not know who would succeed him in Greece.

In the absence of the ambassador, Griswold was expected to be given a freer hand in directing the Greek aid program.

President Asks Congress to End WAA June 30

President Truman asked Congress yesterday to wind up the War Assets Administration June 30.

The disposal of remaining domestic surplus war property would be transferred to the Federal Works Agency.

Of the original 40 billion dollars worth of surplus property, about $5,400,000,000 will remain to be disposed of at home by June 30.

The 600-million-dollar worth left to be sold abroad by that date would be transferred from the State Department to the owning agencies for handling. These agencies primarily are the Army and Navy Departments.

Mr. Truman also recommended that Government procurement and disposal functions be consolidated by transferring the Bureau of Federal Supply to the Works Agency.

Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt To Appear in N. Y. Play

New York, March 5 (AP).—Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt, the movies' Faye Emerson, is going to appear on Broadway for the first time in her acting career. Miss Emerson said she would play the part of a musical comedy prima donna in a revival of "The Play is the Thing" starring Louis Calhern.

The show goes into rehearsal March 8 and will begin a road tour of New Haven, Baltimore, and Washington April 1.

B'nai B'rith Argo Lodge Elects Wender President

Harry S. Wender, Washington attorney, has been elected president of Argo Lodge, No. 413, B'nai B'rith.

Wender

Wender, who is chairman of the District Recreation Board and general counsel of the American Foundation for the Physically Handicapped, has been a member of the lodge for the past 19 years. He lives at 6432 31st pl. nw.

Other officers elected were: Harry Wechsler, first vice president; Abraham Waronoff, second vice president; Charles Kotzin, warden; Kenneth Bennett, guardian; Frank Paley, chaplain; Norman G. Cohen, assistant monitor; Henry Salus, treasurer; S. David Rubenstein, secretary; and Morris Gewirz, Bernard Fischgrund and Dr. A. Harry Ostrow, trustees.

No War Prospect Now Seen by Beaverbrook

New York, March 5 (U.P.).—Lord Beaverbrook, British publisher, said today he did not think war was imminent.

"I see no prospect of war while the United States has an aircraft carrier at Istanbul and a much finer aircraft carrier in the land mass of the British Isles," Beaverbrook said. "Britain is the best of all aircraft carriers."

Beaverbrook, who opposed the United States loan to Britain, said the European Recovery Program would be a "fine thing for Europe."

Group Named to Suggest New Motor Vehicle Signal Laws

A subcommittee of the Commissioners' Traffic Advisory Board was put to work yesterday to suggest changes in the District's present loose laws governing signal devices on motor vehicles.

The nine-man group was named after widely divergent views on the subject were aired by truck owners, transportation officials and Government representatives at a hearing before the board's committee on law and legislation.

Under consideration is possible legislation that may require all new vehicles operated in the District after a certain date to be equipped with an electrical device to signal turns. The present law calls for hand signals, but requires a mechanical or electrical device on vehicles so constructed as to obscure hand signals from the view of other drivers.

The new subcommittee, which will meet next Friday in Room 1008, Municipal Center, is composed of Charles W. Reed, supervising inspector of vehicles; Harry Kane, attorney for the Kane Transfer Co.; J. D. Weymer of the Safeway Stores; P. C. Bowie, drayage firm owner; Thomas W. Bishton, assistant superintendent of the City Refuse Division; Fred A. Sager, Public Utilities Commission chief engineer; Ralph T. Powell, Capital Transit Co.; John H. King, Automobile Manufacturers Association, and Leo R. Dillon, of Creel Brothers, Inc., automobile electrical service.

8 Witnesses Are Listed For Best Treason Trial

Boston, March 5 (AP).—Robert Best will face at least eight German and Austrian witnesses when his treason trial begins March 29.

Flown from Frankfurt, Germany, they are expected to arrive at New York, March 14.

Synthetic Fuel Bill Goes to White House

Congress sent to the White House yesterday a bill providing 30 million dollars for development of synthetic fuels.

The Senate completed action on the measure by accepting House amendments. One of these would limit to one million dollars the amount spent on developing so-called stripper oil fields.

Five-Hour Attack by Malone Ends Week's Debate on ERP

By Ferdinand Kuhn, Jr.
Post Reporter

For five hours yesterday Senator George W. Malone of Nevada held the floor of the Senate with a bitter attack on the European Recovery Program and the entire foreign policy of the United States.

The Senate thus ended its first week of debate on ERP without having voted on any of the dozen amendments already submitted. Leaders of the bill doubted last night whether a final vote could be reached by the end of next week, as they had hoped.

The timetable set by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg contemplated a Senate vote by March 15, and the full approval of both houses by April 1, when existing foreign aid funds expire. But many Senators have asked to be heard with set speeches next week, including two bitter opponents, Senators Langer of North Dakota and Taylor of Idaho.

House To Wait For Senate

Moreover, the House Foreign Affairs Committee decided yesterday to await a Senate vote before reporting its own bill to the House. This, too, threatened to spin out the time needed for a final decision.

Malone had the support of a little knot of Republican Senators as he hammered away against ERP. Among the Senators who expressed hostility to some or all of the program were Jenner of Indiana, Revercomb of West Virginia, Hawkes of New Jersey and Kem of Missouri, with Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts bearing the brunt of rebuttal all day.

Senator Vandenberg, the sponsor of the bill, listened for part of the time but took no part in the debate, as if determined not to say anything until the voting on amendments began. The Democratic side was almost empty most of the afternoon.

Fear Benefit to Russia

The dissident Republicans again concentrated their fire, as they did on Thursday, on the alleged prospect that American aid to western Europe would build up Russia and her satellites.

Malone charged that Belgium had committed herself to ship 50,000 tons of steel to Russia under a trade agreement, and Revercomb chimed in to say that the recent Anglo-Russian trade agreement would send British steel to Russia as well.

Senator Joseph H. Ball (R., Minn.) thought such a shipment by Belgium would be "completely inconsistent with the purpose of a bill to check Communism." Several Senators argued that all such trade agreements with Russia would have to be abrogated as a prior condition of getting American aid.

Lodge Defends Trade

Lodge, replying to them, said the administrator of the program "would be guilty of treason if he allowed aid under this bill to be used for purposes contrary to the interests of the United States." But he asserted the United States was already getting valuable manganese and chrome from Russia, and that under certain circumstances increased east-west trade in Europe would help win "this subversive war."

During his five hours Malone called the Marshall Plan "the most amazingly brazen and preposterous scheme for a world-wide redistribution of wealth that has yet been proposed, even by the socialistic European governments, to level our living standard down to their own."

Would Feed Hungry

In place of it he would have the United States feed the hungry, use private capital for industrial rehabilitation, and extend the Monroe Doctrine to whatever European or Asiatic countries were vital to American safety.

Apart from trade with Russia, two other subjects disturbed the opposition Republicans yesterday. One was the Socialism of European governments, which Jenner and Malone declared was different from communism.

The other subject that stirred them was the country-by-country breakdown submitted by the State Department last month after insistent requests from Senate committees. The department was careful to label these as "illustrative" figures rather than as precise promises of what each of the 16 countries would get from the United States, but the Republican objectors went on talking of them as promises.

Precise Allocations Seen

Senator Lodge was so aroused that he shouted there was "no moral commitment, no immoral commitment, not a scintilla or speck of a promise" in the figures. Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican whip, warned, however, that the Appropriations Committee would insist on precise country-by-country allocations before voting any funds for the program.

On the House side, the Harter committee issued a report predicting that east-west trade in Europe would be smaller than before the war. It said Russia was determined to have her satellites build up heavy industries which could switch quickly to making "military goods."

It accused Russia of "plundering" her satellites, but added that eastern Europe was unlikely to "withdraw completely into itself" in its trade relations.

Synthetic Rubber Bill Passes House

The House passed unanimously yesterday legislation extending Government control of the synthetic rubber industry at least until June 30, 1950. Present controls expire March 31.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate, would require the Government to maintain a total production capacity of 675,000 tons a year. Manufacturers of rubber goods would have to use at least 225,000 tons of synthetic rubber a year.

Rabbit and hat!

The man in the street associates "rabbit and hat" with a magician. Not the hat man! For him the fur of the rabbit is the raw material from which he makes felt hats. ¶Not just any kind of rabbit provides fur for fine felt hats. Only careful selection of fur, even from special parts of individual rabbits, is the basis of quality. ¶Some hat makers who do not have mass production are meticulous about every ounce of fur they use . . . so we select only the fine American brands like Dobbs, import Lock hats from England and Borsalinos from Italy.

Greece Gives Bishop Oxnam Medal for Aiding Its Children

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, Methodist administrator for the New York area, received the Cross of the Grand Commanders of the Royal Order of Phoenix, one of the highest decorations of the Greek government, at a ceremony in the Greek Embassy here yesterday.

Greek Ambassador Vassili Dendramis, who presented the decoration, said it was being conferred on behalf of the late King George II for Bishop Oxnam's "lively interest in the Orthodox Church and the welfare of Greek children." Both, he remarked, are matters "close to our hearts."

The Ambassador recalled the bishop's visit to Greece in 1945, following that nation's liberation from the Nazis. Bishop Oxnam, at that time president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, on his return led a drive which raised $25,000 for the welfare of Greek children.

Accompanying Bishop Oxnam were Mrs. Oxnam, Bishop Charles Wesley Flint, Methodist leader for the Washington and Baltimore area, and Mrs. Flint. The ceremony was also attended by Mme. Dendramis, Archbishop Athenagoras of New York, Greek Orthodox Church leader for North and South America; Embassy Counselor Paul Economou-Guras, Admiral Leon Kalergis, naval attache, and Mme. Kalergis; the Rev. A. Laloussis, pastor of St. Sophia Church; the Rev. Thomas Daniels, pastor of St. Constantine Church, and members of the Embassy staff.

Baron Offers Services to Church Group

By Robert Tate Allan
Post Reporter

An American-born member of the German nobility, whose family opposed Hitler, has offered his services to the National Committee for Christian Leadership.

He is 42-year-old Baron Frary von Blomberg, formerly of East Lynn, Mass.

As 17-year-old William Frary, the present baron was adopted by the Von Blomberg family in 1923, and studied international relations at Harvard University. His foster-mother's cousin, the late Gen. Werner von Blomberg, was German War Minister from 1933 to 1938. From 1934 to 1939, the baron lived in the former Kaiser's castle at Doorn, Holland.

Fifteen years ago, Baron von Blomberg became acquainted with Abraham Vereide, now executive director of the National Committee for Christian Leadership, an organization that sponsors inspirational meetings for Congressmen and other laymen's groups.

Baron von Blomberg, who is reported to have independent means, was deeply interested in international relations while living in Germany. He will serve through the National Committee's headquarters at 2324 Massachusetts ave. nw. He flew this week to Houston, Tex., to address laymen's meetings.

Communist infiltration is hampering the work of the Pocket Testament League in China, according to Glenn Wagner of Washington.

In a letter reaching this department, the former president of the Washington Bible Institute states it is "a matter of time before the Communists will reach Kaifeng.

"We are sending out 100 pounds of surplus clothes on this plane to have something to fall back on if we get cleaned out by the Reds," Warner writes.

He is a member of Wallace Memorial United Presbyterian Church, New Hampshire ave. and Randolph sts. nw., and has been in China for several years representing the Pocket Testament League. His wife and children live at 4821 Leland st., Chevy Chase.

ERP Meeting Will Be Held In Cathedral

Secretary of State Marshall and other notables will participate in a meeting on "The Churches and the European Recovery Plan," next Thursday at 8 p. m. at the Washington Cathedral.

It will be sponsored by the Federal Council of Churches and the Washington Federation of Churches, and is "to demonstrate the concern of the church people for the constructive principles essential to the success of the European recovery effort."

Principal speakers will be John Foster Dulles, chairman of the policy committee of the Federal Council's department of international justice and goodwill, and Bishop Angus Dun of the Washington Episcopal Diocese. Presiding officer will be Bishop John S. Stamm, Federal Council vice president and prelate of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Charles P. Taft, president of the Federal Council of Churches, has invited leading churchmen, Congressmen, Cabinet members, Supreme Court justices and other dignitaries to attend. Moderators of leading Protestant bodies will participate in the procession. The Cathedral Choir of men and boys, directed by Organist Paul Callaway, will sing.

Willingham Announces Fund Drive

A $150,000 building improvement program will be launched soon by the National Baptist Memorial Church, Dr. Edward B. Willingham, pastor, announced this week.

A committee will be appointed to supervise the fund raising, which might include borrowing "some money" since "very little is now available," Dr. Willingham said. The church is at 16th st. and Columbia rd. nw.

Included in the project will be renovation of the auditorium to increase its seating capacity from about 1500 to 1700 or 1800 persons. Indirect lighting and a public address system will also be installed, and the roof will be repaired.

In addition, he said, the entire building will be painted and redecorated, an air-conditioning unit will be installed, and a movie projector and screen will be purchased.

Instrumental in drawing up the program, Dr. Willingham said, were E. H. DeGroot, jr., chairman of the board of deacons; J. A. Jones, chairman of the standing committee, and Carl Thye, chairman of the building improvement committee.

Dr. Hastings Returns From Nebraska Today

Dr. J. Warren Hastings, pastor of National City Christian Church, Thomas Circle, will return today from preaching engagements in Lincoln, Nebr. He will speak tomorrow at 10:50 a. m. on "Father, Forgive." The Rev. Thomas M. Steen of the Federation of Churches will address the Lenten School of Christian Living tomorrow at 7 p. m. in the social hall, 1308 Vermont ave. nw.

Pastor, Back From Prague, Convinced Soviet Wants World

Dr. A. Powell Davies, minister of All Souls (Unitarian) Church here, on return from Czechoslovakia yesterday said he was convinced Russia "wants the world."

With passionate sincerity, he urged:

1. Universal military training.
2. Continued U. S. military occupation of Germany for 25 to 50 years to let European neighbors know that Germany will not regain military power, or Russia be allowed to move in.
3. Strengthening of economic and political aid to Europe with immediate military aid, "at once, if it is peace we want."
4. Acceptance of the idea that the Marshall Plan is only a beginning, and that America should continue to build up a "firm and effective" policy abroad.

Dr. Davies said he was in Prague from Tuesday to Friday last week, when the Communists took over the government. Before he left, he said, the headwaiter at his hotel, a Communist, had taken over the hostelry.

"If the American people don't realize what Communism means now, they never will," said Dr. Davies. "The clock is ticking, and it won't be long before we come to the showdown."

There was no violence, no shooting in the Communist seizure, he said, adding that the Czechs "didn't know what was going on." But, he said, by the time he left, bewilderment had given way to "fear, and a sense of repressed panic."

Dr. Davies was in Europe to inspect the work of the Unitarian Service Committee in rehabilitation of warspent areas.

Dr. Jones Speaker At Sunrise Service

Jones.

Dr. Edgar DeWitt Jones of Detroit, Mich., will address the seventh annual Easter sunrise service of the D. C. Organized Bible Class Association, March 28 at 5:25 a. m. at Fort Lincoln Heights, Bladensburg rd. and the District line.

Dr. Jones is author of the syndicated column, "Successful Living"; former pastor of Detroit's Central Woodward Christian Church; one-time editorial writer on the Detroit News; former president of the Federal Council of Churches and of the Detroit Council of Churches.

Dr. J. R. Sizoo Lenten Speaker at Epiphany Church

Sizoo

Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, noted clergyman, will speak at Lenten services Monday through Wednesday at 12 noon at Epiphany Episcopal Church, 1317 G st. nw.

He was formerly pastor of New York Avenue Presbyterian Church here and of the Reformed Church in America. Before assuming his present position as president of New Brunswick (N. J.) Theological Seminary, he was pastor of St. Nicholas' Collegiate Church, New York City.

Dr. Richard Greeley Preston, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Worcester, Mass., will speak at Epiphany Church on Wednesday at 5:30 p. m.

Navy Chorus to Sing

The National Navy Medical Center Choral Society will sing tomorrow at 8 p. m. at Eldbrooke Methodist Church, River rd. and Wisconsin ave. nw.

War Victim Fund Sought

Parishioners of 82 Catholic churches and missions of the Washington Archdiocese will be urged at tomorrow's masses to support the Bishops' Fund for Victims of War.

It will be the first such appeal since the Most Rev. Patrick A. O'Boyle became head of the Washington Archdiocese. He was formerly national director of Catholic war relief work.

The Archdiocesan quota for the drive will be $60,000. The national goal is five million dollars. Heading the committee of priests for the Washington Archdiocesan campaign are the Rev. E. Jerome Winter, rector of St. Stephen's Church, director, and the Rev. Lawrence P. Gatti, assistant pastor of St. Stephen's, secretary.

To Show 'Passion Play'

A film, "The Passion Play," will be shown in St. Stephen's Parochial school hall, 24th and K sts. nw., tomorrow at 1:30 p. m., 4 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. Admission will be 50 cents. The scenes were filmed in the Holy Land.

Luther Place Jubilee Services

Rasmussen

Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen, professor of systematic theology at Gettysburg (Pa.) Theological Seminary, will address diamond jubilee services tomorrow at 11 a. m. at Luther Place Memorial Church, Thomas Circle.

Dr. Rasmussen was pastor of Luther Place Church from 1930 to 1940. The Muhlenburg Press soon will release a book by him on "Postwar Scandinavia."

Luther Place Church was formally organized March 11, 1873, but the congregation actually existed several years before its charter was adopted. The congregation was organized by the late Dr. John G. Butler, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church during the Civil War. It was his dream that Luther Place Church should be a memorial "to the goodness of God in freeing our country from slavery and from civil war."

Rev. T. R. Meyer To Be Installed

The Rev. T. Rene Meyer, formerly of Zelienople, Pa., tomorrow at 4 p. m. will be inducted as pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, 15th st. and Kentucky ave. se. His father, Dr. Frederick H. Meyer, of New York City, will preach the installation sermon. Mr. Meyer succeeds Dr. Bernard Holm, who recently resigned to become president of Wartburg Theological Seminary, an American Lutheran Synod institution at Dubuque, Iowa.

Episcopal Drive Halfway to Goal

More than one half of the Washington quota of $30,000 has been raised in the Episcopal Presiding Bishop's drive for world relief funds, the Diocesan headquarters announced last night.

Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill appealed for support of the drive in a radio address last Sunday. St. Thomas' Church exceeded its $1000 quota by $200 and St. Margaret's Church oversubscribed its $1334 quota. The Washington Cathedral has raised $1900 to date. Three million dollars is the national goal.

Baptist Parley Salted Monday

The Baptist Convention of the District of Columbia and vicinity, comprising Negro churches, will meet Monday at 12 p. m. at Mount Gilead Baptist Church, 13th and Corcoran sts. nw. Meeting simultaneously will be the Baptist (Negro) Ministers' Conference of Washington. The Rev. W. L. Turley will be host pastor. Dr. W. H. Jernagin will lead a rally for the Baptist Seminary, of which he is chairman of the board of trustees.

Morality Play To Be Presented

"Everyman," the famous Sixteenth Century morality play, will be presented for the second consecutive Lenten season at 8 p. m. on March 17 at St. Margaret's Episcopal Church, Connecticut ave. and Bancroft pl. nw.

George Vivian, a Washingtonian with Broadway stage experience, will again be seen in the title role of "Everyman."

JONAH'S PREACHING MOVES THE KING AND PEOPLE OF NINEVEH TO REPENT

BY MRS. MARY E. MICHAUX

And the Word of the Lord came unto Jonah the second time, saying, "Arise, go unto Nineveh, that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee."

So Jonah arose and went unto Nineveh according to the Word of the Lord. Now Nineveh was an exceeding great city of three days' journey. And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey and cried, and said, "Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown."—Jon. 3:1-4.

So the people of Nineveh believed God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth from the greatest of them even to the least of them. For word came unto the King of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes . . . And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God repented of the evil that He would do unto them; and he did it not.—Jon. 3:5, 6, 10.

Now may God help us during this tribulation period to govern ourselves accordingly, as Jonah and the people of Nineveh did when God commanded him to go to Nineveh and cry against the sins of Nineveh. If they had not repented, truly Nineveh would have been overthrown and all the people therein destroyed: but Jonah, the servant of God, being obedient after God had chastened him for his disobedience, and the people which he preached to having governed themselves accordingly—as God had commanded them through Jonah, the city was saved and the people also.

Now nothing will turn away God's wrath but obedience to Him only. Not only did Got get sick and tired of the rebellion of one city of people, but He also got tired of the sins of the whole world, the old world, which was destroyed by water.

May God help us to govern ourselves according to Joel, 2nd and 3rd chapters, which read as follows:

JOEL 2ND CHAPTER

BLOW YE THE TRUMPET IN ZION, AND SOUND AN ALARM IN MY HOLY MOUNTAIN: LET ALL THE INHABITANTS OF THE LAND TREMBLE: FOR THE DAY OF THE LORD COMETH, FOR IT IS NIGH AT HAND;
A DAY OF DARKNESS AND OF GLOOMINESS, A DAY OF CLOUDS AND OF THICK DARKNESS, AS THE MORNING SPREAD UPON THE MOUNTAINS: A GREAT PEOPLE AND A STRONG; THERE HATH NOT BEEN EVER THE LIKE, NEITHER SHALL BE ANY MORE AFTER IT, EVEN TO THE YEARS OF MANY GENERATIONS.
A FIRE DEVOURETH BEFORE THEM; AND BEHIND THEM A FLAME BURNETH: THE LAND IS AS THE GARDEN OF EDEN BEFORE THEM, AND BEHIND THEM A DESOLATE WILDERNESS; YEA, AND NOTHING SHALL ESCAPE THEM.
THE APPEARANCE OF THEM IS AS THE APPEARANCE OF HORSES; AND AS HORSEMEN, SO SHALL THEY RUN.
LIKE THE NOISE OF CHARIOTS ON THE TOPS OF MOUNTAINS SHALL THEY LEAP, LIKE THE NOISE AF A FLAME OF FIRE THAT DEVOURETH THE STUBBLE, AS A STRONG PEOPLE SET IN BATTLE ARRAY.
BEFORE THEIR FACE THE PEOPLE SHALL BE MUCH PAINED: ALL FACES SHALL GATHER BLACKNESS.
THEY SHALL RUN LIKE MIGHTY MEN; THEY SHALL CLIMB THE WALL LIKE MEN OF WAR; AND THEY SHALL MARCH EVERY ONE ON HIS WAYS, AND THEY SHALL NOT BREAK THEIR RANKS:
NEITHER SHALL ONE THRUST ANOTHER; THEY SHALL WALK EVERY ONE IN HIS PATH: AND WHEN THEY FALL UPON THE SWORD, THEY SHALL NOT BE WOUNDED.
THEY SHALL RUN TO AND FRO IN THE CITY; THEY SHALL RUN UPON THE WALL, THEY SHALL CLIMB UP UPON THE HOUSES, THEY SHALL ENTER IN AT THE WINDOWS LIKE A THIEF.
THE EARTH SHALL QUAKE BEFORE THEM; THE HEAVENS SHALL TREMBLE: THE SUN AND THE MOON SHALL BE DARK, AND THE STARS SHALL WITHDRAW THEIR SHINING:
AND THE LORD SHALL UTTER HIS VOICE BEFORE HIS ARMY: FOR HIS CAMP IS VERY GREAT: FOR HE IS STRONG THAT EXECUTETH HIS WORD: FOR THE DAY OF THE LORD IS GREAT AND VERY TERRIBLE AND WHO CAN ABIDE IT?
THEREFORE ALSO NOW, SAITH THE LORD, TURN YE EVEN TO ME WITH ALL YOUR HEART, AND WITH FASTING, AND WITH WEEPING, AND WITH MOURNING:
AND REND YOUR HEART, AND NOT YOUR GARMENTS, AND TURN UNTO THE LORD YOUR GOD: FOR HE IS GRACIOUS AND MERCIFUL, SLOW TO ANGER, AND OF GREAT KINDNESS, AND REPENTETH HIM OF THE EVIL.
WHO KNOWETH IF HE WILL RETURN AND REPENT, AND LEAVE A BLESSING BEHIND HIM; EVEN A MEAT OFFERING AND A DRINK OFFERING UNTO THE LORD YOUR GOD?
BLOW YE THE THUMPET IN ZION, SANCTIFY A FAST, CALL A SOLEMN ASSEMBLY:
GATHER THE PEOPLE, SANCTIFY THE CONGREGATION, ASSEMBLE THE ELDERS, GATHER THE CHILDREN, AND THOSE THAT SUCK THE BREASTS: LET THE BRIDEGROOM GO FORTH OF HIS CHAMBER, AND THE BRIDE OUT OF HER CLOSET.
LET THE PRIESTS, THE MINISTERS OF THE LORD, WEEP BETWEEN THE PORCH AND THE ALTAR, AND LET THEM SAY, SPARE THY PEOPLE, O LORD, AND GIVE NOT THINE HERITAGE TO REPROACH, THAT THE HEATHEN SHOULD RULE OVER THEM: WHEREFORE SHOULD THEY SAY AMONG THE PEOPLE, WHERE IS THEIR GOD?
THEN WILL THE LORD BE JEALOUS FOR HIS LAND, AND PIT HIS PEOPLE.
YEA, THE LORD WILL ANSWER AND SAY UNTO HIS PEOPLE, BEHOLD I WILL SEND YOU CORN, AND WINE, AND OIL, AND YE SHALL BE SATISFIED THEREWITH: AND I WILL NO MORE MAKE YOU A REPROACH AMONG THE HEATHEN:
BUT I WILL REMOVE FAR OFF FROM YOU THE NORTHERN ARMY, AND WILL DRIVE HIM INTO A LAND BARREN AND DESOLATE, WITH HIS FACE TOWARD THE EAST SEA, AND HIS HINDER PART TOWARD THE UTMOST SEA, AND HIS STINK SHALL COME UP, AND HIS ILL SAVOUR SHALL COME UP, BECAUSE HE HATH DONE GREAT THINGS.
FEAR NOT, O LAND; BE GLAD AND REJOICE: FOR THE LORD WILL DO GREAT THINGS.
BE YE NOT AFRAID, YE BEASTS OF THE FIELD: FOR THE PASTURES OF THE WILDERNESS DO SPRING, FOR THE TREE BEARETH HER FRUIT, THE FIG TREE AND THE VINE DO YIELD THEIR STRENGTH.
BE GLAD THEN, YE CHILDREN OF ZION, AND REJOICE IN THE LORD YOUR GOD: FOR HE HATH GIVEN YOU THE FORMER RAIN MODERATELY, AND HE WILL CAUSE TO COME DOWN FOR YOU THE RAIN, THE FORMER RAIN, AND THE LATTER RAIN IN THE FIRST MONTH.
AND THE FLOORS SHALL BE FULL OF WHEAT, AND THE FATS SHALL OVERFLOW WITH WINE AND OIL.

This Morning

With Shirley Povich

ORLANDO, Fla., March 6.—On April 19, the big league clubs will start through the motions of the pennant races. Buck Newsom has already decided what the outcome will be. The Red Sox will beat out the Yankees in the American League and the Giants will win in the National League, if they add a pitcher of the caliber of Buck Newsom, or better still, sign Newsom in person. Presently, you know, he's unemployed.

POVICH

The Newsom rundown on the pennant races has been an annual feature of this column for the past several years. He is always very difficult to interview, you know. He persists in grabbing your ears and telling all the knows, willy nilly. Besides being a pretty good pitcher, he is The Voice. He talks from the experience of being with eight major league clubs in his time and he says he particularly knows managers.

He's picking the Red Sox to beat out the Yankees on account of Joe McCarthy, he says. McCarthy will be a 15-game improvement over Joe Cronin as manager, according to The Voice, who leaves no doubt of his high disrespect for Cronin, who fired him once. "They've finally got Poppa Joe up in the business office where he belongs—if there," says Bobo with a neat slip of the stilletto.

Anyway, the Yankee pitching is too much of a gamble. The fact that they no longer operate with the help of Newsom's genius is, of course, a factor. "But look at 'em," he says. "Chandler has a bum arm, may never win another game. Bevens has a sore arm, too. If Shea doesn't come through for 'em, they're in foul shape. I don't believe all that stuff about Lopat from the White Sox going to be a big winner for the Yanks."

Listen, he says, pitching for the Yanks ain't like pitching for the White Sox. "Sure, Lopat won 16 games for Chicago last season, but in Chicago they leave the pitchers in there all the way, and they have a chance to pull out those wins. But with Dressen and Harris on the Yankee bench, and Joe Page in the bullpen, Lopat's gonna be yanked the minute he gives up a couple of runs, and he won't get a shot at those wins."

Bob Kinder, from the Browns, is going to be the best pitcher the Red Sox have, Newsom figures. The Boston pitching isn't so hot, either, but with Boston it's different. "All that power the Red Sox have is wonderful," says Newsom. "They don't need as much pitching. A pitcher can average five runs a game and still win for the Red Sox."

JOE McCarthy hasn't any reason to worry about his Boston infield. Newsom says, what is he waiting for?—why doesn't he stop fooling around with those other guys and put Vernon Stephens on third base? If he moves Johnny Pesky from shortstop, McCarthy's crazy, says Buck. "Joe will come around to my way of thinking, wait and see," he says.

The club that could upset 'em would be the Cleveland Indians, opines Bobo. They're a fair outfit with pitching from Feller and Black and Lemon, and the best young outfielder in the business in Dale Mitchell. If they come up with Greenberg at first base, Bobo likes 'em even better than the Yankees. "And if Veeck thinks he has a chance to win it by midseason, watch him shoot the works and buy whatever he needs."

He likes the Cleveland coaching staff of Bill McKechnie and Muddy Ruel, "two smart guys." He never did care much for Rogers Hornsby, one of the managers who fired him, and he was talking about Veeck's hiring of Hornsby last season to teach Pat Seerey to hit. "Seerey's average last year was worse than ever, after he took lessons from The Rajah. He sure made a bum out of Hornsby.

NEWSOM RATES Detroit and the Athletics as the clubs with the best pitching, and he wouldn't be surprised if the A's is the best. "Look at those fellows they can throw at you—Marchildon, McCahan, Coleman, Fowler and Savage, with those rookies Connolly and Brissie. That Houtteman of Detroit is the best young one to come along, but maybe McCahan is just as good."

As for the Browns, Bobo sees no hope for them whatsoever. "Who does?" he says. "They traded off everybody except General Manager Bill DeWitt, which they should have traded. The Browns are a nice cushion for any clubs who are afraid of dropping into the cellar. I'm doubting if they win 50 ball games this year."

He has a kind word for the Washington club, which happens to be his landlord this spring while he is in training as a free agent. And he speaks discreetly of the Nats. "They got pitching. You never look too bad when you got pitching. They ain't gonna win no pennant, but they'll win a lot of ball games. Please print something nice about Clark Griffith, who's letting me train with 'em."

Lesnevich Stops Fox in First Round

By Jack Hand

New York, March 5 (AP).—Light-heavyweight Champion Gus Lesnevich handled Philadelphia Billy Fox like he owned him tonight, knocking out the challenger in 1:58 of the first round before a jam-packed Madison Square Garden mob. Lesnevich weighed 175 to 172¼ for Fox.

Six straight right hands to Fox's head sent him down for a count of six after a minute of fighting. He barely wobbled to his feet as the champion from Cliffside Park, N. J., tugged at Referee Frank Fullam trying to get at him.

Cagy Gus, now a two-fisted madman, suged over Fox and draped him across the bottom rope with another terrific right. Fox rolled to the canvas and was counted out for the second time in his life.

He had won his 50 previous fights, except for a kayo by Lesnevich, all by the knockout route. Ten years in the age bracket appeared to make no difference to Lesnevich, who may now chose to mingle exclusively with the heavyweights. He has held the crown since 1941, but never looked better than tonight.

After a few seconds of slow sparring, Gus staggered Fox with a right to the jaw. The 22-year-old lad backed away and slipped in retreat, falling on all fours. There was no count and he was soon back up there, facing those bombs the champ was pegging.

Jim Demaret, Hogan 4-Ball Choices Today

Miami, Fla., March 5 (AP).—A couple of transplanted Texans, Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret, are the big favorites as 32 of the world's top golf professionals prepare to tee off here tomorrow in the $10,000 Miami international four-ball tournament.

Hogan of Hershep, Pa., and Demaret of Ojai, Calif., have won the tournament the last two years. They are seeded No. 1 in the top bracket, and quoted at odds of 9-5.

The team of Dick Metz, Arkansas City, Kans., and Skip Alexander, Lexington, N. C., is on the bottom of the upper bracket and listed at 10-1.

The top of the lower bracket finds Bobby Locke of Johannesburg, South Africa, and Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., on the bottom is the team of Sammy Snead of Hot Springs, Va., and Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C., both teams are ranked second to Hogan-Demaret and quoted at odds of 7 to 2.

The tourney is a daily 36-hole affair, more or less. It will be played over the par 70, 6310-yard Miami Springs course which features handerchief-sized greens and requires the finest in approach shots.

Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif., and Ben Hogan, Hershey, Pa., vs. Ralph Guldahl, Chicago, and Jim Turnesa, White Plains, N. Y.

Ellsworth Vines, Denver, Colo., and Ed Furgol, Pontiac, Mich., vs. Norman von Nida, Sydney, Australia, and George Schoux, Mamaroneck, N. Y.

Tony Penna, Cincinnati, Ohio, and Claude Harmon, Mamaroneck, N. Y., vs. Fred Haas, Jr., New Orleans, and Dave Douglas, Southern Pines, N. C.

Lawson Little, Cleveland, and Lew Worsham, Washington, D. C., vs. Dick Metz, Arkansas City, Kans., and Skip Alexander, Southern Pines, N. C.

Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, South Africa, and Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., vs. Sam Byrd, Detroit, and Johnny Revolta, Evanston, Ill.

Jim Ferrier, San Francisco, and Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn., vs. Bob Hamilton, Reynolds Ky., and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Little Rock, Ark.

Vic Ghezzi, Kansas City, Kans., and Chick Harbert, Detroit, vs. Herman Keiser, Akron, Ohio, and Johnny Palmer, Badin, N. C.

Roberto De Vicenzo, Argentina, and Enrique Bertolino, Argentina, vs. Sam Snead, Hot Springs, Va., and Clayton Heafner, Charlotte, N. C.

Tennessee Gains SEC Semifinals

Louisville, Ky., March 5 (AP).—A new two-team scoring record for the Southeastern Conference basketball tournament was set here tonight as Tennessee advanced to the semifinals with an 81-62 victory over Mississippi.

The Vols joined Georgia Tech and Tulane, afternoon victors, in the semifinals.

Nats Unveil Two Rookie Sluggers (?)

By Shirley Povich
Post Reporter

Orlando, Fla., March 5.—Joe Cambria's secret squadron of young outfielders will be unveiled tomorrow and the Nats boses will stop their fretting about their outfield problems, says Cambria.

Scout Cambria is waiting in Orlando to welcome into the camp two young Texans about whom he has been babbling all winter, and his tales of their prowess have stirred a high curiosity, at least.

Their names are Dean Stafford and Larry Drake, both of them 200-pound giants whom Cambria signed out of the Big State League in Texas at the end of last season. One bats right, the other left, and between them they had 79 home-runs last year.

"This boy Stafford can't miss," Cambria proclaims. "He hit 40 homers for the Greenville, Tex., club last season, and he's only 23, even if the roster says he's 25. He does everything. The Athletics wanted to sign him after their scout told Connie Mack the boy was another Bob Johnson, but we beat 'em to it."

Drake? He's Great, Too

And about Drake? "Oh," says Cambria, "he's better than Stafford. He only hit 23 homers but he was shooting at a longer fence. He runs like the wind and he'll show this club the best throwing arm in the outfield.

"We took Stafford on a conditional basis. If we keep him we'll pay a good price for him, but Drake we bought outright."

Despite Cambria's touting of his outfielders, the Nats are more excited about their first look tomorrow at the young man who is supposed to do a whale of a job for them at second base—Al Kozar, the much-touted kid from New Orleans who batted .339 and came to Washington from the Red Sox in the Stan Spence deal.

There were other arrivals tonight—Clarence Difani, the rookie from Augusta, Ga., who is supposed to beat out Eddie Yost for the third base job; Eddie Lyons, up from Chattanooga and getting his fourth trial in a Washington training camp; Infielder Mark Christman, who has not yet come to terms with Clark Griffith, and Coach Nick Altrock.

Others Due Today

Christman will confer with Griffith tomorrow and is expected to settle a difference of $1500 in his asking price and what Griffith is offerng. Christman is balking at a cut in his $10,000 salary of last season.

Outfielders Tom McBride, Earl Wooten, and Leon Culberson, and Infielders Cal Irma and Eddie Yost are also due tomorrow . . . Mickey Vernon has been in Orlando for two weeks and will report for his first workout . . . Manager Joe Kuhel say the squad will play an intra-squad game this week before taking off to West Palm Beach where they meet the Athletics in three exhibitions . . . rain washed out this morning's workout after the 30 ball players had taken their lap around the park . . . Johnny Sullivan, tentatively assigned the regular shortstop job, underwent a hernia operation this winter and pronounces himself fit . . . The Nats have never had such a group of big young pitchers in camp. The young giants are Joe Jones with Orlando last year, 6 feet 3½ inches and weighing 175; Dick Weik, up from Chattanooga, who is 6 feet, 185; Earl Davis, 6 feet 2 inches and 190, and Bill Dozier, 6 feet 3 inches, 185.

Marjorie Sowder sank eight points to pace the Oxon Hill girls to an 18-10 victory over Marlboro girls last night on the winners' floor. It was the final game for the winners.

St. John's, Central Win, In Title Round

By Herb Heft
Post Reporter

Jimmy aPntos set a Metropolitan tournament scoring record of 31 points as he led Central's Vikings to a 61-58 victory over George Washington of Alexandria last night in the semifinals before 2245 fans at Ritchie Coliseum.

St. John's Cadets romped over Bethesda Chevy Chase, 55-30 in a preceding game, and gained the right to play entral in the finals tonight at 8:15 at Ritchie.

Pantos gave an indication that he was "right" in the first quarter when he threw in his field goals out of seven efforts.

He paced Central to a 19-8 lead in the first eight minutes, and the Vikings stayed on top the rest of the way. The closest G. W. could get was 23-20 in the second quarter, and 61-58 as the final gun sounded.

George Paces Cadets

In the first game, Bethesda couldn't cope with a St. John's offense and defense that clicked almost to perfection. The powerful Cadets rolled up a 30-10 lead in the first half as Jack George drilled in 17 points.

In the third quarter, the Cadets changed their tactics and put Tom Fannon in the pivot slot. Fannon flipped in seven points and St. Johns carried a 40-20 lead in the last period.

George and Fannon took scoring laurels with 18 and 12. Fred Genau and Ken Poerstel, scored seven each for Bethesda.

NAIB Lifts Racial Ban On Tourney

Kansas City, March 5 (AP).—The ban of Negro players participating in the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament was lifted today.

E. J. Liston, executive secretary of the NAIB, said the 11 executive committee members of the association, faced with the prospect of taking such action or losing a spot in the playoffs for an Olympic berth, voted in a telegraphic poll to delete the regulation.

Following the announcement, Manhattan College accepted designation as a New York-New Jersey District representative. Siena College had previously accepted with the priviso that the ban on Negroes be lifted.

Through neither school has Negroes on its team, both objected to the ban.

The committee's decision was reached as the 32-team bracket for next week's NIAB tournament here neared completion.

The regulation, Liston said, was one that did not reqquire a change in the by-laws or the constitution of the association. He said the matter was discussed at the annual meeting of the NINAB last year and was on the agenda of the opening executive meeting tomorrow night. The telegraphic poll, he added, was taken to expedite matters.

An eight-man tournament will be held in New York March 27, 29 and 31 to decide the United States representative to the Olympics. The two NCAA finalists, the winner of the New York National Invitational Tourney, the NAIB titlist, three AAU representatives and one YMCA club will make up the field.

N. Y. U. Picked For NIT Games

New York, March 5 (AP).—The eight-team field for the National Invitation Basketball tournament was complete today with acceptances from Depaul of Chicago, La Salle of Philadelphia, Bowling Green of Ohio and New York University.

The tournament, sponsored by the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Basketball Association, will be held at Madison Square Garden, March 11, 13, 15 and 17, with two games scheduled each night.

Other teams which accepted invitations previously are North Carolina State, Texas, St. Louis and Western Kentucky.

American U. Tops Randolph By 52 to 33

By Jack Walsh
Post Reporter

Baltimore, March 5.—American University, Washington's only successful tourney team, moved into the finals of the eighth annual Mason-Dixon Conference playoffs with an easy 52-33 victory over Randolph-Macon here tonight.

Randolph-Macon, which yesterday conquered Catholic U. to enter the semifinals, was so mystified by American's zone defense it didn't connect for its first field goal until 14 minutes had elapsed.

By that time, American had sprinted to a 12-2 lead and the outcome of the game was not in doubt thereafter. The Eagles used their regulars for little more than half the game.

Leading scorer for American was Center Leroy Ishman with 11 points.

Center Ken Holloway, who finally scored Randolph-Macon's first basket, went on to get three more and led the losers with 11 points.

The Eagles will meet the winner of tonight's Loyola-Johns Hopkins semifinal game in the championship tilt tomorrow night.

Durham, N. C., March 5.—Duke's second-half basketball team came through again tonight, defeating Davidson College, 53-37, to gain the finals of the Southern Conference basketball tournament.

Trailing by two points, 26-24, at half time, the Blue Devils bounced back with a 19-point performance to eliminate the team which yesterday sidelined Maryland.

It was the second straight evening that Duke overcame a halftime deficit to stay alive in the sixteenth annual show. Last night the Devils trailed George Washington by four points at halftime, but quickly overcame that disadvantage to send the Colonials home, 54-51.

Center Ben Collins, a 6-6 sophomore, led the Devils to their triumph tonight, pocketing 14 points of his 20 points in the second half.

Tommy Hughes, stocky Duke guard who last night set the stage for the Devils' upset of George Washington with an offensive burst just after intermission, again played a leading role in the victory over Davidson.

He held George Cheek, Davidson's All-Conference forward, to only 7 points. With Cheek halted, the Davidson attack wasn't much.

When he wasn't shooting, Collins was controlling both boards for unseeded Duke's passing off to Center Ceep Youmans, whose 15 points contributed materially to the Devils triumph.

In the second half of the semifinals, North Carolina was scheduled to meet North Carolina State, heavily favored to win. The victor will meet Duke for the title Saturday night. Duke has reached the final round in 13 of 20 tournaments.

Training Camp Briefs

Giles 'Persuades' Baumholtz To Stick to Baseball Career

Tampa, Fla., March 5 (AP).—The case of Frankie Baumholtz against two careers is at an end at last.

The Cincinnati Reds' young sophomore outfielder, who doubles in brass as an outstanding professional basketball player as well as a budding major league baseball tar, said today he has forsaken the court game for the diamond.

"I finally have become convinced the two sports don't mix," said the 28-year-old apple-cheeked flychaser from Midvale, Ohio. "From now on I will devote all my time to baseball—although it is not easy to pass up the $6000 or so I could get from playing basketball during the winter."

Baumholtz revealed that in addition to his regular contract, which is understood to call for about $8000 for 1948, the Reds are paying him for giving up basketball.

5 Nats Leave Here for Camp

Five members of the Nats left Washington last night to join the squad already in spring training at Orlando, Fla.

In the departing group were Outfielder Tom McBride and Infielder Eddie Yost, with the club last season, and Edward Drost, Calvin Ermer and Harold Keller, newcomers.

Drost, 20 years old, played second base for the Bridgeport, Conn., club in the class B Colonial League the last month of the 1947 season. That is the extent of his professional experience. He is a Baltimore high school and semipro product.

Ermer played second base and managed the Nats' farm club at Charlotte last season. He is 23 and this is his third season as property of the Nats. He batted .280 for Charlotte.

Keller is the 20-year old brother of Charley Keller, New York Yankee slugger. He stands 6 feet, 1 inch, weighs 195 pounds and looks as powerful as brother Charley, who is one of baseball's strongmen.

Keller played outfield at the University of Maryland in 1945. In the army last year and stationed in Korea, he switched over to catching and it is as a receiver that he will try out with the Nats.

Miller's Talking Again

Clearwater, Fla., March 5 (AP).—When the Philadelphia Phillies obtained Eddie Miller in a swap with Cincinnati they got a better shortstop than the records show.

That's not doubletalk. That's Eddie Miller talking.

"I mean," says Miller to clarify his statement, "that I got Emil Verban to team with me this year. I never had anyone alongside of me like that fellow. With a guy like Veran at second, I know I'm going to be a better shortstop."

Ted Hits One 'a Mile'

Sarasota, Fla., March 5 (AP).—Seconds after he told several visiting baseball writers, "I'm not hitting a lick, never do in the spring," Ted Williams today lashed one of the longest drives ever seen here.

Oldtimers among observers insisted the ball which disappeared over the center field fence some 425 feet distant "traveled as far, at least nearly as far," as one Babe Ruth cowtailed out of the park in Tampa in 1919. The Ruthian wallop often has been described as "the longest homer ever hit.

Tigers Prep for Reds

Lakeland, Fla., March 5 (AP).—Manager Steve O'Neill of the Detroit Tigers said all but seven players would make the trip to Tampa for Sunday's exhibition against Cincinnati. They are Pitchers Hal Newhouser, Al Benton, Rufus Gentry and Stubby Overmire, Catcher Hal Wagner and Infielders Paul Campbell and Hal Daugherty.

1000 Acclaim Sportsmen's Show Smash 'Hit'; Armory Has City Block of 'Outdoors' Indoors

By Walter Haight
Post Reporter

The eyes had it yesterday at the All-American Outdoor Sports Show opened indoors for a 10-day stand in the spacious National Guard Armory.

Although hardly expected to be more than a sneak preview of smoother performances to come, the matinee went off with precision. Some 1000 regular and occasional sportsmen and sportswomen had a look-see.

The exposition, the first big sport show ever staged here, includes everything from folding camp chairs and fishhooks to 26-foot cruisers and apartment-like trailers. Two lanes of exhibitions go around the city block that is the inside of the Armory.

Much of the wall space is given over to the bids of Maryland, Pennsylvania, Maine and some points in New Jersey for vacation trade. Maine, particularly, goes all the way with live fish swimming in our spigot water but looking as if they are right at home.

In addition, a piece of "the rock-bound coast of" has been shipped in, even to waves breaking on the shore—honest.

Pennsylvania's show includes a live deer who instead of appearing frightened, seemed to enjoy visitors. Wildwood, N. J., uses talking movies to tell of its good points.

The much-advertised 11-act stage and tank show lived up to advance notices. Chick ("99") Noyes, famous fly and bait caster, proved he could hit a pollywog at a hundred paces. J. J. Lynch, dressed cowboy style, talks mighty like a New Yorker.

The log-rollers and canoe-tilters were rugged he-men around the 70-foot tank with three comic divers getting plenty of laughs.

Trained bears, including Rosie of Crosby-Hope movies fame, did everything but talk, and Rosie did sing—I've heard worse at the Touchdown Club. A couple of fellows were good at badminton, which is something.

Frank's trained bird dogs didn't disappoint. They knew the act better than the stagehands but then the latter were in action for the first time. A "house duck" won a game of underwater hide-and-seek with five retrievers.

The outdoor show is sponsored by the League of Maryland Sportsmen, a noncommercial and non-profit organization of outdoor fans headed by Glenn E. Martin of airplane fame. All profits will be directed to wildlife conservation purposes.

The exposition showed in Baltimore last February and was not connected with the recent New York sports carnival.

Show Managers Richard B. Hall and Leo J. Paulin said they were pleased with the Armory set-up and expected the local event to outdraw the successful session at Baltimore's Fifth Regiment Armory.

Paulin said that every effort has been made to keep the outdoor motif and to dodge carnival and circus aspects.

"We could have jammed in scores of 'pitch men' if we had desired," he said. "Pitch men" refers to gypsy stand operators. He said everybody wanted in on the act, applicants for space coming from fortune tellers, handwriting experts, trick card sellers, weight guessers, etc.

However, there is a balloon man to add color to an already colorful show.

A veteran of the old food shows at Washington's old Convention Hall, I expected to get some free samples. I hung around the boat department but they didn't pass out any yachts. However, Ed Hill, shilling for sports glasses, did straighten my black-rimmed job.

British House Cheers Louis, Wife Marva

London, March 5 (AP).—Joe Louis visited the House of Commons today and was cheered.

Capt. Stephen Swingler, labor member for Stafford, was host to the boxer and his wife, Marva, and took them to gallery seats during a dull debate. There were cheers from members who recognized him.

After half hour in the Chamber, Joe had lunch in the Member's dining room and then was shown a few of the 1100 roms in the house.

"It was very interesting," said the champ.

LaMotta Changes Mind

New York, March 5 (AP).—Jake Lamotta, New York middleweight boxer, today withdrew his motion in State Supreme Court to void a suspension handed him by the State Athletic Commission after his November 14 fight with Billy Fox of Philadelphia.

The motion was filed February 13, the same day the commission suspended him until next June 21 and fined him $1000 for what it described as concealing facts about his physical condition prior to the Fox bout, which he lost by a technical knockout in the fourth round.

In his petition, Lamotta charged he was "the victim of a political feud between the chairman of the boxing commission and the district attorney."

School Decisions Boxer

Haverhill, Mass., March 5 (AP).—High School Boxer Jackie O'Neil, 19, did pretty well in the Golden Gloves Tournament but he came back from New York today and discovered he'd lost a decision to his schoolmaster.

Jackie reported that he was expelled from St. James Catholic High School where he was a senior and a football fullback.

The young fighter said that after winning the New England Golden Gloves bantamweight title last week, he asked the schol for permission to go to New York, where he was eliminated in the Eastern semifinals.

Jackie said he was told then that permission could not be granted.

TCU Coach Resigns

Fort Worth, Tex., March 5 (AP).—Hub McQuillan, veteran basketball coach at TCU, resigned today "for the best interest of the school" in a letter to Athletic Director Howard Grubbs.

Less than seven hours later, Byron (Buster) Brannon, coach at the University of Florida, was named to succeed Mr. McQuillan.

McQuillan, who has been coaching since 1916, came to TCU from Texas A. and M. in 1941. During the 1946-47 season, his team won a single game in 24 starts and during the season just closed, won only 3 out of 23. In two years, the Christians have bagged but two Southwest Conference gamees.

"When you can't win any more games than that, there is only one thing to do," McQuillan said.

14 Horses Named for Top Event

Those hardy souls who ride hard for the love of it—members of the hunting set—will stage their first competition of the 1948 season today when the Redland Hunt stages its annual point-to-point races in nearby Maryland.

The program of four events, three over rugged, natural country at 5 miles, starts at 2 p. m. at the Martin Dairy Farm, located on the Olney Pike (Georgia ave. extended), 12 miles from the Silver Spring traffic light.

Given good weather, upwards of 6000 persons are expected. However, if Redland hunters and their visiting rivals run true to form, the races will be run regardless of conditions. They competed once over a course deep in ice and snow.

Although post entries are likely to swell the fields, 14 horses were named overnight for the Redland Bowl, featured event. One of the favorites will be T. T. Mott jr.'s Chen, second in the 1947 running and beaten by only a neck. Chen will be ridden by Miss Judy Johnson who had the mount a year ago.

Maryland, Virginia and the District are heavily represented in the races which include, in addition to the Redland Bowl, the Terpenning Cup pair race, a heavyweight event and a gap-hunters race.

Although in a spectator and owner role, Mrs. Elisabeth McSherry, prominent Washington sportswoman, will not ride. Her Kitty Car will have Marilynn Himes up while Dr. John R. Wells will ride Could Be. These horses are teamed in the pair race.

The entries, including riders, for the Redland Bowl and the Terpenning Cup, follow:

REDLAND BOWL—E. R. Jones' Cracked Lad (Artis Randle), Sally Rocal's Mystery Man (Wm. Rocal), T. T. Mott, jr.'s Chen (Judy Johnson), Jane Blunt's Satan (Miss Blunt), Cremona Farm's Glochsmorra (L. Greenway), C. W. Kershaw's Classy Teddy (Sam Peppercorn), Sam C. Graham's Blue Echo (David Rust 3d), Marian Curran's Lump Sum (Marian Curran, jr.), Dr. L. M. Allan's War Veteran (Norman Haymaker) and Bluemont (Norman Haymaker, jr.), Dr. Thomas Hughes' Grand Trap (Frank Warsel), Beverley B. Byrd's Fun Wonder (Mr. Byrd), Justin Funkhouser's Big John (Frank Gall).

TERPENNING CUP (Pair Race)—Mrs. Steadman Teller's Gracias (Mrs. Steadman) and Mrs. Richard Hawkins' Yardstick (Mrs. Hawkins), Mrs. Elizabeth Smith's Woodwin (Mrs. Smith) and Wood Secret (John Hopewell), T. T. Mott's Melody Spar (Judy Johnson) and Mrs. Helen B. Horst's Shotgun (Mrs. Horst), Mrs. Elizabeth McSherry's Kitty Car (Marilynn Himes) and Could Be (Dr. John R. Keller).

Salmagundi Tops Field in Anita Derby

Arcadia, Calif., Feb. 5 (AP).—A compact field of eight colts, topped by William G. Helis' Salmagundi, was named today for the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby as the track winds up its 1948 meeting tomorrow.

Pitted against the Helis colt will be Mrs. Nat Goldstone's Solidarity and Miss Mary Strand's Call Bell, a pair of California-breds; Norman W. Church's May Reward, Hal Price Headley's Pennon, Mrs. Ann Pepper's Starting Time, R. S. Howard's Drumbeat, and Flaming Beau, owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Simpson.

Weather prophets looked for clear skies, a fast track, and turf officials look for a turnout of 60,000 get-away-day fans, equalling last year's record attendance for this mile and one-eighth feature.

Rated On Win In Vicente

The Helis colt, a good-looking bay who cost the wealthy businessman $20,000 at the Keenland, Ky., sales, gets the favorite's role off his length and one-half win over Call Bell in the $50,000 San Vicente handicap two weeks ago.

Solidarity ran third in that race, while Pennon, Drumbeat and May Reward ran out of the money in the mile and one sixteenth race.

Salmagundi had a 5-pound weight advantage over Call Bell, and three over Solidarity, but tomorrow all go at 118 pounds.

Each year California yearns for one of its turf sons to win the Santa Anita Derby and go on to triumphs in such old fixtures as the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness or the Belmont.

Solidarity Coast Hopeful

Last year On Trust did the best so far—fourth at Churchill Downs and second in the Preakness.

Solidarity, a $21,000 purchase in the Louis B. Mayer dispersal sale last year, and winner of $62,585 in 22 starts, ranks as this year's best California possibility, while one of the longer shots is Flaming Beau.

The Simpsons plunked out $35,000 for the colt at the Mayer sale, but to date he never placed in a stakes race.

Intense Rivalries Highlight 1948 Track Finale at Garden

By Austin Bealmear

New York, March 5 (AP).—Natural rivalries developed during two months of intense campaigning will righlight the track program tomorrow night in the Knights of Columbus games at Madison Square Garden. These grudge duels and ruber matches can be expected to produce some of the outstanding performances of the year in the Garden's last 1948 meet.

National Sprint Champion Billy Mathis of Urbana, Ill., and E. Conwell of Jersey City, the man he dethroned as indoor king, will meet in the 60-yard dash for the first time since their disputed and unphotographed photo finish at the AAU meet. This time cameras of a newly-developed photo-timer will be trained on the finish line.

Tommy Quinn of the New York Athletic Club, national AAU indoor champion, and Gerry Karver of Penn State, IC-4A ruler, head a six-man field in the Frank A. Brennan Columbian mile.

Others scheduled to start in the mile are John Twomey of the Illinois Athletic Club, Browning Ross of Villanova and Bill Hulse and Leslie MacMitchell of the New York Athletic Club.

Although National Indoor Champion Dave Bolen of Colorado won't be on hand, the twenty-ninth running of the Casey 600 for the Cardinal Hayes Memorial Cup brings together Herb McKenley, Jamaican holder of the world quarter-mile record, and George Guida, former champion from Villanova, for the fourth time this year.

McKenley, who has yet to win a 600-yard race in the Garden, has lost to Guida in two of their three previous meetings.

Hugh Short, former Georgetown star and coholder of the world 600-yard record of 1:10.2, also will start in this race, making his first appearance in a cup fixture since Phil Thigpen of Seton Hall and Reggie Pearman of NYU, who divided at 1000 yards in the AAU and IC4A meets, will have their rubber duel in the K. of C. 1000, with Joe Nowicki of the New York A. C., Roscoe Browne of the Pioneer Club, Phil O'Connell of Manhattan, and Dave Smith of Georgetown completing the field.

Army, Navy Squads Clash

Annapolis, Md., March 5 (AP).—Army and Navy fire away at each other again tomorrow when the climax of the winter season revives their sports feud.

Six contests are on the schedule of hostilities, three at West Point and three at Annapolis.

The basketball skirmish, with Army host, tops the list and picking a favorite would be enough to stump the general staff of either service.

Four of Navy's starters will be making their last appearance—Capt. Jack Robbins, Bob Searle, Bob Claitor and Chuck Sheehan.

The main attraction at Annapolis will be in the MacDonough Hall swimming pool. Another close one shapes up, although Coach Henry Ortland's Navy natators have had a none too successful season.

Pistol and gymnastic competition round out the Annapolis card, while fencing and rifle complete the program at West Point.

Caps, Knicks Play Tonight

Coasch Red Auerbach's Washington Capitols will open their Basketball Association of America stretch drive tonight in New York when they oppose the Knickerbockers at the Sixty-ninth Regiment Armory.

The Caps, who have dropped their last four games, will be bolstered by the return to action of Bones McKinney, sidelined for two weeks with an injured ankle.

Washington still has a mathematical chance to overhaul the Western Division leading St. Louis Bombers. In third place, the Caps are three games behind the Bombers and have seven games to play. Three of these, including tonight's game, will be played on the road.

The second-place Stags, a game and a half in front of the Caps, come to Washington next Wednesday and the Bombers will appear at the Uline Arena next Friday.

Death of Wild Ducks Caused By Poisoning

Annapolis, Md., March 5 (AP).—Phosphorus poisoning was blamed today for the death of over 100 wild ducks in the Bush River, Paul W. McKee, executive secretary of the Maryland Water Pollution Commission, reported.

McKee said experts at the United States Wildlife Research Refuge at Patuxent had found the ducks showed "no signs of bacteriological disease."

Where the phosphorous came from, McKee said he does not yet know. He added that there were no parasites in the ducks and "no evidence that oil caused their deaths."

McKee said many fish were found dead in the creek swamp section. "Some bass four to four and a half pounds, big healthy looking carp, sunfish and perch."

Prince Georges Clinic On Mental Health Faces Threat of Cut in Funds

House Committee Not Satisfied Money Is Used for 'Most Essential' Purposes

Prince Georges County's experimental mental hygiene clinic faces possible elimination by Congress.

The clinic, set up with Federal funds at College Park as a United States Public Health Service demonstration unit and opened only a couple months ago, is target of sharp criticism by a House Appropriation subcommittee, it was disclosed yesterday.

The fiscal 1949 appropriation for the clinic—and for the entire USPHS mental health program—has been held up, the Appropriations Committee announced yesterday in reporting out Federal health funds.

The committee declared it was not satisfied that the funds sought for continuation of the mental health program—approximately four million dollars would be devoted to the "most essential and worthwhile objectives in the field."

More Direct Research Needed

The subcommittee indicated it believed more money should be used for direct research in mental health, and less in demonstration projects, like the one at College Park.

The Prince Georges County mental hygiene clinic offers free treatment to all residents of the county who are suffering from emotional and mental disturbances not serious enough to require hospitalization. Idea of the clinic is to treat the patient before hospitalization is necessary. The clinic has won warm support of county leaders and organizations.

On the whole, Federally-operated District health programs and institutions fared well in the matter of funds for fiscal 1949.

$1,573,000 For St. Elizabeths

St. Elizabeth's Hospital asked and received $1,573,000 for operations. Construction funds were slashed $2,800,000, or more than half, but contract authorizations make up for the reduction in direct appropriations.

Howard University was granted $2,707,000, virtually all it asked. About half a million is for construction. Freedmen's Hospital also got nearly all requested, $2,194,000. The committee approved a plan to open an outpatient veneral disease pay clinic.

Columbia Institution for the Deaf got $115,000, as requested.

The committee also approved five million dollars in appropriations and $25,630,000 in contract authorizations for a 500-bed hospital-laboratory to be built in Bethesda as part of the national institute of health, for clinical research in cardiovascular diseases and cancer.

Meyrovitch Case

Police Seek Aid of Cabbie In Slaying

Police yesterday sought the help of an unidentified cab driver who may be able to shed some light in the five-day old murder of Grocer Meyer Meyrovitch.

A lookout went to all precincts and bureaus seeking the driver who is said to have told a woman he had overheard a man threaten to kill the grocer two weeks earlier.

Meyrovitch, 39, was shot to death in his grocery at 90 O st. nw., about 8:15 p. m. Monday.

Authorities have virtually abandoned a robbery motive. No money was taken from the grocery or from the grocer's body. Police Thursday night released Negro women after questioning them, but they declined to discuss what angle they sought.

The woman who reported hearing the taxi driver discuss the threat against Meyrovitch said she was a passenger in the taxi.

The driver, described as about 40, 5 feet 11 inches tall with stocky build, has been asked to communicate with homicide detectives.

In all but dropping the robbery motive, police advanced a theory of "vengeance" or "a personal matter" between the slayer and his victim. The grocer was known throughout the area as friendly and generous, quite willing to give credit and lend money without interest to persons he knew.

Navy divers yesterday were unsuccessful in locating a pistol used in the murders of two taxi drivers last Friday night.

Lawrence Garner, 23, who has confessed, police say, to being the "trigger man" in the holdup slayings, said he threw the gun off Key bridge into the Potomac River. His brother, George, 25, also is being held in connection with the deaths of the two drivers.

Girl Returns Gift Pooch And Gets Man $5 Fine

Fredericksburg, Va., March 5 (Spl.).—An angry girl friend's return of a gift cost a young man $5 in court costs in Police Court here when the defendant was charged with failure to obtain a dog license.

His explanation: He bought the dog six months ago and presented it to the girl. She got in a huff (unexplained) the other day and sent the dog back. He had not had time to get the license.

Congressmen Keefe, Rooney Favor Plan To Allow Howard U. Students at Gallinger

A House Appropriations Subcommittee has placed its powerful support behind the recent move to permit the training of Howard University students at Gallinger Hospital here.

Gallinger, the District's hospital for indigents, is currently operated exclusively by George Washington and Georgetown medical schools.

Hearings on fiscal 1949 appropriations for the Federal Security Agency, made public yesterday, disclose that the House subcommittee, headed by Representative Frank B. Keefe (R., Wis.), is insistent on Negro medical students being given the opportunity to train in the Negro wards of Gallinger Hospital.

Ewing Confident of Plan

Oscar Ewing, Federal Security administrator, reported to the subcommittee that he left "confident" an arrangement would be worked out to let Howard University into Gallinger.

"You may proceed with the assurance you will have full support in that field," commented Chairman Keefe. "You can assure those fellows out at Gallinger that if they do not so something they are going to hear about it."

"I am sure that is the sentiment of every member of this committee," added Representative John J. Rooney (D., N. Y.).

Testimony at the hearings developed that by permitting Howard University medical students to train in the Negro wards at Gallinger, the school could increase its medical school enrollment by 69.

130 Graduate Every Year

Dr. Mordecai W. Johnson, Howard University president, testified that approximately 130 graduates weer being turned out by Negro medical schools each year, as against an annual death rate of 100.

As against a national ratio of one doctor for 750 persons, there is one Negro doctor for 3337 Negroes, Johnson said.

The subcommittee instructed the Howard University president to draw up a five-year plan of medical school expansion, based on training some students at Gallinger.

New Appeal Is Made for Slum Funds

Opponents Heard; Senator Reed Says Pleas Should Go to House Committee

Washington slum clearance sponsors yesterday appealed to a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee for funds to launch the District's urban redevelopment program.

In opposition, the subcommittee heard spokesmen for the Marshall Heights and Barry Farms communities, first to be affected by present slum clearance plans, protest granting the money.

Subcommittee Chairman Clyde M. Reed (R., Kans.) told several witnesses who urged the grant of slum clearance funds that they should have taken their appeal to the House Appropriations Committee. It was the second hearing on the slum program; in both Senator Reed has indicated he would be cool to approving the money.

Areas Termed Menace

The House followed the lead of its Appropriations Committee in refusing to include in the Independent Offices Appropriation bill any of the money requested for Washington's slum clearance and redevelopment program.

Knocked out in the House were $61,500 for the National Capital Park and Planning Commission to complete its master plan of redevelopment, and $3,400,000 for the District Redevelopment Land Agency, mostly to buy the Marshall Heights and Barry Farms tracts.

Among those who appealed for restoration of the slum funds to the appropriation bill was C. Melvin Sharpe, chairman of the Committee of 100 on the Federal City, who termed the two acres to be cleared first a health menace to the people who live there and to the community generally.

New Appeal By Grant

Spokesman for the two communities held firm to the opposition they had presented earlier to the House. They said residents might lose both their homes and savings under the plan.

Maj. Gen. U. S. Grant, 3d., chairman of the Park and Planning Commission, made a new appeal in the hearing for approval of the slum clearance money. Joining in the appeal were spokesmen for the Washington Board of Trade, Washington Housing Association, Citizens Council for Community Planning, Washington sections of the National Council of Jewish Women and of the American Association of Social Workers, and others.

Earlier, Reed's group heard officials of the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission urge approval of $1,494,000, deleted in the House, for purchase of park lands in Maryland near the District.

Fire Destroys Home of 12; Eight Companies Fight Blaze

"SMOKE EATERS" AT WORK—Volunteer firemen battle in vain to save 12-room stone house which burned yesterday on the Defense Highway near West Lanham Hills, Md.

HOME DESTROYED—Flames had enveloped the interior of the two-story stone dwelling by the time firemen reached the scene. Damage was estimated at more than $12,000

Mother and Son Hurt in Salvage Effort at West Lanham Hills, Md.

A family group of twelve persons was left homeless yesterday when fire destroyed a rambling 12-room stone house on Defense hwy., near West Lanham Hills, Md.

Living in the house were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Horton, their five younger children; a married son, his wife and son, and a married daughter and her husband. Visiting with the Hortons at the time were Mrs. Horton's sister, Mrs. Linn Lambert, her husband and son, whose home is in Kansas.

At home when the fire broke out were Mrs. Horton, her married son, Charles Barber, and three young children, Mary Lou, 7; Patsy, 4, and Billy, 18 months. Mrs. Horton and Barber received slight burns while removing the few items of clothing and personal belongings that were saved.

Overheated Stove Blamed

The fire apparently started from an overheated wood stove in the kitchen, Mrs. Horton said. The flames spread rapidly and by the time volunteer firemen arrived had enveloped the interior of the two-story structure.

Eight volunteer fire companies from the eastern section of Prince Georges County subdued the blaze in about an hour.

The furniture was destroyed and the roof and one wall caved in, Mrs. Horton said. Damage was estimated at more than $12,000.

The family was taken into the homes of several neighbors in West Lanham Hills last night.

Away from home at the time of the blaze were Horton; Mrs. Barber and her year-old child, Charles; Mr. and Mrs. Pablo Caballero, the married daughter and her husband; the Lamberts and their 3-year-old son, Dickie, and Mrs. Horton's children, Rachel, 12, and Linn, 10.

Husband Cutting Timber

Horton was cutting timber at the time with a neighbor, Mrs. Horton said. He farms the small tract of land surrounding the house and also does tractor work for other farmers in the vicinity, she said.

The Barbers have recently purchased a small farm in Virginia and were planning to move there soon, she said. Mrs. Caballero was married only recently and had not located a house yet.

Firemen last night appealed for contributions to aid the stricken family and announced that the Bladensburg Volunteer Fire Department would be a collection point for donations.

Bandit Takes $1000 Payroll, Victim's Maid

Richmond, Va., March 5 (AP).—An armed Negro bandit made off today with a payroll of nearly $1000 which he snatched from the dining room table in the home here of a Richmond paint company owner.

Before the robbery was complete, the man with the gun locked the victim's family in the pantry and threatened to kill a 17-month-old baby.

The bandit also fled with a Negro maid, who had been working in the home since before Christmas, police said.

'Kidnapers' Hoax Police

Baltimore, March 5 (AP).—A reported daylight kidnaping of a young man yesterday was dismissed as a hoax today by Police Commissioner Hamilton R. Atkinson. The alleged victim confessed the staged kidnaping. Identity of the pranksters was withheld.

'Short' in Heating Pad Suspected in Fatal Fire

A short circuit in a heating pad was the apparent cause of the Stoneleigh Court apartment fire that fatally burned Mrs. Hazel Hamilton on Thursday night, according to Deputy Fire Marshal Roy A. Warfield.

However, the fire marshal's office has not ruled out the possibility that the fire may have started from a cigarette, and the investigation will continue, he said.

When examined yesterday, the heating pad was found to be broken in several places, according to Captain Warfield, who added that this might have happened during the fire. The heating pad switch was turned on full, he said.

The 55-year-old victim's daughter, Mrs. Jane Hamilton Macauley, assistant director of the women's division of the Republican National Committee, returned from a Louisville (Ky.) meeting of Republican women yesterday and made arrangements for private funeral services.

Mrs. Hamilton was born in Wabasha, Minn., and had come to Washington 12 years ago from Fort Madison, Iowa. She was the widow of Judge J. M. Casey Hamilton of that city and a sistein-in-law of John D. M. Hamilton, former chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Girl, 11, Traps Man She Says Tried Attack

An 11-year-old Seat Pleasant, Md., schoolgilr yesterday decoyed a milk driver to his arrest for allegedly attempting to rape her the day before.

While police hid nearby, the child kept rendezvous for the suspect, identified as Norman R. Strait, 37, of 4705 Nicholson st., Riverdale. As he drove up and signaled to her, police said, the officers stepped out and arrested him.

The trap was set, police said, after the child told her parents that Strait picked her up Thursday afternoon in his private automobile as she walked to a drugstore.

Instead of taking her to the store, she said, he drove to a wooded area in Dodge Park, near Palmer hwy, and attempted to attack her.

He then drove her back to where he had picked her up and arranged to meet her again yesterday, she said. He had been drinking, apparently heavily, on Thursday, she told police. He was charged with attempted carnal knowledge.

Earlier yesterday, Rodney F. Wheeler, 24, of 824 51st st. se., surrendered to Bethesda, Md., police on a charge he raped a 14-year-old District girl at Glen Echo, Md., Christmas Eve.

Charged with carnal knowledge, he was later released under $500 bond for a hearing March 29 in Bethesda Police Court. Wheeler, an interior decorating contractor who was fighting extradition on the charge, was accompanied by his attorney, Francis X. Walsh.

Washington police arrested him on the girl's complaint on February 8, shortly after his release from Gallinger Hospital where he was patched up for a beating received from an irate husband.

Second Installment of Booklet on New Federal Retirement Act

The Washington Post today presents the second installment of the "best-selling" Civil Service booklet that explains the Langer-Chavez-Stevenson Retirement Act.

The Civil Service Commission won't get its full supply of 50,000 copies of the booklet until late next week. Since it has had requqests for upwards of half a million copies—more than 15,000 to this writer alone—the commission has given this newspaper the right to publish the text in full to give it wider circulation. Otherwise, many Federal workers who are seeking copies may be disappointed.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock Warren Irons, chief of the Civil Service Retirement Division will explain the new law to a meeting of retired employes in the National Museum Auditorium at 10th st. and Constitution ave. nw. Senator Chavez (D., N. Mex.), who helped to write the act, also will speak.

Yesterday's installment carried a typographical error in the box explaining the formula of how an annuity is computed on a $6000 salary. A line in the box read: "Take ½ per cent of salary." It should have read: Take 1½ per cent of salary.

We suggest that Federal workers clip this and other installments and make a booklet for themselves. The new law affects 1,500,000 Federal people and this analysis of it will prove helpful either now or in the future.

Retirement Booklet Part II

We have a case in which some part of the employe's Federal career was in work for which no deductions were made for retirment purposes, that person's annuity will naturally be somewhat lower than that of the person who has made all required deposits.

The individual who is short on paid-up service, however, can correct that situation by making a deposit in the Fund. The payment required will consist of the proper amount of deductions with interest.

It used to be very difficult to compute the annuity earned by a person who had a mixed service consisting of periods when he did not contribute to the Retirement Fund, and when he did contribute to the Fund. Now, that computation, too, is much easier. We compute the annuity which the person would have been entitled to if all his service since August 1, 1920 had been covered by deductions, and then reduce that figure by one-tenth of the amount of the required payment.

That isn't as complicated as it sounds. Here is an example of how it works.

Example: Average salary for best five years is $3000, 30 years' service, but no deductions taken during six of those years; assuming that a $400 deposit in the Fund is required to get full service credit.

|---|---|
| Take 1% of the salary | $30 |
| Add $25 | 25 |
| | 55 |
| Multiply by years of service | x30 |
| Full annuity | $1650 |
| Less 1/10 of $400 | - 40 |
| Annuity | $1610 |

of the employe. The rate of reduction from a full annuity is the

The deposit needed to cover past service for which no deductions were made will be the original percentage deduction of salary (2½, 3½, 5 or 6 per cent, depending on when the service occurred), plus the interest thereon.

THE new law requires that any person retiring in the future who has taken a refund at any time in his career and has not redeposited the money in the fund since his return to a job under the Retirement Act, must make this payment, with interest, before he can be given credit for that earlier service. The following illustrates the effect of not redepositing a refund:

Example: Average salary for best 5 years is $3000; 30 years' service, but person took a refund for 9 of these years, and did not repay the money to the Fund.

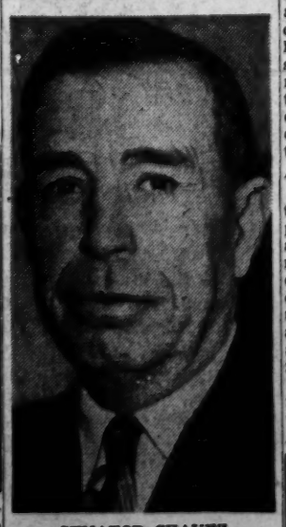
|---|---|
| Take 1% of the salary | $30 |
| Add $25 | 25 |
| | 55 |
| Multiply by 21 years | x21 |
| Annuity | $1155 |



SENATOR CHAVEZ
(D., N. Mex.), is leader among Senate Democrats for a more liberal Civil Service Retirement System. He is ranking Democratic member of the Senate Civil Service Committee and joined with Chairman Langer to sponsor and guide to approval the Langer-Chavez-Stevenson Retirement Act

VETERANS should keep in mind when figuring their retirement income that they need not make any payment to the Fund to receive full credit for their military service. All military time is computed according to the basic formula just as though salary deductions had been made for that period of their Federal service. In figuring the best 5-year annual salary, the military pay rate can be used if desired. Persons carried on leave or furlough from Federal civilian jobs during military duty can apply either the military rate or the civilian rate.

There is one qualification covering all annuities: In any case, the annuity may not exceed 80 per cent of the average salary for the highest five consecutive years or service. In this rule, of course, we nuity earned by payroll deductions (and deposits), and not the extra annuity which can be purchased by voluntary contributions to the Fund.

Annuity in 55-30 Cases

LET'S consider for a minute those people who leave the service prior to the usual retirement age and take a reduced annuity. This refers to the 30-year workers who decide to retire under the age 55 option. These folks get a break under the new conditions; the amount or reduction from a full annuity will not be as great in the future as in the past.

What we do in these cases is figure the regular annuity, using the basic formula, and then cut it down. For the 30-year man who retires any time from age 55 to age 60, we figure his normal annuity and then reduce it at the rate of ¼ of 1 per cent for each full month (3 per cent for each full year) he is under age 60.

Example: Age 55; the full annuity, computed from the basic formula, is $2000.

|---|---|
| From the full annuity | $2000 |
| Deduct 15% (3% per year for 5 years under age 60) | 300 |
| Reduced annuity | $1700 |

The foregoing formula is used also in computing the reduced annuity payable to an employe with 25 or more years of service who is involuntarily separated from the rolls after April 1, 1948, not for cause or on charges of misconduct or delinquency. The annuity in such case starts immediately upon separation, regardless of the age same as in a 55-30 case (3 per cent per year under age 60).

The annuities of persons with 25 or more years of service who left the rolls, as described above, between June 30, 1947 and April 1 this year will be computed as under all the old retirement provisions except for this one point: Their basic annuities will be computed as in the past and then the new plan of 3 per cent per year reduction for age under 60 will be applied to get the reduced annuity payable.

Persons Separated After April 1

Employes with 5 or more years of civilian service who are separated after the effective date of the new law and before they attain the full, or optional, retirement age, will be entitled to an annuity at age 62 computed on the basis of the new formula. If such an employe takes a refund, this discontinued service annuity is forfeited, as stated earlier in this pamphlet.

The Langer-Chavez-Stevenson Act does not allow us to compute annuities under the new, more liberal plan for those employes with 5 or more years of service who are separated from the rolls between January 24, 1942 (the act of that date added the discontinued service annuity provision to the retirement program) and the effective date of this act. Persons in this category retain the rights and benefits offered under the old law.

Among the interesting features of the Langer-Chavez-Stevenson Act are the new survivorship benefits. The old "forfeiture" and "joint and survivorship" retirement plans are out; we have in their stead two survivorship principles under the new law which we call the "Joint-and-Survivorship Options." The first is limited to husbands, and the second is open to any unmarried employe. est five consecutive years or serv- An employe is not allowed to decide which option he wants to use until he retires, so for most members of our system there is plenty of time to think this over.

Husband's Option

Let's take up the husband's special benefit first; we can call this "Option 1." We have a married man—a retiring employe—and he, wants to provide security for his wife after he dies. By taking this Option 1 he will receive 90 per cent of the regular full annuity to which he is entitled, less three fourths of 1 per cent for each full year (if any) his wife is under age 60 at the time the husband retires.

In the case of a wife who is 47, but not yet 48, when her husband retires, for example, this difference-in-age reduction will result in the retired man's getting an income amounting to 81 per cent of a full annuity (which is the initial 90 per cent rate reduced by ¾ of 1 per cent annually for 12 full years), and the wife's getting a survivorship annuity equal to 50 per cent of the full annuity beginning at her age 50. Her payments start immediately upon the husband's death if she has already reached 50 when he passes on. This annuity to the widow will be paid until her death or remarriage.

In connection with this proposition of reducing the retired man's annuity according to the wife's age, there is a section in the new law that says the man's reduced annuity will in no case be under 75 per cent of a full annuity.

The Option 1 arrangement is available to married males retiring under any plan (including those involuntarily separated after 25 years) except the annuity plan based on discontinued service after five or more years of employment.

The third installment which will explain Option 2 and other survivorship provisions of the act will appear tomorrow.

Woman Given $45,000 Award In Bus Injury

Mrs. Howard B. Darrow, 47, of 440 Peabody st. nw., has been granted $45,000 for injuries suffered when she was hit by a sightseeing bus in May, 1946, it was revealed in District Court yesterday.

The settlement was by agreement between Attorney Arthur J. Hilland, representing Mrs. Darrow, and Attorneys H. Mason Welch and Austin Canfield for the defendant corporation, Monumental Motor Tours, Inc., of Baltimore.

Hilland presented testimony that the driver of the bus, Elmer Ulrich of Baltimore, failed to have his right windshield wiper operating, although a light rain was falling, when the bus struck Mrs. Darrow as she was crossing 14th st. at K st. nw.

Mrs. Darrow, it was said, suffered permanent back injuries. The trial had been in session for nine days when the attorneys arrived at a settlement.

Area News in Brief

Omission Plagues D. C. Tax Collector

He forgot to tell you how much each dependent is worth in tax exemptions. That information was accidentally dropped from Form D-40 and also from the instruction sheet that tells you how to pay the least amount of tax to the District government.

Now clerks are wearily repeating to endless telephone callers that the exemptions you claim are worth $500 a head.

However, you'll find the exemption information on Form D-40 A, which is used for taxpayers whose income was $5000 or less.

"We left the exemptions off by accident," said Allan F. Brooke, assistant administrator. "We can't justify it. It was left off inadvertently."

However, it's no responsibility of the tax collector to keep you abreast of the laws. You're supposed to know the law, tax collectors explained.

The first forms were mailed this week to about 130,000 persons who paid taxes last year. The deadline is April 15.

Meanwhile, the Federal income tax men at 12th and Constitution are having their troubles, also. About 1500 Washington residents are asking for advice each day on how to cut down the amount of tax they'll pay to Uncle Sam. That's far more than last year's average.

Murphy Acts

Korman Turns in His Uniform

Assistant Corporation Counsel Milton Korman has "turned in his suit" as an unofficial fireman, Fire Chief Clement Murphy disclosed yesterday.

It was a move to deny special privileges to "amateurs" who follow fires, the chief said.

He snorted quick denial that his action had anything to do with the fact that Korman helped draw up charges which led to Murphy's recent trial on "inefficiency" accusations.

"I don't have a thing against Korman," Murphy said. "I think he's all right. But I don't think he should go around wearing a firemen's clothes."

He said he will attempt to have Korman's name removed from the District operator's list of persons called when multiple alarm fires occur.

Korman said he obtained his firemen's wardrobe — "running coat," boots, helmet—beginning in 1941 from Stephen T. Porter, then chief, "because I used to pitch in and help the fellows out once in awhile."

Charged With Assault

Alexandria police yesterday charged James H. Morris, 50, 427 S. Alfred St., Alexandria, with assaulting a woman early yesterday.

Police said Mrs. Alexander Carr, 708 S. St. Asaph st., Alexandria, had identified Morris as the man who struck and knocked her to the ground about 1:30 a. m. yesterday as she walked from a car to her apartment. The man was frightened away by neighbors aroused by her screams.

Smoot Quits Chest Post

Albert A. Smoot yesterday announced his resignation as president of the Alexandria Community Chest. Smoot, who has just filed as candidate for Alexandria City Council, has headed the Alexandria Chest for two years. Mrs. William Zimmerman 3d will act as president until a permanent successor is named.

2 Guilty in Holdup

Two men were found guilty of armed robbery in Arlington Circuit Court yesterday and their cases referred to the probation officer for study and a recommendation.

The two, Arthur Marcey, 20, of Falls Church, and John E. Toth, 19, of New Alexandria, Pa., were picked up by a motorist in Rosslyn last December, police said. While the motorists drove along Lee hwy., police said the two men threatened him with a gun, took his watch and $2.

What's in a Name

A secretary at the General Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists, 6840 Eastern ave. nw., has found herself a unique name. Miss Jewell Hatcher, 15 Lee ave., Takoma Park, sent a gift of clothing to a German Adventist nurses' school at Christmas.

She didn't bother to include her name or address or remove the label in the garment, as other employes of the conference did. Last week she got a thank you note. It began: "My Dear Sister Flannelette Pajamas."

To Start Law Practice

James M. Parsons, law clerk for Associate Justice T. Alan Goldsborough, District Court, yesterday resigned his post to enter private law practice.

Parsons, a graduate of Southeastern Law School, will be associated with Attorney W. E. Cumberland in the Woodward Building. He is 35 years old, married, and lives at 406 Kennedy st., nw.

$938 to Repair Auto

The $938 he recently charged to repair a 1941 car wasn't the highest bill he ever submitted, an Arlington auto mechanic testified in Arlington County Court yesterday.

Barrie Blake of 1612 S. Pollard st. said he once charged a customer a $7000 repair bill—on a $17,000 racing car. Blake came before the court to ask that a $338 balance on the $938 bill be paid up.

Defendant Ernest Zeller of 1200 N. Kenilworth st. said he turned his 1941 Plymouth over to Blake last December for a complete overhauling of upholstery, paint, and engine. But, he added, Blake didn't do the complete job he promised. Blake won a $100 judgment.

GAO to Vacate 11th Building Since War

The General Accounting Office will be down to its last ten buildings in the District by the end of April.

During the war it occupied 21 buildings and warehouses here. Yesterday it announced it would vacate the Moses Building, 11th and F sts., nw.—the eleventh given up since the war's end.

More than 500 employes now in the Moses Building will be moved to the Old Post Office. All are with the Audit Division of GAO. They will join 900 audit employes already there.

Donald G. Dudley, assistant executive officer of GAO, announced the move was part of the Public Buildings Administration policy to release space rented in privately owned buildings.

Dudley said PBA is now planning to renovate the space into which the 500 employes will be moved.

GAO still hopes to get a new building erected over the hole dug at 5th and G sts. nw., before the war started. The $22,500,000 building was approved by the House and is now waiting in the Senate.

Mrs. Eva Ray Prince

Funeral services for Mrs. Eva Ray Prince, 53, cafeteria supervisor at the Claude Swanson Junior High School in Arlington, will be held 2 p. m. today at the Ives Funeral Home, 2847 Wilson Blvd. Burial will be in Columbia Gardens Cemetery.

Mrs. Prince died Thursday at her home, 1311 N. Adams st., Arlington, after an illness of nearly a year.

A native of Washington, she went to Arlington in 1919, where she has been active in the Community Methodist Church. Her husband, Harry O. Prince, is a senior machinist employed by the Public Buildings Administration.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, are a sister, Mrs. May Ballinger of Arlington; a brother, Bernard Javins of Baltimore, and three half-brothers, Earl, Ernest, and Russell Javins, all of Baltimore.

John W. Brady

Funeral services for John W. Brady, 87, retired Prince Georges County farmer, will be held at 2 p. m. today at Forestville (Md.) Epiphany Church. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Mr. Brady died Wednesday at the home of his son, Jerry Brady, at Ritchie, Md., after a long illness. A native of the county, he operated a farm at Largo before retiring 12 years ago. Since then he had lived with his son. He was a member of the Forestville Odd Fellows Lodge.

Survivors include three other sons—J. Oscar Brady of Largo, George F. Brady, 2228 13th st. ne., and Milton E. Brady, Capitol Heights, Md.; two daughters—Mrs. Charles Bean, 814 Kentucky ave. se., and Mrs. Agnes E. Suit, Ritchie; 16 grandchildren, 16 great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

Sidewalk Superintendent's Delight...

POST SQUARE "HIGHLIGHT"—Members of the Washington Post Chapter of the Sidewalk Superintendents Association held their first 1948 meeting yesterday afternoon in front of headquarters in Post Square to watch workmen hoist a 2400-pound IBM electrical accounting machine (arrow) into a fourth-floor window of The Washington Post annex, 1347 E st. nw.

The Washington Post

APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE—The Sidewalk Superintendents thoroughly enjoyed themselves and aside from the fact that some of them mistook the crane for a fire engine and wanted to know when the fire started and who was burned, they were heard to make the following comments: "What's doing, Bub?" "Is it going up or coming down?" "Who is getting the piano?" "If they are robbing the building, they are surely doing it the hard way"

Richard G. Collier

Mr. Roughton, a native of North Carolina, was with the real estate division of Greenway Gardens and had handled property in such developments as Woodland Acres, Forest Park and Maryland Gardens.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret L. Roughton; two sisters, Mrs. J. F. West of Roanoke, Va.; Mrs. W. L. Sykes of Ahoskie, N. C., and a brother, Phillip Roughton of New Bern, N. C.

T. J. Hewitt, Pilot of D. C. Fireboat, Dies

Thomas J. Hewitt, 41, pilot of Washington's fireboat the William T. Belt, died yesterday at his home, 1716 28th pl. se. A relative attributed his death to heart trouble.

Capt. Hewitt

Mr. Hewitt had been master of the District's fireboats the past four years. He was pilot of the old Firefighter before it was replaced by the Belt last year.

As master of the fireboat, he had helped fight the big Navy Yard and Anacostia Air Station fires of two years ago. In January, his ship pumped more than a milion gallons of water from the Potomac into a blazing Marine warehouse beside the river.

In 1940, Mr. Hewitt, then Captain of the Norfolk and Washington steamer Northland, rescued three persons from a small cabin cruiser, powerless and adrift in high seas, off Lookout Point near the Potomac's mouth.

Mr. Hewitt was born in Elizabeth City, N. C. A man of the sea most of his life, he began his career as a lookout on the Norfolk and Washington steamship line while a boy. He became a quartermaster and then a pilot on ships sailing the Chesapeake between here and Norfolk.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Ruth Harker Hewitt, a daughter, Joyce Lee Hewitt and a son, Thomas J. Hewitt, jr., all of the 28th pl. address, he is survived by the following:

His father, Nelson C. Hewitt; three sisters, Miss Amy Hewitt, Mrs. Charles J. Thomas and Mrs. B. B. Mercer, all of Norfolk, Va.; and four brothers, John H. Hewitt, of Washington; Carlysle C. Hewitt and Charles W. Hewitt, of New York and Nelson C. Hewitt, jr., of Washington.

Miss Harding Is Bride of Charles Stiles

Miss Anna Marie Harding and Charles Henry Stiles were married yesterday at Rockville Christian Church at 8 p. m. The Rev. J. Virgil Lilly officiated and a reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brawner Z. Harding of Gaithersburg, Md. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Clifford Stiles of Rockville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown, fashioned with sweetheart neckline, edged in seed pearls and draped bustle back which fell into a full length train. Her veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Barbara Harding, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore a pale blue frock and carried yellow Talisman roses. Miss Beverly Harris and Mrs. Ruby Deam, bridesmaids, were dressed in pale yellow, and Mrs. Anna Windsor and Miss Helen Jean Harding, cousin of the bride, wore pale orchid. The junior bridesmaid, Miss Gloria Harding, sister of the bride, was dressed like the other attendants. Robert Harding, brother of the bride, served as ring bearer.

Robert Stiles, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and the ushers were Stanley Stiles, also brother of the bridegroom, Raymond Housley, cousin of the bride, John Slicer and William King.

After a short honeymoon in the South, the couple will live in Rockville.

If Exercises Bore, Turn On The Music

By Ida Jean Kain

Gather round, all you calisthenics dodgers. You have a champion. She's Evelyn Davis, director of the Dance Playhouse of Washington, D. C., and she doesn't see why any woman would put up with plain, unadulterated calisthenics. But when it comes to rhythmic exercise—ah! Miss Davis is off in a burst of enthusiasm.

"If people only knew how much better it can make them feel," she told me over a cup of tea—with lemon, "they'd all be enthusiasts. I know."

She does know. In addition to being an outstanding concert artist and choreographer, she also works with nonprofessionals. Playhouse classes cover a wide range of students—little children, adolescents, working girls, husbands and wives . . . They all come back for more.

Classes Are Best

Miss Davis believes it's more fun and more efficient to perform in a class. "But if you must do it alone," she says, "set your movements to music. Turn on the radio or the phonograph—or just sing. I've never done even a simple leg kick without bursting into song!"

So sound your A's and swing gaily through this Davis routine:

First, loosen up and shake off tension. Swing—start from the head, lazily rolling it around; then swing from the rib cage, rotating lazily from that area; then circle from the waist; now from the hips . . . it's freeing!

Swing the right leg, easily back and forth, knee relaxed, like a carefree child. Then swing the left leg with abandon. Now straighten the knee and put punch in the swings. Vigorous kicks are good hip slimmers.

Bend knees next . . . toes pointing out, knees pressing down on floor. As you bend, continue to push through the heels. Feel the action in inner thigh and lower hip muscles. This exercise builds up muscle or wears down fat . . . whichever is needed.

Strike Up the Band

Now strike up the band and go up and down on the toes, squeezing buttock muscles together. Then do little springs up in the air . . . Look, Ma, I'm dancing! Polka and schottische steps are a lot of fun. Move vigorously and don't stop too soon!

At this point, our authority took time out to hit carbohydrates. "If people would stay off sweets and other fattening foods, they'd keep their figures," she declared.

I surreptitiously eyed the delicious hot buns that "came with" our tea. Miss Davis caught the glance. "I know," she said, smiling broadly, "but you simply can't order cottage cheese with tea!"

Back to rhythm. "Get the whole family in the act," Miss Davis urged. "Exercise and dance together."

(Our waitress looked startled. Miss D. had abandoned her tea and was gaily demonstrating an exercise. I happily hummed the accompaniment.)

When the buns were all gone, I left . . . feeling rhythmical and buoyant about the whole thing. The waitress probably thought we were a couple of Mad Hatters, but it was a wonderful tea party!

Abondon dull calisthenics and frolic through your beauty benders. That's the advice of Evelyn Davis, dance-exercise teacher extraordinary. It's a wonderful system, says Ida Jean Kain, and gives exercise the Davis way in today's column.

A Little Visiting Is Good

It does the child good to go away from home on a little visit occasionally, such as to his grandparent's or aunt's homes. It takes him out of his usual routine and gives him a glimpse of other living that is perhaps not quite so easy going as his own home. Put him on his own in this guarded fashion, if in no other way it will make him appreciative of his own home and the value of the loving care he gets therein.

Joset Walker has designed

Fresh From French Openings

Paris Creations, Shown in Capital, Hark Back to Past Century

By Peggy Preston

THE FIRST comprehensive collection of originals from the recent fashion openings in Paris to reach Washington this season were shown to the press yesterday.

Presented by Woodward & Lothrop in the Carlton Room at the Carlton Hotel, the show included garments by six outstanding French designers. Christian Dior was represented with four of his dramatic designs and there were gowns, suits, coats and morning costumes by Balenciaga, Pierre Balmain, Lucien Lelong, Jacques Fath and Marcel Rochas.

The showing pointed up some interesting differences between American designers, whose collections we viewed in January, and their French contemporaries. Both are using the same theme for 1948—a revival of the voluminous fashions of the past century. But what we create in haste and quantity, the Parisians elaborate upon with studied attention to detail and in limited editions.

Typical trends noted in the French collections:

Heavy buckram linings front the waist to the hemline of skirts . . . frequent use of one or more overskirts, also lined with stiffening . . . complete absence of shoulder padding . . . length of skirts approximately the same as last season, i. e., 12 to 13 inches for daytime wear . . . exaggerated treatment of skirts with intricate pleats, flares, drapes, bustles, some achieving an almost "riding-habit" feeling . . . wide use of polka dots in fabrics.

DIOR'S vivid imagination and daring in design, which skyrocketed him to fame a year ago, continues to make his clothes the most exciting of any on either side of the Atlantic in 1948.

He has done wonderful things with skirts, lapping one layer over the other and slanting them either to the front or back. Our favorite (and his also, apparently, since he has named it for himself, "Diorette) is the two piece suit of black and white pin check taffeta pictured here.

"Diorette" is picturesque without being quaint. It gives the effect of slim sophistication, yet the skirt is fabulously full.

His other pieces in yesterday's show included "St. Cloud," a two piece silk shantung with red silk taffeta bow trim; a two piece navy wool dress, with his famous "zig-zag" line dominating the skirt. It is fully lined with stiffening and is pounds heavier than any American suit.

JACQUES FATH does not show fullness in all of his collection. One of his most striking dresses is pencil slim, of gray wool with a long waistline, banded in polka dot taffeta. In other costumes he reverts to the period of 1880, with tiny shoulders and waist, huge, billowing skirt.

Lucien Lelong has kept some typical French classics in his collection. One is of pearl gray chiffon with tuck upon tuck, reaching lengthwise from shoulder to hem—the type dress every Frenchwoman considers a "must" in her wardrobe.

Pierre Balmain, who, as well as Dior, visited America last fall to find out what American women like to wear, has kept skirts shorter than other designers. He also favors the narrow silhouette and his suit in the collections is of gray worsted with slender jacket. The skirt, finely pleated all around, gives the appearance of being quite slim.

The Marcel Rochas suit is of blue and white polka dots with a big skirt made of five flounces. It is quite ladylike, with a flurry of white in the tiny collar and tremendous jabot of embroidered organdie.

Harris & Ewing

*"DIORETTE," a two-piece suit dress which Christian Dior likes so well he has named it after himself. Made of black and white pin check taffeta, its outstanding feature is an intricately cut skirt which sweeps backward and swings in every direction. ## Spring '48 Favors Lilac Tones

This 1948 season, as in the days of lavender and lace, reveals a pretty plot to make you frankly feminine and flirtatious.

Place some Parma violets at the waist of a pale blue or lilac shantung dress. Compliment them with a violet cologne . . . or tack light lavender forget-me-nots around the scooped out neckline of a navy dress.

Tie a lilac silk scarf at the neckline of your navy suit. Add a hyacinth taffeta petticoat under your new gray suit. Wear a fitted mauve jacket over a swaying sepia skirt; pin a shoot of heather to the lapel of your green suit; top a pastel cotton with a large yellow straw, beribboned in violet. Simple, easy ways to add a magic note of spring.

Crescendoe the miracle fabric that washes so beautifully . . . double woven cotton leather-tailored and pique-sewn; our exclusive short white, chamois or brown glove is an all-time favorite. $3.50 a pair.

Letting Baby 'Cry It Out' Is Deplored

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

It seems novel to some mothers to be told that they need not let their babies cry in order to prevent them from being spoiled. Outstanding authorities in the field of child development deplore the practice of letting a baby cry, and encourage a mother to sooth the baby, find out the cause of the crying and then expect that the baby will not cry except as a symptom of some need.

Mrs. L. B. writes, "I was much gratified to see your advice to a mother to use discretion about letting her 7-month-old baby cry. Young mothers hear such confusing advice! However, I dealt with my own problem guided by my love for my baby, and I am happy at the results.

Cried After Feeding

"He is 9 months old, now. At first he would cry shortly after a feeding and I was told not to worry as he was getting plenty of food for his age and weight. I had been under the impression that babies slept a good share of the time, but mine never did and I hated to hear him cry. It seemed to me that he was either eating or crying and would quiet down only when held in my arms.

"Well-meaning friends told me to let him cry it out. They said babies were so smart that if held and rocked they demanded to be held and rocked. I tried everything—even letting him cry—a policy I regret very much. He would never fall asleep crying but the longer he cried the harder he would shriek—sometimes for an hour.

"Finally, I decided that something was amiss. Surely, an infant wasn't determined to make life miserable for his parents. I changed doctors, a change was made in his formula and he was a different child. He was not given more food so much as food in a more digestible form. After one week he no longer demanded to be either rocked or held and at two months of age he slept without a night feeding.

Cries Have Meaning

"As you have pointed out, a baby is helpless to express his needs except by crying. To ignore his cries because he seems to be well-fed and comfortable, may be considered a method of training, but it isn't mine. So many mothers say they never enjoyed their first babies, they were nervous and fearful of their cries, they never knew what they meant. If they would just relax, put themselves in the baby's place and sooth and comfort him, they would get real satisfaction."

I say a loud amen to all of this.

Carrying Iced Cake

When an iced cake must be wrapped and carried, stick a few toothpicks into the icing and adjust the paper carefully over these small sticks. They will keep the paper from touching the icing and there will be no trouble of icing sticking to the paper when it is removed.

The Home Sharpener

When the meat grinder work poorly, run a piece of sandpape through it as you would any article It will sharpen the blades.

Ask Anne — Your Questions on Homemaking

My electric iron was put on nylon material while too hot and the nylon stuck to the iron. To remove it I scoured it with steel wool and cleanser and ruined the finish or the treatment of the iron. As a result I cannot iron anything that has been starched. Often I have to run the iron over waxed paper even to iron plain materials. How can I treat my iron to overcome this? It is a new iron. M. L. B.

There really isn't much you can do to treat your iron to prevent it from sticking. By scouring the sole plate of your iron with abrasives and steel wool, possibly many little scratches have been made in the surface of the iron which catch and cause the sticking. Since it is a new iron, I would suggest you have the sole plate replaced. An electrical repair shop might have a replacement in stock, if it is a well known make. If not, they can order one from the factory for you.

Can you tell me where in Washington I can buy bread sliced sandwich-thin? Why haven't bakeries and groceries resumed the practice of carrying both regular and sandwich-size slices since the war? It seems to me it would be in line with the Government's bread and grain conservation drive to encourage a return to this type of slicing. H. A. K.

I'm wondering if you lived in another area before the war, for it has never been a general practice in the Washington market for bakers to slice their bread in two thicknesses, a thin one for sandwiches and the regular slice. There are two more expensive types of bread, made elsewhere but sold on a limited scale here, that come in thin slices. These are available in "fancy grocery" type stores and some others. One of the local department stores sells a gadget to use in splitting a regular slice of bread to make two thin slices. Or you can, of course, buy an unsliced pullman loaf and slice it yourself.

Some of the firms listed under "Lamp Shades" in the yellow pages of the telephone directory sell the type shade for which you are looking. One such firm can be reached by calling Metropolitan 1134.

Brush or wipe a varnish and paint remover over the buffet and with a heavy cloth remove as much of the finish as possible. Now, go over the piece with benzine to get rid of every trace of remover. Allow to dry thoroughly and sand until satin smooth. Use an oil stain to give the buffet the color of maple. For honey-colored maple, use 2 parts of walnut and 1 part of mahogany oil stain. It would be wise to experiment a bit with the stain to get the exact shade you wish. After it is mixed, apply to an inconspicuous spot of the wood to see the exact color. To obtain an even tone when using stain, give the surface, before staining, a coat of half and half mixture of raw linseed oil and turpentine. This will prepare the wood so that it will absorb the stain evenly. When this is dry, brush the stain freely and allow time for it to penetrate into the wood, 2 to 5 minutes. When the piece becomes the color you wish, wipe excess stain away with cheesecloth. If the stain is not sufficiently dark after it is wiped, a second coat may be applied. Finish by applying two coats of clear varnish followed by an application of wax.

Silver polish can be used on pewter, or special metal polish recommended for this purpose. Because of its softness, no polish containing an abrasive should ever be used on this metal.

My child has a red velvet skirt. It is very simple, with no pleats or trimming. I would like to know whether it can be successfully washed by hand? Or does it have to be sent to a cleaner? M. S.

If the velvet skirt is a cotton velvet, such as velveteen, or possibly corduroy, it can be very successfully washed by hand at home. Use a mild soap and lukewarm water and rinse very thoroughly afterward in two or more rinses of clear water. Shake vigorously to fluff when wrung out before hanging on the line. Pin to the line by the waistband or place on a skirt holder to dry. When thoroughly dry, press on the wrong side, only enough to smooth. If the skirt is a rayon or silk velvet it would be safer to dry clean it rather than wash it.

An original new dessert is Frozen Fig Shortcake:

1 cup water
1 tablespoon gelatin, dissolved in 1 tablespoon water
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
1 egg
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon lemon juice
4 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
Sponge, angel cake or jelly roll, 1 inch thick

Simmer chopped figs and water with sugar 15 minutes. Add lemon juice. Dissolve gelatin in cold water, then dissolve in fig mixture. Cool. Beat egg with sugar until light. Add vanilla and fold in whipped cream. Line deep refrigerator tray with wax paper. Place inch thick slice or layer of cake on bottom. Spread cooled fig mixture over cake, then top off with the cream. Return to refrigerator and freeze several hours, or overnight.

MARKET MEMO

By Lucia Brown

THE FIRST roe shad of the season have arrived on the local fish market . . . some from Chesapeake Bay, some from further south. They're scarce and high, though . . . still too high, dealers say, to take out the roes and sell them separately.

For Lenten Dishes, you'll find plenty of white and yellow perch from the Potomac on sale at reasonable prices. The recent warm weather has brought lots of oysters to market, too, and lowered the price by 10 or 15 per cent. Sea bass, porgys, and flounder, as well as a variety of frozen fish, are also abundant.

Vegetable Values: Lettuce, cabbage, and spinach are all low-priced. Cauliflower and tomatoes are cheaper than last week-end. Green Paschall celery will be quite reasonable for another two weeks, anyway, it's predicted. Texas carrots, and the smoother looking type from the California Imperial Valley are arriving in good quantity. Medium-sized old crop turnips are quite cheap.

National Fig Week, which is this week, finds the supply of dried figs large and the price considerably lower than last year. American production of figs has increased by several thousand tons in recent years, making a wealth of this natural fruit sweet available for use in making breads, cakes, cookies, puddings, salads, sauces, candies, conserves, and jams.

Frozen Food News: Just introduced on the Washington market is a line of high-grade frozen foods which carries on the outside of each package a tempting picture of the peas, or beans, or strawberries on the inside. Delicious corn on the cob is one choice item in this collection. Also new here are frozen potato puffs.

U. S. Must Cure Racial Ills, Says Speaker

It is of the utmost importance that we cure racial and religious discrimination soon, since social conduct in the United States has such serious international repercussions, declared Mrs. James A. Wechsler, counsel for the President's Committee on Civil Rights, in a talk yesterday before the civics section of the Chevy Chase Woman's Club.

She brought out the fact that discrimination against minorities in this country provides excellent propaganda material against us for the Soviet Union.

Then too, she said, for every minority group in the United States there is a much larger and more influential group outside our borders.

More specifically she mentioned that most Latin-Americans are antagonized by our mistreatment of Mexican minorities in Texas and that Asiatic groups have disrespect for us in our treatment of Negroes and Japanese Americans.

The most scathing attacks of the President's civil rights policy come from persons who haven't bothered to read the Civil Rights Committee's report, she said; "Those attackers do not realize what shocking violations of civil liberties the committee discovered and reported."

Cooled First

When you are going to bake the creamed cauliflower in the oven it is safer to let both cauliflower and sauce cool before combining them. If the sauce is added to the hot cauliflower some of the water from the vegetable is apt to be drawn out and thin the sauce. Let the cauliflower drain in a sieve until cool, then arrange in a casserole with sauce in alternate layers.

Cleaning the Vacuum Bottle

A vacuum bottle can be cleaned of any food odors by dropping one or two crystals of potassium permanganate into it and then washing it out. Rinse several times before filling with a new liquid.

Husbands Urged to Revolt Against Bossy Wives

The American husband of today is a sad imitation of the once-dominant male.

In an article authored by Marynia F. Farnham, M.D., the March issue of Coronet presents a stirring challenge to timid, cringing, hen-pecked husbands and advises them to assert themselves and escape domination by their wives.

Researchers at Penn State, under the direction of Dr. Clifford Adams, recently asked several hundred men what they really thought about their wives. The results of that survey indicated pretty conclusively just how "masterful" husbands really are today. That their wives continually tried to "improve" them, expected too much and were chronic naggers, seemed to be highest on the list of bitter complaints of these ever-loving spouses.

"The pushing and shoving often begins right at the altar"—but if not, home authority passes from the bread-winner's hands soon after marriage. The cultural and intellectual tone of the family library, record collection, interior decor, menu, and even the friends with whom husband and wife associate, are wholly the woman's choice.

In telling how this disastrous upset and revolt against the traditional self-contained home has come about, the Coronet article points the long finger of blame to the industrial revolution.

Miss Caroline Price, general chairman for arrangements, is assisted by Mrs. Wallace Omahundro and Misses Marjorie Harter, Gladys Veronee, Greta Ferguson, Madge Burls, Marjorie Dexter, Wilma Piepgrass and Catherine Zissulis. Miss Bernice Dircks is in charge of decorations.

Most of the proceeds from the show will be used in the Guild's special projects at St. John's Children's Home.

Mrs. Wedel to Speak To K. D. Alumnae

Mrs. Theodore Wedel will be guest speaker at the meeting of the evening group of Kappa Delta Alumnae on Tuesday, March 9, at 8 p. m. in the Sigma Mu chapter rooms at George Washington University. The speaker is president of the Washington Council of Church Women and National director of the American Red Cross Home Service Corps.

ORT to Establish Regent Chapter

As part of Women's American Ort's National expansion program, the Washington chapter will receive the status of a regent chapter covering local chapters in Kalorama, Highlands, Brentwood, Montgomery and North Virginia. Mrs. Stanley Klimen will be president of the new regional area which is to serve as a coordination and information center for all member chapters.

'Angels on Horseback' Good Supper Dish

Ever serve "Angels on Horseback?" It's a heavenly dish for a supper party and easy to prepare, too. Directions follow:

12 slices bacon
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
⅛ teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons parsley

Drain oysters and lay each oyster across a half-slice of bacon. Sprinkle with seasonings and chopped parsley. Roll bacon around oyster and fasten with toothpick. Place oyster on a rack in a shallow baking pan and bake in a hot oven 450 degrees F. for about 10 minutes until bacon is crisp.

Himalayas Help Delicate Story

By Richard L. Coe

IF ONLY FOR its gorgeous settings and color, the Metropolitan's "Black Narcissus" is rewarding and well worth seeing.

I don't recall ever seeing such stunning screen photography. Technicolor has caught sunrise in India's Himalaya Mountains with haunting fidelity. The incredible softness of India's early morning sky fire used to drag this quondam soldier from his bunk betimes even in lesser mountains, and here it all is in Himalayan setting and heavenly glory.

Rumer Godden's novel, inspiration of this unusual picture, told how the Himalayan setting and climate destroyed the efforts of some Anglican nus to found a convent. The rarity of the air itself, the unceasing wind swirling around their quarters, the fantastic perspectives of distance are the spirits which destroy the nun's resolve.

Rare stuff for a movie, you say, and it is. Roughly 95 per cent of the pictures you see are concerned with doing only what has been done before; the unique usually lies in twists toward the colossal and the shatteringly big.

That the story depicts the possibility of a religious group falling into earthy emotions has caused a slight commotion in Legion of Decency circles. Some tampering with an important scene has resulted and there is a halting foreword to the effect that these are Protestant nuns and that nuns in general are above reproach.

The important point, of course, is that the nuns in this lofty convent belong to an Anglican order in which the vows are taken yearly. It is perfectly fitting and proper for some of them to discard their habits when the time comes for the annual choice-making. The picture presumes no offense at any order.

In trying to depict so unusual a story for the screen, Producers Emeric Pressburger and Michael Powell ("The Archers") have not quite succeeded. But it is a failing that comes from a higher aim than more trite stories.

An Unusual Film Story

Sister Clodagh is selected as Mother Superior for a new establishment, made possible by the gift of a princely Indian general. The mountain top buildings once were the harem of his grandfather, and one suspects his awareness that failure is likely. As the sisters settle down, making a school and clinic for the people in the valley below, we follow their gradual disintegration.

Sister Philippa—Flora Robson—plants flowers rather than vegetables in the garden. Sister Ruth, whose old life included men, is attracted by the British overseer of the village. The kindly heart of another ruins relationships in the village by misguided efforts to revive a dying child. And Sister Clodagh herself wistfully recalls the Irish lad she loved in her girlhood.

The changes in character by this deus ex machina of climate are not all clear in how they come about. One wishes the graduations were more explicity shown. In an effort to reflect the placidity of the characters, the film itself becomes too placid.

Effective Performances

But it is an extraordinary picture and in its minor details is most effective. There are splendid portrayals of lesser figures. One little boy, Eddie Whaley, jr., is perfect as the juvenile translator for the nuns, coming round faithfully every morning with his glass of chay. Jean Simmons, as a spirited daughter of Mother India, is charming and exciting. Sabu is on hand as a willful son of the general and David Farrar is fine as the brooding, disheveled Britisher. And there's a grand performance by May Hallett as an Anglo-Indian housekeeper.

Deborah Kerr's work as Sister Clodagh has won her one of the five nominations for the Academy Award in acting, to be announced a week from tonight. It is a delicate, persuasive and memorable performance.

Besides the sweeping outdoor settings, Photographer Jack Cardiff has turned his cameras on striking interior beauties. Exquisite is the only word for those blue murals and the gorgeous colorings of the costumes.

BULLETIN BOARD: "The Linden Tree," last week's National play, closes tonight in New York after a run of eight performances. . . . Br'er Rabbit and Walt Disney's "Song of the South" for the kiddies this morning at Keith's. . . . That "Presidential Year" of the "March of Time" back downtown at the Trans-Lux. . . . Children's Theater of New York plays "Penrod" this morning at 10:30, this afternoon at 2 in Lisner Auditorium. . . . Last three performances of "Ice Cycles of 1948" today and tomorrow at Uline's. . . . Tickets for the Horace Heidt broadcast on Sunday, March 14, on sale at the three Loew F st. houses. . . . Community Education, Inc., 914 20th st., presents a children's demonstration of modern dance techniques tomorrow afternoon at 4, and "Brief Encounter" that night at 8:15. . . . "That Hamilton Woman" opens this afternoon at the Hippodrome. . . . The St. Paul Players will hold tryouts for "Double Door" Monday night at 8 in St. Paul's Auditorium, 1425 V st., under direction of Marie Walcott.

"BLACK NARCISSUS." Universal-International release of an Archer production. Written, directed and produced by Michael Powell and Emeric Pressburger from the novel by Rumer Godden. Technicolor from Natalie Kalmus. Production by Alfred Junge and costumes by Hein Hockroth. Photographed by Jack Cardiff. At the Metropolitan.

With "Great Expectations," "Crossfire," "Miracle on 34th Street" and "Gentlemen's Agreement," this Goldwyn comedy has been nominated for the Academy award, to be announced a week from tonight. Washington has seen all but "Gentlemen's Agreement," in favored position for the "Oscar"

Convict, Jailed As Killer, Loses Plea for Writ

Alexandria District Court Judge Albert V. Bryan yesterday denied a writ of habeas corpus which would have reopened investigation of Washington's Garden Tea Shoppe murder of 1931.

Robert Jordan, convicted of the slaying of cashier Mrs. Elizabeth Jaynes during a holdup, petitioned the court for hearing on grounds that he is being illegally imprisoned at Lorton, Va.

Jordan charged suppression of vital evidence, perjured testimony, denial of competent counsel, tampering with the jury at his trial in 1935. The United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia upheld the conviction. Petitions for writs of habeas corpus have also been denied twice in District Court here.

Bryan said the grounds put forth in the petition were substantially those turned down before. If the grounds had merit, he said, they could have been considered only on appeal from the original trial. Jordan has 90 days to appeal to the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Hospital Aides Terrorized in $15,000 Theft

Pittsburgh, March 5 (AP).—Two gun-wielding bandits who terrorized nurses and attendants by firing four shots fled with more than $15,000 in a payroll robbery today at Allegheny General Hospital.

The robbery occurred as Paymaster Robert R. Chalmers, 65, and Elizabeth Bruck, 25, a bookkeeper, were paying employes in a basement room.

The bandits fled after firing four shots, two of them inside the imposing 22-story building. Patients were unaware of the robbery.

The bandits' auto, stolen earlier in the day, was abandoned near the hospital with $1300 and an automatic pistol.

3 Bandits Get $32,000 Payroll at Factory

St. Louis, March 5 (U.P.).—Three bandits held up the Bussmann Manufacturing Co., here today and escaped with a payroll estimated at $32,000.

Bakery Helper Found Guilty Of Murder in Hatchet Attack

Baltimore, March 5 (AP).—Howard Albert Fram, 31-year-old baker's helper from Kensington, Md., was convicted of first degree murder today after saying he hacked an elderly grocer to death because he wanted money to buy Christmas presents for his children.

Judge Herman M. Moser listened to evidence on Fram's mental state next Wednesday whether to sentence him to death or life imprisonment.

Fram was charged with the slaying of George Lehr, 77-year-old grocer who was a favorite of children and housewives.

Fram had been rooming nearby while working at a bakery. He has two children.

New Violence Breaks Out In Gold Coast

London, March 5 (AP).—Renewed violence in the African Gold Coast colony was reported today.

A Gold Coast communque reported "sporadic looting in smaller centers" last night. There was no word of new casualties. Up to 25 persons have been unofficially reported killed since Saturday.

Sir Gerald Creasy, colonial governor, proclaimed a state of emergency in the Gold Coast. He announced he would "supervise what is published in the newspapers."

Ulster-Irish Society Honors Mrs. Roosevelt

New York, March 5 (U.P.).—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt tonight was awarded the honor medal of the Ulster-Irish Society.

The medal is awarded annually to an American of Irish birth or ancestry who has given outstanding service to the Nation. Mrs. Roosevelt's great-grandfather was a native of Ulster.

which of these booklets can help YOU?

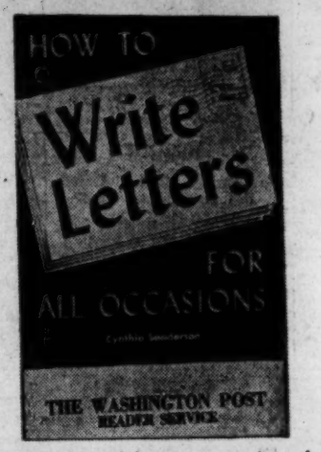
Typing can be learned at home! This booklet, by the head of Columbia University's department of secretarial studies, tells you about: mechanical parts, operating the typewriter, keyboard chart, the mechanics of writing English, centering and artistic display, and writing social, official, and business letters. You'll learn statistical typing, preparing letters for mailing, and how to type scripts for the radio and manuscripts.

No. 13—TOUCH TYPEWRITING SELF-TAUGHT—25c.

In this booklet are helpful suggestions concerning design, construction, financing, remodeling, equipment of small houses. The main purpose is to acquaint the average family with many of the basic factors that govern the security of its biggest investment. The facts presented will prove helpful to anyone contemplating the construction or remodeling of a house.

No. 15—SMALL HOMES: PLANNING, FINANCING, BUILDING—25c.

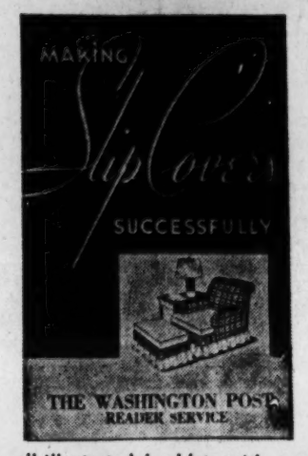


The eitquette of letters is explained in this booklet, your guide to good English in writing. Contains correct and delightful examples of social and business correspondence on letters of friendship and affection, business letters, letters of congratulation, sympathy, or invitation, thank you letters, letters of introduction and of kindness, and going away letters. There's a special section on love letters!

No. 27—HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS—25c.

This booklet gives expert advice on indoor gardening and on arranging house plants most effectively. You'll be especially interested in the suggested year's schedule for those who wish to have flowers in the house constantly, giving an outline of work to be done and flowers to be expected each month, the pages explaining terms used in gardening, and the advice on pests, potting, water growth, forcing, etc.

No. 29—SUCCESS WITH HOUSE PLANTS AND FLOWERS—25c.

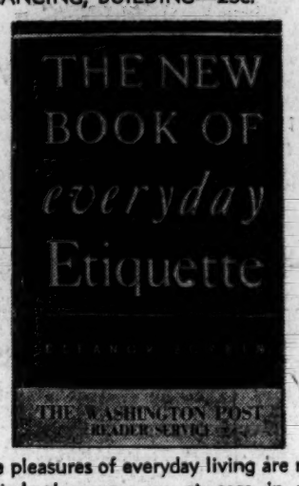


A well-illustrated booklet, with easy to follow diagrams. Here you will learn how to select the material, trimmings and seam finishes, how to measure for a slip cover, how to fit, pin and cut, and finally how to finish the job for various kinds of chairs: Cogswell, wing chairs, Lawson, and boudoir chair. Also slip covers for sofas, decorative chair pads and upholstered covers.

No. 35—MAKING SLIP COVERS SUCCESSFULLY—25c.

Why be a wallflower? This dance booklet contains photographs and step-diagrams showing what to do and how to do it: the dance-walk, your position with your partner, and the phases of the various steps: the fox-trot, the waltz, the tango, the rumba, the samba and other popular dances. Also do's and don'ts of dancing. Here's a short-cut to fun and popularity

No. 37—HOW TO DO THE LATEST DANCE STEPS—25c.



The pleasures of everyday living are multiplied when you are at ease in your personal relationships, observe the little courtesies and are confident of your up-to-dateness in social matters. Kindliness is the chief guide, but at times everyone likes a little social advice. This booklet answers the questions of etiquette that may arise in day-to-day situations.

No. 45—NEW BOOK OF EVERYDAY ETIQUETTE—25c.

Overweight can make you unhappy, add ten years to your figure, make your smartest clothes dowdy. And wrong reducing methods — freak diets — can muddy your skin, dim your hair, spoil your teeth, damage your health. The safe way to reduce, by balanced menus, is given in this booklet. Reduce wisely. Look better. Feel younger and stronger.

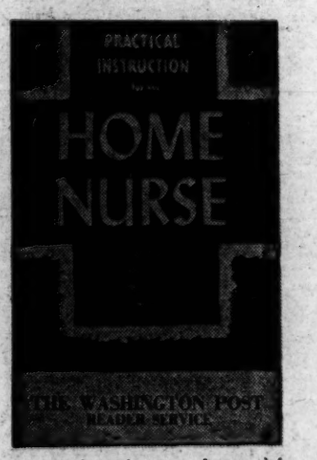
No. 46—CHANGE YOUR WEIGHT FOR BEAUTY'S SAKE—25c.

Ever wish you knew a parlor trick? Here's a way of providing amusing entertainment—learn how to tell fortunes. This booklet gives famous ways of telling fortunes with cards. Crystal gazing—teacup fortune telling—dominoes—dice—each has its technique and each is described here. And, of course, there are pages on the message of the stars for amateur astrologers.

No. 65—LET ME TELL YOUR FORTUNE—25c.

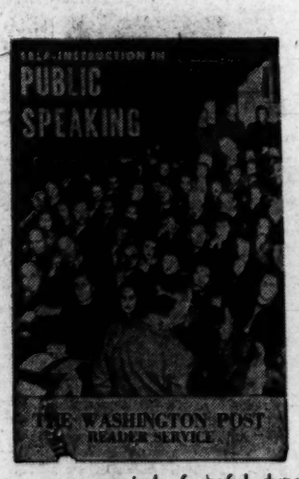
Here's a particularly useful booklet for dog lovers. Part one tells of the various breeds, how to choose a dog, what to feed it, and how to give it house manners. There is information on care and grooming, what to do when your dog is sick, and about distemper and its treatment. Part two tells how you can train your dog to come, sit, lie down, speak, hush, shake hands, roll over, fetch, or jump at your command.

No. 78—HOW TO RAISE AND TRAIN YOUR DOG—25c.



Tommy catches the measles and has to be cared for and kept away from the other children; a new baby arrives; or some other situation arises that requires home nursing. If you have some practical knowledge of how to go about your unaccustomed task, the difficulties will disappear. Sure of what you are doing, you can be calm and effective.

No. 81—PRACTICAL INSTRUCTION FOR THE HOME NURSE—25c.



Have you ever envied a forceful, dynamic speaker? Here's a booklet that will teach you how to speak well in public. It begins with the first practical steps toward effective public speaking, then goes on with sections on rules of parliamentary law, speech situations and types, the radio speech, and self-criticism.

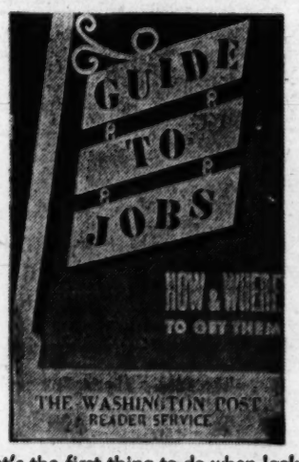
No. 83—SELF-INSTRUCTION IN PUBLIC SPEAKING—25c.

Let's look at exercise in a practical businesslike way. Machines must be used to be kept in good-working order and the human machine is no exception. Come out of your easy chair and start using your body. Once you get those muscles to work, your circulation humming, energy bubbling in every part of your body—you'll find that exercise is fun!

No. 90—BEAUTY AND HEALTH THROUGH SIMPLE EXERCISES—25c.

Charming new versions of such old favorites as hooked, braided and crocheted rugs. Oriental style, Navajo, and other woven rugs in striking color schemes and unusual designs. Appliqued, embroidered, and novelty rugs that will add a smart touch to any room. Diagrams and the step-by-step directions make it easy to make rugs that are both lovely and useful.

No. 94—NEW IDEAS FOR HANDMADE RUGS—25c.



What's the first thing to do when looking for a job? Inventory yourself, says this booklet, and shows just how to do it, also how to go after the job, how to choose your field and how to evaluate an occupation. Then comes sections on jobs in transportation, communications, government, heavy manufacturing, light manufacturing, food trades, service trades, white collar jobs, professional fields, and the glamour trades.

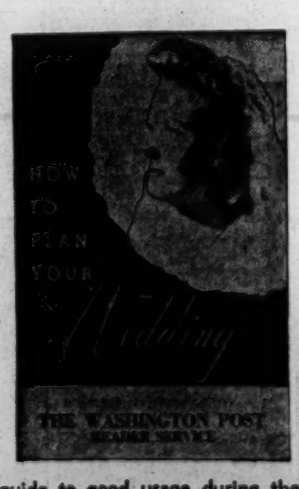
No. 201—GUIDE TO JOBS: HOW AND WHERE TO GET THEM—25c.

It's up to all citizens of a free republic to interest themselves in the workings of the Government. Here is a wealth of interesting and pertinent information about Congress, the Executive Branch, Supreme Court and other divisions of the Government—clearly indexed for your easy reference. 236 questions and answers about our Government—what it is and how it functions.

No. 202—KNOW YOUR GOVERNMENT—25c.

This helpful booklet includes: suggested schedule for baby's day, a two-page index that makes it easy and quick to look things up, chapters on planning baby's room, comfortable clothing, feeding the baby (at breast and otherwise), bath, play and exercise, sunshine and air, toilet routine, and sleep habits. There's information on how the baby develops, and excellent advice on accidents, health and sickness.

No. 203—BABY CARE—25c.



A guide to good usage during the engagement and the wedding. This booklet takes you step by step—the engagement, planning the wedding, invitations and announcements, wedding presents, attendants' duties, wedding dress, formal church, semiformal and informal weddings. Also chapters on "high dreams and a limited budget," problems arising when the bride's parents are divorced, the second marriage, and one on what to serve at the reception.

No. 204—HOW TO PLAN YOUR WEDDING—25c.

Linda Should Grow Up to Be a Fine Businesswoman

Mrs. C. Stark of 117 E. Glebe rd., Alexandria, Va., has a small daughter named Linda.

During school recess, Linda gets an 8-cent bottle of milk. The other morning Mrs. Stark didn't have 8 cents in change, so she gave Linda a dime.

But when Linda got to school, the dime had disappeared, so the teacher paid for the little girl's milk and all was well until Linda remembered something.

Marching up to the teacher's desk she announced with simple finality:

"You forgot to give me my change."

THE WALKING MAN IS . . .

Everybody has his own idea as to the identity of the Walking Man.

Confidentially, of course, I've been told he's Jim Farley, John L. Lewis, Babe Ruth, Kay Kyser, Happy Chandler, Leo Durocher, Red Barber, Grantland Rice, Red Grange, and all four of the Marx brothers.

F. J. Kraus of 1126 16th st. nw. says the Walking Man is Lionel Barrymore, and Joe Thomas of 4402 New Hampshire ave. nw. counters with Mickey Walker, the old prize-fighter.

But Mrs. Edward M. Kirby of 2500 Q st. nw. puts the finishing touches to the discussion with:

Bing, bong, bell;
It's 10 to 1
That when I'm done

MISCELLANY

Mrs. Mary Piver of 4916 7th st. nw. says: "Let's not forget the Easter Seal drive now being conducted by the District Society for Crippled Children. Containers are in many of our local stores, and you can order Easter Seals by calling the society at Hobart 8724" . . . J. Milton Stanford of Brentwood, Md., wonders if anybody would care to comment on the flock of about 100 gulls which visited the Mall the other morning. (District Liner Stanford's pronunciation is excellent. He means gulls and not girls) . . . And while we're concerned with ornithological notes, three gull-ible natives report that the "first" robin has returned. Our dispatches come from Marian Hall, Edgewater, Md.; Bette Gross, 3828 Livingston st. nw., and Mrs. S. J. Kryder, 100 E. Hamilton ave., Silver Spring, Md. . . . Bob Clark of 1725 E st. ne. wants to know how that hacker's speedometer can show 560,000 miles when speedometers don't register beyond 99,999. Hmmmm. Maybe the guy is counting the red digit in the right-hand column.

ADD SIGNS

Mrs. Newton C. Wing of 4528 Fairfield drive, Bethesda, Md., wins the Pooch Bar I offered recently, for sending in this perfectly nonsensical sign which she saw outside a New Jersey tourist camp:

"Rooms, $2 and up; Saws Filed at All Hours."

GIVE-AWAYS

"Clean, affectionate, well-trained cat who is expecting kittens." (Ludlow 2643 between 6 and 9 p. m.).

"Very nice black and white cat, about half grown." (Metropolitan 4490).

MAIL BAG

Dear Bill:

My wife inadvertently put my white shorts in the colored wash, which included my son's red flannel shirt.

The shorts came out a lovely but effeminate shade of pink. I'm ashamed to wear them.

What shall I do?

Jackson.

Dear Jackson:

Your problem is a little out of my line. You'd better "Ask Anne." See our women's department.

Bill.

PIED TYPE DEPT.

Edwin B. King of Stuyvesant Farm, Warrenton, Va., and Mrs. L. B. Golden of 9104 Rhode Island ave., Branchville, Md., finish in a tie in the race to call attention to this one from our own Washington Post:

"The police vehicle was demolished when it struck a bride on State Route 21."

The perfect comment on that one is to supply the missing letter.

Gee!

PERSONAL NOTES

Jeanne Miles, 2844 Wisconsin ave. nw.: Thanks for the "Lucky Gismo." Are you sure he's guaranteed to be lucky? If my mail begins to fall off there's going to be a splash in the Potomac one of these dark nights.

Pat Hitchcock, daughter of Alfred Hitchcock, is studying drama at the Royal Academy in London. In describing the fog-bound city she said: "I keep wanting to take off my dark glasses—and I find that I haven't got them on." . . . Miss Hitchcock, who once played the cockney maid in Noel Coward's "Fumed Oak" at La Jolla, wrote her parents: "Living in London makes me feel as if I'm in 'Fumed Oak' forever." . . . "Bingo?" she continued . . . "No. No Bank Night, no bingo," said the man . . . "Giving away dishes?" asked the lady . . . "No. No dishes. Just a picture," said the man . . . "$1.20 for one picture," said the lady. "What's the picture?" . . . "Dr. Wassell," said the box-office man . . . "Dr. Wassell?" the lady said. "A specialist?"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Hughes' Charge Is Recalled

By Drew Pearson

Editor's note: Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of a memo to Senator Ferguson of Michigan, chief Senator investigator.)

Memo to Senator Ferguson of Michigan:

You will recall that last summer serious charges were made against your Republican colleague, Senator Owen Brewster of Maine, by the West Coast airplane builder, Howard Hughes. Senator Brewster was accused of being a lobbyist for Pan American Airways and of using his high office for the commercial advantage of one airplane company.

Brewster

Although these charges were publicly made and although Senator Brewster—at that time—said he welcomed an investigation, nothing has happened since. I understand that Senator Brewster since has informed the Justice Department that he did not wish to be investigated. However, in view of your own record for conducting impartial probes, and in view of the fact that you are courageously going after your Democratic colleague, Senator Thomas of Oklahoma, I feel sure that you will also wish to explore thoroughly the serious charges against a Republican.

Accordingly, I tender herewith certain evidence and the names of witnesses which I believe important in the case.

Interview Brewster's Housekeeper

I suggest that you interview Mrs. Ellen Jenny Brown, RFD 4, Dexter, Me. (telephone St. Albans 4 ring 13), who has served as Brewster's housekeeper for the past three summers. Mrs. Brown is a lady with a New England conscience who believes that Senators should live up to their oath of office. I am sure she will tell your committee the truth.

She will tell, among other things, how Brewster used to fly up to Dexter, Me., almost every weekend in a private airplane belonging to Pan American Airways. The Brewster summer house in Maine was kept open from May 1 to November each year. And when Mrs. Brown first went to work for the Brewsters the Senator spent almost every weekend at home.

He would be picked up by a private Pan American plane in Washington, and Mrs. Brown is in a position to testify regarding this because she used to answer the telephone when Sam Pryor, vice president of Pan American Airways, would call to say when the Senator would arrive. The calls usually came from Washington or Greenwich, Conn., the latter being Pryor's home.

The private plane never brought anyone except Brewster. It would circle the Brewster home before landing, which was the signal for Mrs. Brown to start preparing dinner. Once Pryor himself flew in with the Senator and stayed all night. Next day they flew to Moosehead Lake for five days' fishing.

When Charles Brewster, the Senator's son, returned from overseas in 1945, Brewster brought him to Dexter in a private Pan American plane.

When the Brewster-Hughes hearings were held in Washington last summer, the Brewster household was thrown into an uproar. Brewster immediately stopped flying Pan American planes, taking a train from Boston instead or else flying by Northeast Airlines to Bangor. Mrs. Brown was cautioned not to mention to a soul the Senator's past association with Pan American Airways.

Accepting Favors Unethical

As you know, Senator Ferguson, Congress some time ago passed a law making it illegal for railroads to give free passes to members of Congress. This was because so many favors were passed out to Congressmen by the railroads in the old days that it got to be a scandal. The Civil Aeronautics Board also has stringent rules against free trips on commercial airlines.

Therefore, it would seem to any average citizen highly unethical for a United States Senator to be constantly accepting free airplane trips from one airline, especially when, at the very same time, he was trying to push a law through Congress benefitting that airline.

May I also point out that Sam Pryor of Pan American Airways has not been registered as a lobbyist and that his activities in connection with Senator Brewster would appear to be in violation of the lobbying law?
